'Final' Lend-Lease Settlement Barred.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—The house foreign affairs committee voted unanimously today to prohibit the President from making post-war economic or military commitments to other nations in final lend-lease settlements without specific approval by congress.

The restriction was written into a bill, to extend the lend-lease act one year to June 30, 1945, which the committee reported to the house without a dissenting vote. Chairman Bloom [D., N. Y.] predicted the measure will be considered by the house early next month.

Fear Misuse of Authority.

The curb on the President's powers was contained in an amendment offered by Rep. Wadsworth [R., N. Y.], after committee members had expressed fears that the President's authority to make final lend-lease settlements might be used to entangle this country in international economic agreements or military commitments without congressional sanction.

The lend-lease act as now worded, members explained, apparently gives the President sole authority to decide the terms whereby lend-lease transactions with other countries will be settled after the war.

Some committee members expressed fear the President might use this authority to make international trade agreements or military deals such as the "destroyers for bases" swap in the final windup of lend-lease after the war.

Ordered to Follow the Law.

Such commitments would be outlawed under the Wadsworth amendment, which states that the President cannot in any final lend-lease settlement "assume or incur any obligations on the part of the United States with respect to post-war economic or post-war military policy except in accordance with established constitutional procedures."

Wadsworth said in a statement the amendment "assures a proper and workable relationship between congress and the executive in the formulation and administration of our post-war economic and military policy."

"If any obligation on the part of the United States is incurred with respect to such policies in the final lend-lease settlements," he continued, "it can be done only in accordance with our established constitutional procedure and with the appropriate action by congress."

Before approving the Wadsworth proposal the committee rejected an amendment by Rep. Schiffler [R., W. Va.] which would require congressional approval of all lend-lease settlements, including acceptance of goods or cash. Schiffler said he will renew the proposal on the house floor. The approved bill extends the deadline for settlement to June 30, 1948, one year beyond the present date.

WPB ASKING 100 CHICAGO WIVES WHAT'S NEEDED

A hundred or more Chicago housewives are having a chance this week to tell the government whether they are able to buy enough diapers, yard goods, bobby pins, towels, brooms, and other household items, according to Paul A. Jenkins, manager of the Chicago office of the war production board.

Jenkins said yesterday Cook county is one of 68 areas in the country in which 5,000 families are being interviewed by bureau of census employes in an effort to find out whether sufficient quantities of home necessities are available in stores.

Troops Spring Out of Jungle, Surprise Allies

NEW DELHI, India, March 23 (AP).—A new Japanese army, dramatically appearing out of the jungles, has driven 60 miles into India, it was announced today, in the second invasion disclosed within 48 hours.

The new force, hitherto unheralded, has pushed northward from Burma up the Manipur river valley to within 30 miles of the key city of Imphal, it was disclosed.

An earlier Japanese invasion force was about 30 miles from Imphal on the east yesterday after crossing the upper Chindwin river near Thaungdut.

On West Shores of Lake.

The new Japanese force that materialized with such startling suddenness in the shifting Burma-India border fighting was located by an allied headquarters report as standing on the west shore of Lake Logtak, 30 miles due south of Imphal.

Headquarters said the column had moved north up the narrow river valley from the Tiddim region, 100 miles south and 40 miles inside the Burma border. All previous reports had this Japanese grouping safely confined within Burma.

Still Minimize Threat.

Allied reports were vague concerning the progress of the Japanese forces which were well into India after crossing the upper Chindwin river east of Imphal.

Heavy fighting was reported in progress as the Chinese 22d division fought its way south against strong Japanese resistance in the upper Mogaung valley.

TREND IN STATES AGAINST USE OF FEDERAL BALLOT

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—The sentiment of the states toward the pending service men's vote bill, as expressed by the governors, swung against the federal ballot today when the White House heard from the last of the 48 governors polled.

Gov. Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina informed Mr. Roosevelt that his state does not recognize the bobbed federal ballot provided in the bill and that nothing will be done to authorize its use by July 15.

The final score in the President's canvass stood as follows: 20 states have not and probably will not approve the federal ballot; 19 states now authorize such a voting system or expect to do so; 9 states are noncommittal.

The President has until the last day of the month to veto the bill, sign it, or let it become a law without his signature.

DISCLOSE RESIGNED TREASURY AID WROTE TAX VETO MESSAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Randolph Paul, whose resignation as general counsel of the treasury was announced yesterday, was disclosed today as the author of President Roosevelt's tax bill veto message, which brought about the break with Senate Majority Leader Barkley a month ago and jolted the President's fourth term ambitions.

Mr. Roosevelt's veto message, which charged that the tax bill did not provide relief "for the needy but for the greedy," was denounced by Barkley as "a calculated and deliberate assault upon the legislative integrity of every member of congress." Subsequently, the veto was overridden in both houses by overwhelming majorities.

In advising the President to veto the bill, Paul, it is reliably reported, went over the head of Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, who, it is understood, had urged the President not to veto it.

Altho Morgenthau said publicly afterward that no changes were planned in treasury personnel, signs of a rift between him and Paul were noted. For example, the secretary forbade any speeches by treasury officials on tax matters, with the result that Paul, a frequent speaker, had to cancel at least one engagement.

32 JAP VESSELS SUNK BY BOMBS OFF NEW GUINEA

ALLIED HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, March 24—[Friday]—(AP).—Fifth United States air force bombers, intent on making the Japanese in northern New Guinea helpless on land and sea, pressed their attacks Wednesday on gun positions, shipping, grounded planes, and buildings in the Wewak base area.

The assaults were centered on Muschu and other islands off Wewak, where enemy shipping was found. Besides destroying two freighters of 1,000 and 1,500 tons, the airmen sank seven smaller vessels and 23 barges, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said.

Drop 200 Tons of Bombs.

A fleet of Liberator heavy and Mitchell medium bombers, Boston attack planes, and every type of fighter plane swept the coast from Aitape, 90 miles eastward to Wewak, with 200 tons of bombs.

Eight heavy gun positions and several parked planes were destroyed and numerous buildings demolished.

The enemy put up no aerial interception against the assaults, but anti-aircraft fire was met and one of the allied planes was missing.

Meanwhile, the crack Australian 7th division to the southeast was pushing on in an almost forgotten offensive aimed at Madang after its patrols reached the coast for a juncture with American troops. Madang, big Japanese supply base, was only 20 air line miles away.

Plodded Up Valley.

Six months ago, following the capture of Lae and Salamaua, the Australians struck northward up the Markham river valley in the direction of Madang. By the first week of October they had crossed the divide to the headwaters of the Ramu river.

Almost impenetrable terrain slowed progress from that point. Thick undergrowth was intensified by the steep foothill spurs of the craggy and towering Finisterre mountains. Against the enemy's mountain guns the Aussies used 25 pounders, which had been dismantled and parachuted from planes of the United States troop carrier command.

Just before the close of 1943 the Australians captured a precipitous and unidentified ridge north of Dumpu which had been stalling their advance. From there they moved toward the coast, into the upper Mintjim valley, and a week ago were near Daumoina, about 35 air line miles south of Madang. Patrols thrown out in that area followed the Kabenau river to the coast of Astrolabe bay, seven miles southeast of Bogadjim.

Yanks Move Up Coast.

Americans who had landed Jan. 2 at Saidor, on the coast south of the Madang area, pressed northward meanwhile. Units of this force made contact with the Australian patrols just below Bogadjim, which is connected by a modern highway with Madang.

Gen. MacArthur today announced that across the Bismarck sea to the northeast American forces in the St. Matthias Islands had strengthened their positions. There had been no Japanese counter-action to Monday's surprise landing by American marine veterans of Makin, Guadalcanal, and the Solomons.

Bungling Built 'Smothering' Debt: O'Daniel

Muskogee, Okla., March 23 (AP).—Sen. O'Daniel [D., Tex.], in a speech attacking New Dealers "from the President on down," declared tonight the taxpayers were being smothered under a public debt that would reach $10,000 a family before the war ends.

He attributed this staggering burden to mismanagement of domestic and foreign affairs by "the dynasty in Washington," and appealed for a return to "sane constitutional government thru election of men of ability—not political parasites."

O'Daniel spoke at a rally of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats backing Republican E. O. Clark against Democrat William G. Stigler in next Tuesday's 2d district congressional election.

Calls for Housecleaning.

"What America needs most today," O'Daniel asserted, "is a thoro housecleaning in Washington. I am not seriously concerned whether the next President of the United States is a Democrat or a Republican. I am not seriously concerned whether Republicans or Democrats control the next house or senate.

"But I am vitally concerned as to whether the next President and members of the next congress will be men who believe in the Constitution."

O'Daniel described the Roosevelt administration as "a well organized gang of professional politicians."

"It is high time," he said, "that the people select men for congress on the basis of their character and ability and not according to the badges of political affiliation they claim to wear.

"Ruining Democracy."

"It is time that the people make sure that whoever is selected does not even have a speaking acquaintance with the New Deal gang that has been running and ruining our great democracy for the last 11 years."

O'Daniel declared the treasury and the credit of the United States has been used "long before we entered the war to build up a ruling dynasty in Washington, with the result that when the war began we had already piled up a public debt of 60 billion dollars.

"Today this nation is absolutely smothered under a load of boards and bureaus. Every activity of mankind is regulated by some burocrat in Washington or their flunkeys.

"You cannot fire these burocrats. You cannot fire these 3 million government flunkeys. The only people you can fire are the members of congress and the President."

3 GUNMEN FLEE WHEN ALDERMAN THROWS CHAIR

Three holdup men last night got $1,326 at the Peoples' Federal Savings and Loan association, 1700 W. 21st st., but fled without getting a large sum of currency in an open safe when Ald. Joseph F. Ropa [21st] threw a chair thru a window.

Ropa was working in a back office when two men with revolvers stepped into the main office. One stopped at the door and ordered the 15 customers to keep quiet. The second vaulted the railing and ordered Stanley Ropa, president of the association, to hand him the cash box. A third remained outside.

When Ald. Ropa realized a robbery was taking place he threw the chair thru a side window. The crash unnerved the gunmen and they ran to their car without looting the safe.

4 G. I.'s in Hostess House Find It's Brass Hat Inn!

Louisville, Ky., March 23 (AP).—Two WAC privates and their male escorts of equal rank dropped into the hostess house at Bowman field here and sat down. "I beg your pardon," asked a man in his shirt sleeves, "but aren't you in the wrong house?" "Not at all, buddy," they responded, "but if they catch you here without your coat on they'll sure give you hell." "Well, you've made a mistake," insisted the man without a coat. "This is not the hostess house any more. It's Brass Hat inn. I'm Col. Tracy Dorsett, base commander, and this is my home now."

Navy Fighters Live Near God, Chaplain Says

Capt. J. V. Claypool.

Capt. James V. Claypool, a navy chaplain who prefers the affectionate shipboard term of Padre, sat in his room in the La Salle hotel last night after 16 months on the battleship South Dakota—the "Battleship X" which won glory at Guadalcanal and Santa Cruz—and talked of how millions of boys at sea are living close to God.

"The churches will have an extraordinary opportunity when these boys come back," he declared. "They are closer to God now than they have ever been. A man is changed when he is at sea in war.

Stress Compels Change.

"You can't live on a warship for weeks or months, sometimes going to battle stations four or five times a day, never knowing whether it will be the last time, and all the while keep sane and do your job, without being changed.

"Almost all men at sea are deeply religious. I shall always remember Capt. Gatch, now an admiral, coming down from his cabin with his worn family Bible under his arm to attend services every Sunday with the men. I have found men kneeling alone in dark passages at night while others slept. I have heard them reading aloud from the New Testament in life jackets and helmets at battle stations.

"I have heard a mortally wounded Negro whisper to God as I carried him into a surgery room, his warm blood wetting my side.

"The faith the men have at sea is real and they will bring it back with them."

Former Football Player.

Capt. Claypool is a sailor's ideal Padre, 6 feet tall and a solid 185 pounds. He played football at DePauw university, at Greencastle, Ind., and later was pastor of the Methodist church at Seeleyville, just south of Terre Haute, Ind., before becoming Methodist district superintendent in Providence, R. I.

On March 1, he and a Catholic priest became the first chaplains in the navy reserve to be promoted to the rank of captain.

"There is a need for more chaplains of all faiths on sea duty," he said. "You listen to the men's tales of tangled religious thoughts, and tangled marriage troubles; you help them write letters and arrange their entertainment. After mail call a chaplain listens to the men who got letters telling them of illness in he family or demanding that they get leaves."

Worker at 'Y' Confesses He Drowned Boy

Elkhart, Ind., March 23 [Special].—After three days of denial, Cleo Fred Davis, 35, custodian of the Y. M. C. A. building, today confessed what he had believed was a "perfect crime."

He signed a statement admitting he drowned Harlan Elliott, 16, in the "Y" pool last Sunday by holding him under water with his foot. He knew his victim couldn't swim.

The nude body of Harlan, son of the Rev. Wilson B. Elliott, pastor of the Free Methodist church, was found in the pool by two other men who responded to Davis' belated cries. The custodian, who also was unclothed, pretended at the time that he had arrived only moments before, after hearing a splash in the pool, where swimming was prohibited on Sunday.

Two Lie Tests.

But he finally broke down after two lie detector tests made in South Bend showed he was not telling the truth. From time to time thruout the day he added details to his confession and finally had told what authorities believed was the complete story.

At the request of Prosecutor D. R. Bontrager, who said he would ask for a second degree murder charge against Davis, Superior Judge William E. Wider said he would call the grand jury into session Monday morning. Yesterday Judge Wider sentenced Davis to a prison term of 2 to 14 years on his plea of guilty to a charge of committing unnatural acts with another youth.

Police quoted Davis as giving the following account, after five supplemental statements had been added to his original signed confession:

"I was in the basement workroom of the "Y" repairing a cabinet when Harley came in about 1.30 p. m. Sunday. We talked for some time and about 3:30 Harley went up to the swimming pool. He came back and said the water was warm and suggested we go into the pool. We took off our clothes and went in."

He Hears a Noise.

Davis said he and the boy then committed an unnatural act, as they previously had done. He also asserted he previously had perverted relations with others at the Elkhart Y. M. C. A. and "at the Y. M. C. A. hotel in Chicago."

"We were standing beside each other," Davis' story continued," when I heard a noise as if some one were approaching. I was afraid some one might find us there and that I would be trapped.

"I gave Harley a push away from me and he went back into the deep water. Then I was afraid he would yell—he had started to. I guess I was panicky. I raised my foot and pushed him back farther into the deep water. He was underneath and my foot was on him.

"I guess I held my foot there for two or three seconds; then I took it off. I climbed out without looking back."

Hears Splashes and Gurgles.

Davis admitted, according to his confession, that he heard splashes and gurgles behind him as he hurried away but, in his fright, he gave no backward glance to see what was happening to his friend. Unclothed, he ran down to his workroom and listened, then returned to the locker room adjacent to the pool and listened.

Hearing no one and ascertaining that his fears of discovery apparently were unfounded, he went back to the pool. He estimated he had been gone three or four minutes.

"I saw a shiny object in the water," his confession went on, "and I realized it was Harley. I was frantic. I hadn't heard him call for

VISITED ACTOR 'VERY OFTEN,' JOAN TESTIFIES

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—In a low, quivering voice that at times was inaudible Joan Berry today told of her intimacies with Charlie Chaplin before a jury of seven women and five men and a courtroom so jammed that spectators stood three rows deep at the back.

Not once, as she told the story of 18 months' relationship climaxed when she broke thru his bedroom door armed with a gun, did she look toward the silver haired actor, 30 years her senior, against whom she testified as star witness in the government's case against Chaplin for alleged violations of the Mann act. He gazed steadily at her, some times thru black rimmed spectacles, but her eyes, often flooded with tears, never wavered in his direction.

Called a 'Simple' Story.

United States Atty. Charles H. Carr, in opening the case, had told the jury, "It's a simple story," but as the story poured from Miss Berry's full, red lips, first under Carr's questioning and later under stringent cross-examination by Defense Atty. Jerry Giesler, it did not seem so. It seemed as complex as human nature.

It was the story of how, wishing to be leading lady in a picture Chaplin never made, she became his mistress in June, 1941; of how, restive under his many seeming delays in taking the first step toward filming or casting the picture, she broke the contract under which she was bound to him; of reconciliation and numerous quarrels; of a trip he financed for her to New York when he made his "second front" speech at Carnegie hall in October, 1942, and of intimacies there; and of a night late in December, 1942, when she crouched outside his bedroom window as he mouthed affectionate words to some one who, she learned as she burst in with a gun, was at the other end of a telephone line. This emotional outburst, she testified, was climaxed by more intimacy and a night spent at the actor's home.

Dressed Like School Girl.

Miss Berry went on the stand at 2 p. m. and was still on it, with Giesler just getting into the heart of his cross-examination, when court adjourned at 4:30. She was dressed more like a school girl than a mother, in a powder blue Chesterfield with a navy velvet collar, over which her auburn hair fell in long, soft curls, and navy gloves which she constantly took off and put back on.

A murmur of pleased comment rumbled thru the courtroom as she took the stand, for she is quite beautiful, with large brown eyes, high cheekbones, a soft cleft chin, a full, expressive mouth, and a complexion that looks like it was poured on but is not. Her voice, possibly due to Chaplin's grooming for the role of Bridget, the shy country girl in his unmade picture, "Shadow and Substance," is modulated often to the point of extinction. She seemed highly nervous, but manifest it by a minimum of gestures—fewer, in fact, than Mr. Chaplin used in listening to her. If his schooling was responsible for her performance, she did him credit.

Met Him in May, 1941.

"Joan Berry—Mary Louise, I mean."

"First, have you ever met the defendant, Chaplin?"

"I have," came her easy reply.

"When did you first meet him?"

"In May, 1941, the latter part of May."

"By whom were you introduced?"

"Mr. Durant."

"Full name, please . . ."

"Thomas Wells Durant."

"Who was present?"

"Mr. Chaplin, Mr. Durant, and another young lady. I don't remember her name."

"Did you see him after that?"

"I did."

"Well, within a few days, the next day or the day after?"

"Miss Berry," Federal Judge

FOUR NAZI STABS FOILED AS ALLIES HOLD AT CASSINO

Battle in Citadel Rages Thru Its 8th Day.

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, March 23 (AP).—The latest phase of the bitter struggle for Cassino, Nazi stronghold defending the road to Rome, raged thru its eighth day today with New Zealand troops still fighting at the town's southern edge and other allied forces clinging to several hard won heights west of the town.

No important change of position had been reported since Tuesday, when German parachute troops recaptured the wreckage of the Continental hotel. Desperate fighting swirled about the hotel ruins and several near-by buildings.

The enemy failed in two strong counter-attacks against Castle hill, an intermediate peak a few hundred yards from Cassino's western edge, yesterday. French artillery repulsed two other Nazi stabs near Monte Castellone, three miles northwest of Cassino.

Nazis Keep Up Heavy Fire.

German artillery and mortars emplaced in the hills maintained a heavy fire on allied positions and tried to destroy bridges that 5th army engineers had thrown across the Rapido river east of town.

Despite all allied efforts for two months to break thru into the Liri valley—and these have included five fierce ground attacks and the greatest tactical air assault in history—the Germans still hold the Cassino gateway firmly.

American heavy bombers blasted rail yards at three key points in northeastern Italy yesterday—Verona, Bologna, and Rimini—thru which the German armies are being supplied. Last night R. A. F. planes smashed rail yards at Padua with 4,000 pound block busters.

The Rome radio said Florence was bombed today.

German planes attacked allied shipping off the Anzio beachhead yesterday, but it was announced they caused no damage. Enemy artillery pumped hundreds of shells into the beachhead.

GERMAN WAR REPORT.

Of Italy, yesterday's broadcast German war bulletin said:

"At Cassino several enemy attacks with tank support against the northern part of the town broke down in massed German defensive fire.

5 GERMAN RAIL AND AIR CENTERS RAIDED BY YANKS

LONDON, March 23 (AP).—Strong forces of American bombers, following up a record 3,360 ton bombing of Frankfurt by the R. A. F. last night, made daylight attacks against five other German targets today. Their powerful fighter escort shot down at least 20 enemy planes.

Twenty-seven American bombers and six fighters were lost as the United States 8th air force struck with probably over 1,500 planes.

United States strategic air force headquarters announced the strong formations of Liberators and Fortresses hit:

Meanwhile, American Marauder medium bombers and R. A. F. raiders attacked the French rail hub of Creil and two Nazi air fields.

REPORT HITLER TIGHTENS GRIP ON RUMANIANS

LONDON, March 23 (AP).—With Hungary under his thumb, Adolf Hitler today launched a campaign of bullying the other southeastern European nations into a stand-or-perish position with Germany against the on-rushing Red army.

A strongly supported Ankara, Turkey, report said German troops began the formal occupation of Rumania early today. The Germans have taken control of every Rumanian and Bulgarian city on the Black sea, it was asserted.

[A London broadcast said a dispatch from Switzerland reported that Prince Cyril of Bulgaria and Regent Bogdan Philov "have been ordered to the headquarters of Hitler next Monday."]

Hint Rumania "Kidnaping."

It was elsewhere indicated that Hitler was preparing to "kidnap" Rumania to shore up his tottering Balkan edifice. There were widespread rumors that Premier Ion Antonescu had been summoned to Hitler's presence as Adm. Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, had gone before him.

That Rumanian troops still are fighting alongside the Germans was signified in the Russian announcement that more than 1,000 Rumanian and German officers and men were captured in Bessarabia. In that same area a large convoy of property "stolen by the Germans from the population" was recovered, the Russian bulletin added.

Deny Horthy Is Prisoner.

A German foreign office spokesman, according to a Berlin broadcast, "emphatically denied" that Horthy was being held prisoner, that Prime Minister Kallay had escaped to southern Hungary and had sent out an appeal for help from abroad, and that Jugo-Slav Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz had established contact with Hungarian forces.

[The Berne radio said Adm. Horthy was back in Budapest for the installation of the new pro-Nazi cabinet. The broadcast also said it was reported that Hungarian Prime Minister Nicholas von Kallay had "managed to escape to the south of the country."]

Swiss dispatches said the Hungarian legation to Switzerland and the Hungarian minister to Finland had broken with the new Budapest government.

LINGERING HOPE OF FINN TRUCE STOPS U. S. BREAK

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—A lingering hope that Finland will get out of the war forestalled tonight a complete break between the United States and that northern fighting partner of Germany.

Secretary of State Hull told a news conference the American government still hopes Finland may finally work away from Germany, adding that, so far as he knew, Russian-Finnish armistice negotiations have not been terminated. A diplomatic break between this government and Finland is regarded as inevitable if the peace negotiations collapse completely.

Another cruiser was torpedoed and one small and one large supply ship were damaged, the announcement said.

[Jane's Fighting Ships lists Japanese Kuma class cruisers as displacing 5,100 tons and carrying 439 officers and men.]

TRIBUNE WRITER SEES TERROR OF VESUVIUS LAVA

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED FIELD HDQ. IN ITALY, March 23.—The sight of Mount Vesuvius erupting is almost indescribable even for one fresh from a war front.

Today, from across the Bay of Naples, we have been watching a mighty cloud of smoke, lava, and dust rearing almost three miles toward the sky. Overlooking the turbulent mountain top there is a tremendous, billowy smoke cloud totally obscuring its peak. The dull thunder of new eruptions echoes in the distance.

It has been learned here that the wind has carried the volcanic dust and lava particles as far as Bari, 210 miles, obscuring the sun.

Settlements Engulfed.

Neapolitans seem to take a proprietary pride in this neighbor of theirs and many stand in clusters on the sides of Naples' hills watching, especially at night, when the red glow of the molten lava outlines Vesuvius in an unforgettable profile.

Moving at the rate of 300 yards an hour, the streams are fanning out on a mile wide front engulfing vineyards, farm houses, and whole settlements. I saw this mighty tidal wave engulf the town of San Sebastiano.

We drove thru the beautiful little village of Cercola, a typical Italian village of about 6,000 population. Going on a few miles we came to the lower edges of San Sebastiano, where we met a Britisher mounted on a motorcycle. He waved our car to the roadside, breathlessly shouting:

"You can't go any farther, you know. We are evacuating this town. For God's sake let the trucks down."

Halted by U. S. Police.

A few yards farther on American military police ordered us to park. From there we had to walk. It wasn't far.

Walking along the town's main street, we smelled sulphur. Then, suddenly, the road was blocked by the wall of a black mass looking something like slate, but smoking sullenly. This wall already had reached around the church at the end of the street.

This mass of molten lava looked like a solid pile of coke or slag, yet it moved like a liquid.

Sandwiched between the buildings, the lava formed a black sea that toppled structures in its path. There were angry masses of red when chunks of the lava rolled over one another.

Aside from the low tones of the roar overhead, there was an amazing lack of noise, altho the buildings crumbling away under the weight of the slowly moving mass were to be seen plainly on all sides.

BRITAIN TURNS NAVY AIR BASE OVER TO U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

A UNITED STATE NAVAL AIR STATION IN ENGLAND, March 13.—Rear Adm. George B. Wilson today said that he believed the number of German submarines operating in the north Atlantic now was "substantially less than two years ago."

Wilson made the statement during his visit to this huge naval air base, which today was handed over formally to the United States navy by the royal air force. Navy Liberators have been flying to the Bay of Biscay on anti-sub patrols from here since Sept. 12, but until today the royal air force standard has been flown.

TITLED BRITON CO-RESPONDENT; MAJOR DIVORCED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 23.—George G. Leveson-Gower [known as the duke of Sutherland], former lord high commissioner to the general assembly of the Church of Scotland, today was cited as co-respondent when a divorce decree was granted to Maj. Vincent Ashforth Blundell Dunkerly on the grounds of the misconduct of his wife, Clare Josephine, with the duke.

Maj. Dunkerly originally had claimed damages to provide for his wife. The claim was waived, however, when Leveson-Gower agreed to pay Mrs. Dunkerly $4,000 a year for life.

Dunkerly had rejoined his regiment in 1939 and last May, it was said, his wife went to live at Sutton Park, Guilford, in a house on the duke's estate. It was testified she had said she was in love with the duke and refused to give him up. Leveson-Gower paid the divorce costs. The Dunkerlys were married in 1930. They have one child.

SAILOR GRANTED WRIT TO SEE HIS SON, 7, IN COURT

Judge Harold G. Ward of the Criminal court, yesterday issued a writ of habeas corpus to enable a coast guardsman to see his son, now in custody of his ex-wife.

The sailor is Valentine Lukas, 32, stationed on the Atlantic coast, a surface lines employe until he entered the coast guard in May, 1942. On April 19 that year, Lukas and his wife Helen, who now lives at 3807 W. 56th st., were divorced, and she was given custody of their child, Raymond, now 7.

Lukas, in his petition presented by Atty. Robert Romano, complained that on two previous furloughs he had been allowed only two hours with his son. He now feels the present furlough may be his last as he is scheduled for combat duty, he declared, and more than anything else he wants to see the boy. Judge Ward ordered Mrs. Lukas to bring the boy into his court at 10 a. m. today.

688,846 Died in Bengal of Starvation, Says Britain

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 23. — Approximately 688,846 persons died of starvation in Bengal province last year, the secretary for India, L. S. Amery, admitted in the house of commons today. "I am glad that the very much larger figures quoted in some quarters have turned out to be erroneous, but I am not minimizing the extent of the appalling calamity," he said.

BELIEVE PETER'S THRONE PERILED BY HIS MARRIAGE

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 23.—The marriage of King Peter of Jugo-Slavia to Princess Alexandra of Greece may cost him his throne, it was reported here today. Peter is said to have defied the wishes of many members of his government, ministers, diplomatic representatives, and even of his mother, who considered that the marriage should have been delayed until the political crisis between his government and Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz' provisional government was settled.

According to published accounts here, Peter made his own wedding plans, ordered the flowers, the wedding breakfast and the priest, and invited military representatives of Gen. Draja Mihailovitch to attend.

Short Honeymoon.

Meanwhile, other reports suggested the young king would shorten his honeymoon and return to London to consult on financial affairs following Tito's efforts to obtain control of the Jugo-Slav national gold reserves, totaling 80 million dollars, in Britain and America.

[Another dispatch quoted Tito's agent in London as charging the government of Premier Bozhidar Puric with the free and easy spending of $20,000,000 since 1941.]

According to Tito and sources here, the king and his family and retinue receive about $40,000 monthly, tax free, from the reserves in America. The next payment is due April 1.

Gets $8,000 a Month.

Jugo-Slav funds abroad amounted to 100 million in 1941. From this sum 5 millions have been spent. About 8 millions were deposited with the Bank of England and the remainder taken to America, where part of that amount was converted into dollars and, by arrangement with the United States treasury, used to finance the Jugo-Slav royal family and government.

Peter himself is estimated to receive about $8,000 monthly and the royal government, according to Tito sources, spends about 8 millions yearly.

AMELIA EARHART HUNT REPORTED CURBED BY JAPS

MARSHALL ISLANDS, March 5 [Delayed]—(AP).—While American warships conducted a widespread search in July, 1937, for Aviatrix Amelia Earhart Putnam and her navigator, Fred Noonan, the Japanese government said: "There is no need for American planes to search the Marshall Islands. We will do it."

This was disclosed today by the executive officer of a carrier who aided in the original search.

Interest in the American flyers' fate was renewed by a report relating that an English speaking native had said that "a Jap trader named Ajima told me that an American woman flyer came down between Jaluit and Ailinglapalap atolls" and that "she was picked up by a Jap fishing boat" and "taken back to Japan." Relations between Japan and America then were friendly, altho the Japanese allowed no foreigners to visit the Marshalls.

MOSCOW, BERLIN REPORT TWO BIG RED BREAKTHRUS

Drives Past Tarnopol and Deep in Poland Told.

LONDON, March 24 [Friday]—(AP).—Russia last night announced a 37 mile deep breakthru in the Tarnopol hinge area of the eastern front. Berlin reported other Red army forces to the northwest in a 43 mile advance deep in old Poland had broken into Kowel [Kovel] on the main road to Warsaw.

The reported smash into Kowel, on which the Russians were silent, carried the Red army to a point only 33 miles from the German-Russian partition boundary established in 1939—the line from which the Germans invaded Russia on June 22, 1941.

Drive Past Two Citadels.

The Russian announcement of the big Tarnopol breakthru came 24 hours after Berlin had reported the offensive, describing it as a powerful flanking maneuver to the south to meet Russian forces on the Dniester river.

The Russian war report broadcast from Moscow last night said the 1st Ukraine army had driven directly between the German defense bases at Tarnopol and Proskurov and swirled right and left in maneuvers designed to encircle those cities.

With Tarnopol already cut off on the north, east, and south, the Russians said they had taken 32 miles of the railway running south, from a point three miles south of the city.

Gain on Southern Front.

On this front the Russians said they had captured four rail stations and 200 towns and villages in the last three days.

The Russians made their drive in the Tarnopol area without withdrawing any strength from other sectors of the southern front, where their offensive rolled thru another 115 settlements.

Apart from the Tarnopol breakthru, the most striking announcement of the night was the soviet advance to Voznesensk, on the Bug river 50 miles above Nikolaev. There the Russians reported suburban street battles were in progress, while other forces cleared the Germans from the east bank of the Bug.

This advance may go far to seal the fate of the Black sea port, with Russian forces less than five miles away.

Advance in Bessarabia.

West of Voznesensk, the Russians moved closer to Odessa, capturing 30 more hamlets southwest of Gaivoron.

In the drive in Bessarabia, the Russians reported a developing offensive on the west bank of the Dniester had taken the river town of Vertuzhany, 50 miles southeast of Mogilev-Podolski, and Tyrnovo, 23 miles south of Mogilev and 30 miles northeast of the Prut river.

Between that sector and the Tarnopol front, the Russians reported the capture of 25 towns in the big German bulge in the Ukraine line.

NAZI SHELL KILLS FIVE SOLDIERS AT ANZIO HOSPITAL

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, March 23 (AP).—Explosion of a German shell in the hospital area of the Anzio beachhead killed five soldiers and left a dozen injured in hospitals today. The explosion occurred yesterday when about 40 shells were pumped into the hospital area.

The dead and wounded included patients and hospital personnel, but no nurses. The hospital area is like a big tent city, well marked with red crosses.

ALLIED TROOPS AND PLANES DESTROY NAZI ADRIATIC GARRISON

LONDON, March 23 (AP).—Jugo-Slav guerrilla leader, Marshal Tito [Josip Broz], announced today that an enemy garrison on the Adriatic Island of Solta had been destroyed by "allied units supported by planes"—a possible reference to American and British Commando forces reported by Berlin to be operating along the Dalmatian coast.

The Berlin radio announced on March 10 that 1,500 American and British Commandos had landed on the Adriatic Island of Lissa and that other raids on the Dalmatian coast and near-by islands could be expected.

MIDWEST YANKS JOIN BRITONS IN FRIENDSHIP FETE

NOTTINGHAM, England, March 23 (AP).—Amid all the ceremony this ancient city could supply, 48 GIs from 48 states drank toasts, ate luxurious food, and rubbed shoulders with generals today in celebration of American-British friendship. The town arranged the luncheon for the privates as a show of hospitality.

Lord Mayor Frederick Mitchell, in a red robe adorned with gold buttons, welcomed each soldier at the top of a white marble staircase in the council house. James S. Bills of Ogden, Utah, chosen by fellow enlisted men to make a routine speech of thanks, said: "We are here to beat the damned Hun—and I know to this end we are unanimous."

Among those present were Chester J. Parker, 2510 W. 47th st., Chicago; Warren Sparks, Bloomington, Ind.; Horner Hough, South Haven, Mich.; Wayne A. Albert, Lemars, Ia., and James Zezza, North Hudson, Wis.

STRIKE PROTEST BY SOLDIERS AT FRONT REVEALED

Yanks 'Laid Down Their Guns,' Says Veteran.

Cleveland, O., March 23 [Special].—A demonstration by soldiers in Guadalcanal foxholes who threw down their guns in disgust last summer upon learning of the coal mine strike at home, was disclosed here today by a recently returned participant in the incident.

The story was related by former Pvt. Philip Scacco, 28, of the 37th [Ohio] division, a veteran of many South Pacific battles, who has received an honorable medical discharge because of wounds received in fighting.

"About eight or nine of us were in a foxhole on Guadalcanal while 'Washing Machine Charlies' were dropping bombs on the island." Scacco was quoted in the Cleveland News.

Newspapers Arrive.

"One of the boys, a sergeant from Akron, had just received about 20 or 30 newspapers from home. He opened the papers for the first time while the Japs were raiding. When he saw the headlines telling of the miners' strike he threw the papers to us and said:

"'What the hell are we fighting for?'

"We read the account and all of us were mad. This wasn't the first time we got sore over strikes at home. Most of the men were grumbling about strikes while we were in the Fiji Islands.

"Let's lay down our guns! We ought to give those strikers a dose of their own medicine," this fellow from Akron said.

"Threw Down Their Guns."

"We agreed because we were pretty mad. After the air raid we talked to the other soldiers when they came out of their foxholes. When they saw the papers they all joined. Several hundred around us threw down their guns and everybody was talking about the strike.

"Within an hour we had heard that at least 2,000 on the island were in on the 'sitdown.'

"As soon as the officers got wind of what was going on the commanding officer was notified. He immediately summoned together all the noncoms and told them to stop it. I heard one officer say: 'I wish to God papers from home were not sent out here.'

"The noncoms and the officers circulated among the men and talked us into dropping the idea. We forgot the whole thing after two hours because we had a lot of respect for our leaders. But the morale of the soldiers at that point was the lowest I had even seen it."

Scacco enlisted in the army more than four years ago and went overseas on May 22, 1942.

U. S. CASUALTIES INCREASE 6,000 IN TWO WEEKS

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—The steady toll of localizing battles, even in periods of comparatively quite warfare, was pointed up today in reports which showed this country's casualties increased more than 6,000 in two weeks.

Secretary of War Stimson said American army casualties in all theaters, from Pearl Harbor to March 7th of this year, totaled 126,193. The latest navy report lists 42,099 for the navy, marines, and coast guard—an army-navy total of 168,292. This figure compares with a total of 162,282 reported March 9.

Army casualties in Italy increased 2,287 to 39,058, of whom 5,749 were killed. While there was, during this period, heavy fighting at Cassino, American forces apparently were not greatly involved. New Zealand and Indian troops have done much of the fighting there.

Stimson's army report today listed 21,737 killed, 50,363 wounded, 26,747 missing, and 27,346 prisoners. The navy casualties were made up of 17,887 killed, 10,754 wounded, 9,036 missing, and 4,422 prisoners.

STIMSON DENIES SPLIT COMMAND IN AIR TRAGEDY

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—War Secretary Stimson said today that the allied gunfire which shot down 23 American transport planes during the invasion of Sicily was the result of "one of those terrible hazards that must be taken in any bold, complicated modern maneuver."

"However, I wish to emphatically scotch here and now," he told a news conference, any report that the shooting down of the transports—with the loss of 410 lives—could be traced to a lack of coördination among land, sea, and air services. Without identifying the dispatch, he said a foreign correspondent who reported the air forces operated separately during the invasion did "a complete disservice to a splendid air force."

The transports were brought down by our own gun fire as they roared in over surface guns at almost the same time German aircraft unloaded bombs among our shipping. Stimson said the pilots of the transports "were carrying their human cargo under orders laid down for them by a completely unified high command."

Chicagoan Listed as Lost Recovering from Wounds

Pvt. Carmen Pape, 19, 6248 S. Sangamon st., who was reported missing in action, is convalescing from battle wounds in an army hospital in North Africa, the war department informed his mother, Mrs. Caroline Pape, yesterday. Pvt. Pape was reported missing on Jan 26. The war department telegram gave no further information.

AMERICAN BOMBERS HAMMER OUTPOSTS OF TRUK 12TH TIME

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—American bombers, carrying out their 12th raid against Ponape and Kusaie guarding the eastern approaches to the big Japanese base at Truk started large fires in warehouses and barracks, the navy announced today.

At the same time other bombing flights on Tuesday continued regular pounding of enemy-held atolls in the mid-Pacific Marshall islands, setting afire an ammunition dump and causing other fires and explosions on four atolls.

All planes returned from the raids during which 70 tons of bombs were dropped on the enemy.

PATTON INCIDENT NOW IS CLOSED, STIMSON SAYS

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—Secretary of War Stimson said emphatically today he considered "the Patton incident" closed.

Asked if Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr. had been relieved of command of the United States 7th army in Italy [now headed by Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch] because of his slapping of an American soldier in a hospital during the Sicilian campaign, Stimson said:

"No, he has not, he has been assigned to the command of another army."

The identity of Patton's new command has not yet been disclosed.

CALLS CONFUSED FOREIGN POLICY HANDICAP IN WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—American fighting men are hampered by the mental handicap of not knowing clearly what they are fighting for, the Foreign Policy association, a private research group, said today in a severe criticism of the state department.

The association's charge that American foreign policy is cloudy and confused coincided with similar complaints in congress and especially from a group of 24 "freshman" Republican congressmen who will confer tomorrow with Secretary of State Hull.

The Republican group has asked Hull to enunciate candidly American policy on establishment of an international organization and on settlement of the boundaries of European states such as Poland, Estonia, and Latvia.

Urges Generals Be Informed.

"Commanders in the field are not functioning in a vacuum," Mrs. Vera M. Dean, research director for the association, asserted. "They either have, or if they do not, should have, some idea of the general course pursued in world affairs by the government they serve. To raise these questions is not to weaken the war effort as some people contend. On the contrary, it could be fairly argued that if the military forces of the United States—whose prevailing lack of conviction has been the subject of recent comment—were more fully aware of the issues at stake, they might make an even more valuable contribution to the war effort."

Mrs. Dean asserted that the state department will have to breathe some life and meaning into the Moscow declaration and the Atlantic Charter before it can hope to settle the problem of Finland and the other European small nations who have been promised the right of self-determination of their governments under the charter.

Asserts British Changing.

She said that British thinking as reflected in the London Times is moving toward the abandonment of the self-determination policy and toward a program of absorbing the small states by the great powers. She said that the only alternative to the power politics is the establishment quickly of an international organization which will afford security to the smaller nations.

Lack of security within an international organization has discouraged Finland from settling her war with Russia, Mrs. Dean said. She said the Finns at present see little choice between being dominated by the Germans or the Russians. Only an international organization could offer Finland adequate guarantees against threats by any of the big powers, she added.

Sec. Hull said at a press conference today that in a forthcoming speech, the time of which is to be announced later, he will give the country specific instances in which the 17 basic points of his foreign policy apply to current world problems as well as set up ideals for future international security.

BILL ASKS U. S. DEBT LIMIT BE RAISED TO 260 BILLION DOLLARS

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—Chairman Doughton [D., N. C.] of the house ways and means committee today introduced legislation to increase the federal debt limit to 260 billion dollars, the highest such ceiling in the nation's history. The limit now is 210 billion dollars, raised from 125 billion last March.

President Roosevelt, in his budget message to congress early in the year, estimated the public debt would reach 258 billion dollars by June 30, 1945. Last Monday, the debt was 184 billion 648 million compared with 115 billion 438 million on the corresponding date last year and 43 billion on July 1, 1940.

Since July 1, 1940, congress has authorized war expenditures aggregating 327 billion dollars, much of which has not yet been used. The President has asked congress to appropriate approximately 99 billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, of which about 93 billion would be for war purposes.

DRIVE TO OUST FARLEY SEEN AS NEW PURGE PLOT

'Hatchet Man' Niles Is Behind Scheme.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—The drive to remove James A. Farley, the man who put President Roosevelt into the White House, as Democratic state chairman in New York, was regarded here tonight as the opening of the New Deal's 1944 purge campaign

The former postmaster general and former chairman of the Democratic national committee was marked for ouster by David K. Niles, whose real name is Nayhus, hatchet man of the White House palace guard, because of his opposition to the third term at Chicago and his anticipated opposition to the fourth term.

Thomas J. Cullen.

With genial Jim in the saddle of the state Democratic organization, New Dealers fear the fourth term drive would suffer a severe setback if the President's home state were to send any uninstructed delegates to the national convention at Chicago. It is assumed by the New Dealers that Farley would seek to promote a slate of uninstructed delegates.

Launched by O'Connell.

The movement to oust Farley was launched in Albany by the notorious O'Connell machine, which served to emphasize again the alliance of the New Deal with the political bosses. It is now recognized widely that the President's chief political strength lies in areas controlled by Mayor Frank Hague in Jersey City, N. J.; Mayor Kelly in Chicago, Tammany Hall in New York, and Ed Crump in Memphis, Tenn.

John J. O'Connell, chairman of the Albany county Democratic committee, proposed that Farley be replaced by Thomas J. V. Cullen, pal of Niles. The latter two worked unsuccessfully with O'Connell in an effort to break Farley's grip on the state Democratic organization in 1942.

Against the combined efforts of President Roosevelt, the two New York senators, the then governor, Herbert Lehman, the Democratic national committee and Tammany, Farley successfully nominated John J. Bennett as Democratic candidate for governor of New York against Sen. Mead [D., N. Y.], the White House choice.

Niles and Cullen Confer.

Niles has conferred with Cullen recently, presumably on the move to oust Farley, which is believed to have the blessing of Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, Harry Hopkins, and Justice Felix Frankfurter, other members of the White House palace guard. Observers here feel that President Roosevelt will take no public part in the drive, but will give it his endorsement behind the scenes.

It was considered likely that the purge campaign will be as unsuccessful as previous New Deal purge drives—notably the attempted purge of the senators who opposed the Supreme court packing legislation in 1937 and the members of congress, who opposed entrance into the war before Pearl Harbor.

Farley has a strong hold on the New York delegation. He has won the loyalty of the organization by his honesty and devotion to principle. Because he was opposed to the third term it is generally believed that Farley will seek to take away as many of New York's 96 votes in the Democratic convention as he can muster.

Doubt Plan Will Succeed.

Informed political observers here believe that the attempted purge of Farley will be disastrous for the fourth term, even if successful. They said it would probably divide the Democratic organization so that there would be no possibility of a Democratic victory in the state in November, Democrats feel the prospects of carrying the state are most doubtful even with a united party.

At the White House and the Democratic national committee headquarters here, spokesmen said they knew nothing of any activity by Niles to remove Farley. Farley, who was reached in Pittsburgh, Pa., declined to comment on the situation.

His friends, however, said he is not concerned over the White House alliance with the O'Connell brothers. Such an alliance can only serve to strengthen Farley with the honest Democrats, they said.

Mail Bids for Primary Ballots Show Strong Trend to G. O. P.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Republican leaders saw omens favorable to the G. O. P. yesterday in soldier vote applications. Mailing of ballots began yesterday.

Already an estimated 4,000 requests for absentee ballots for the April 11 primary have been received by the Chicago board of election commissioners, according to Carl Schroeder, in charge of the work. Some 90 per cent of these were from military personnel.

Ratio Cut from 5 to 1.

Schroeder said that 33 per cent of the absentee voters have asked for Republican primary ballots. This fact, Republicans believe, spells hope for the G. O. P. in the light of comparisons with applications in other war elections. Democrats always poll most of their strength in primaries here while the Republicans do not.

In the 1942 primary, military personnel returned nearly five times as many Democratic ballots as Republican—2,258 to 488. In the 1943 mayoral primary the Democrats had almost a 4 to 1 lead—1,782 to 490. Republican leaders are comparing these 5 to 1 and 4 to 1 scores with the present ratio of only 2 to 1.

High Ratio in 1938 and 1943.

In the 1943 city primary, Republicans cast only 38 per cent as many votes as they did in the election, compared with 88 per cent for the Democrats. The 1942 general election found the G. O. P. getting only 45 per cent of its November voters to the primary, against 85 per cent for the Democrats in Cook county.

In 1940 Republicans polled 40 per cent of their November vote in the April primary, while the Democrats came thru with 87 per cent. And in 1938 the Democrats of Cook county cast 27,297 more votes in the primary than they gave their senatorial candidate that November. That year the G. O. P. showed only 37 per cent of its real strength at the primary.

Air Mail Used for Ballots.

Schroeder said that various ward organizations now are active in having relatives send ballot applications to men in the army, navy, and marines. All ballots requiring more than an overnight rail journey are going by air. The cost for mailing the envelopes, weighing 1½ ounces, is 12 cents in this country and 24 cents overseas.

John T. Dempsey, Republican county chairman, said the party switch by soldiers would be even more evident but for the law prohibiting those who voted Democratic in the 1943 city election from getting G. O. P. ballots this time.

BURST SHACKLES OF BUROCRACY! G. O. P. WAR CRY

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Illinois is a key state in the 1944 Presidential election, and Republicans want harmony and unity now in the state G. O. P. as a formula for smashing the New Deal in November, Werner W. Schroeder, Republican national committeeman, said in a radio speech last night.

"Republican Leadership for Unity and Victory" was his theme. He was one of several speakers who are to take to the air in behalf of the Republican organization slate.

Schroeder drew a contrast between Republican party dissension of past years and present day harmony, and spoke of America today as "bound in the chains of taxes and burocracy." He dwelt on some exactions of the New Deal burocrat.

Ever-Present Dictator.

"He is with you at every meal, telling you what coffee, sugar, bacon, canned goods, and other foods you can or cannot consume," Schroeder said. "He prescribes the shoes you buy and the cut of your suit. He limits your tires and gasoline—while lend-leasing it to the rest of the world. He takes half your business time answering his questions and questionnaires. He dictates what wages you pay and what wages you get. He curtails the use of American made farm machinery by American farmers and sends it to less productive lands which have not learned to use it.

"If he gets his way he will draft you into a labor army to move you hither and yon to gratify his whims and serve his political purposes. The tax collector and burocrat are becoming a ruling class.

"Much of this taxation and regimentation would be unnecessary had not the New Deal laid the foundation for high taxes and inflation by peace time spending that placed on the backs of Americans before the war the largest debt—by three times over—in our history."

Gains in Congress Noted.

Schroeder pointed to the increase in Republican members of congress in Illinois in four years from nine to 20 members, to the fact that all state officers except one are Republicans, and that Republican majorities in the house have increased, while many counties have elected more Republican officers.

Concluding, Schroeder appealed to every Republican worker in the state to get out a large Republican vote in the April 11 primaries to "herald to the world that unity prevails in Illinois and that next November our state will be in the Republican column."

162,851 SUSPECT NOTICES SENT IN VOTE CANVASS

A total of 155,428 suspect notices were issued in the city and 7,423 in the country towns under jurisdiction of the election commissioners, it was announced yesterday when a compilation of registration records was completed. There were 1,918,726 names in Chicago and 109,404 in the country towns when the canvass was made last Friday and Saturday. Final registration figures will not be known for about 10 days, until after the deadline for those receiving suspect notices to appear.

VICTIMS CLAMOR TO BE HEARD AT WINCHELL QUIZ

1,000 Write Rep. Dies; Hearing Promised.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Investigators for the house committee on un-American activities revealed today that more than a thousand letters have been received in one week from persons reporting instances of falsities and inaccuracies in the columns and radio broadcasts of Walter Winchell, Broadway tattler.

The missives are being carefully perused for facts bearing on the committee's inquiry into the smear technique of the former vaudeville hoofer who reaps an enormous income from the peddling of boudoir gossip, interspersed with attacks on anti-New Dealers.

"This astounding public response to the announcement of our committee's investigation," commented Chairman Dies [D., Tex.], "indicates that a vast number of persons who have for years been victimized by Winchell and have been given no chance to reply to his attacks now see their first opportunity to have 'their day in court.'"

Victims to Be Heard.

All persons with pertinent testimony to offer regarding Winchell's "vicious and un-American" propaganda methods will have a chance to be heard, Dies said.

Rep. Dies will broadcast a formal statement concerning the inquiry at 9:15 p. m. next Sunday, immediately following Winchell's usual broadcast. He sought for three months this opportunity to address the same audience heard by the smear artist and was turned down by the Blue network and the Andrew Jergens company, Winchell's sponsor, until the recent announcement of the inquiry. Fifteen minutes following Winchell was then offered him.

Winchell's presence in Washington yesterday was noted in a brief speech in the house by Rep. Hoffman [R., Mich.], who gave members details of the imprisonment for treason of one woman member of the Jergens household and the interment of another as an enemy alien.

"Congratulation" Told.

"Perhaps Winchell, as a Jergens employe, has come to town to ascertain the present place of residence of these fellow employes," Hoffman remarked.

"Perhaps he will explain in a future broadcast what he meant by congratulating Jergens in connection with the arrest of one of these employes. Did he mean that Jergens was to be congratulated in having in his employ such an individual? Did he mean that Jergens actually did something to unearth the subversive activities of the employe? Why has he never given us the details? He has been quiet as a clam for many months about the Nazi-connected activities of two of the former employes of his own boss.

"It would seem expedient that the Dies committee ask J. Edgar Hoover to disclose whatever facts there may be in connection with the so-called full coöperation by Jergens and whether or not the first information as to Elfrieda Margaret Siddell's alien connections came from Winchell as he would have his listeners believe.

"Let the department of justice and the FBI give the public as much information about these two former employes of Jergens, Winchell's sponsor, as has been given to the public time and again in connection with the charges against those indicted here in Washington for sedition."

Double Tragedy

MRS. JAMES MUIR.

Capt. Charles Muir.

Mrs. James Muir, 48, died of shock yesterday, shortly after receiving a telegram from the war department telling of the death of her only son, Capt. Charles Muir. The Muir home is at 239 Bridge st., Gary.

The war department message said Capt. Muir was killed in action March 10 in Sicily, but gave no details. He was an infantryman. He was graduated from Horace Mann High school in Gary, and attended Indiana university.

Mrs. Muir was attending a social club meeting at 360 Marshall st., Gary, when she received the war department telegram. She screamed "Charlie, Charlie," and almost collapsed. A friend took her home, where she died despite efforts of a physician to aid her.

AWARDED LEGION OF MERIT.

BENSON ASSAILS PROPAGANDA ON BATTLE FRONTS

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Efforts to indoctrinate American soldiers overseas with British and New Deal propaganda were condemned last night by Arnold P. Benson, president pro tem of the Illinois senate and regular Republican organization candidate for secretary of state.

Sen. Benson shared the spotlight at meetings in the 35th, 37th, and 38th wards with Gov. Green, Richard J. Lyons, aspirant for United States senator, and other G. O. P. candidates.

Isolated from free news channels, our men overseas are subjected to barrages of "news" from Reuters, the British news service, and from the office of war information which seeks to achieve a fourth term for Roosevelt, Benson said.

British Tactics Decried.

"News furnished our boys overseas in the official army paper Stars and Stripes is totally inadequate," he said. "It is often prepared with the idea of boosting those friendly to the administration and condemning those considered unfriendly to the New Deal.

"The British have made use of this newspaper to spread their own particular propaganda—which is not always conducive to the best interests of the United States.

"The only other source of available news is the biased and sketchy handouts from the office of war information. Is this the kind of setup we are fighting for?"

There is small wonder, Benson said, that letters from American soldiers in Europe display so much confusion as to what is happening in this country.

Green and Lyons Speak.

"American soldiers must be allowed to read and listen to American news wherever they are stationed," he said. "Perhaps they would rather read why the New Deal tried to hamstring the soldiers' voting law here in Illinois than some of the smear attacks against those opposing the fourth term."

Gov. Green and Lyons also hit what they termed attempts to Nazify America behind the flaming curtain of war. Stealing our liberties bit by bit delays winning the war because it is liberty that puts the punch into our offensives against foreign enemies, they agreed.

Joining with these three candidates tonight will be Lt. Gov. Cross, Attorney Gen. Barrett, Earl B. Searcy, candidate for Supreme court clerk, and Conrad F. Becker, candidate for state treasurer. They will address Frank R. Leonard's 47th ward meeting at 4220 Lincoln av., also appearing in the 45th ward, Hamilton av. and Roscoe st.; in the 48th at 4615 Sheridan rd., and in the 49th at 6344 Broadway.

DEMOCRATS PIN HOPES ON TUOHY FOR PROSECUTOR

Courtney Aid for 10 Yrs. Would Succeed Him.

This is the 10th article in a series discussing candidates seeking nominations for various offices in the April 11 primary.

BY GUY GENTRY.

Cook county Democrats are pinning their hopes on William J. Tuohy, an assistant for more than 10 years under Thomas J. Courtney, to retain control of the important office of state's attorney. Popular agreement with the advisory group of the county central committee in the selection of Tuohy was proved in complete absence of primary opposition.

As assistant to Courtney in charge of tax matters, and as attorney for the county board and other county officials, Tuohy has bridged the gap between the Courtney faction and the regular Kelly organization. His selection was regarded as an attempt towards consolidation of the two groups as well as a tribute to his own personal popularity and qualifications.

Served in World War I.

Tuohy was born in Bloomington, Ill., in the house his father built for his bride when the elder Tuohy moved there as a mechanic in the Alton shops. He went to St. Mary's High school, Loras college, the University of Chicago and Illinois Wesleyan law school, being admitted to the bar in 1922. Tuohy interrupted his education to serve as a private in World War I.

While attending the University of Chicago he worked in the stockyards for Swift & Co., and paid his way thru law school at Illinois Wesleyan by working in the Alton offices at Bloomington. At that time he joined the railway clerks' union.

Tuohy started law practice when the firm of Fifer, Bohrer, and Riley in Bloomington, headed by former Gov. [Pvt. Joe] Fifer, and occasionally recalls wistfully and leisurely routine when lawyers locked their offices and walked home for lunch. He came to Chicago in 1925, becoming an assistant corporation counsel. Tuohy remembers vividly the trepidation with which he approached his first case which involved $50,000, an amount that would have made it a major legal event in Bloomington.

On Staff for 10 Years.

From 1927 until 1933 he was associated in private practice with former Atty. Gen. Patrick J. Lucey. Upon the election of Courtney as state's attorney, Tuohy joined his staff. Then 10 years of experience in that post has provided him with knowledge of the legal problems of county officials, as well as of the tax and financial machinery of the Cook county government.

Tuohy is a man of contrasts. Altho somewhat fidgety, his voice is calm and his conversation deliberate. While he has held appointive political office a dozen years, he has never served in any party capacity and is seeking an elective office for the first time in his 47 years. His thickset build would indicate athletic college days, but his extracurricular activities were confined to his fraternity—Sigma Chi.

He was married in 1926 to Helen O'Connor of Bloomington. They have four children, Sally, 15, Patrick, 13, John, 11, and Helen, two and one-half years, and reside at 1044 Loyola av.

HURJA PREDICTS ANY G.O.P. BUT WILLKIE CAN WIN

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—Emil Hurja, former statistician for the Democratic national committee, said today he had predicted recently at a private forum of business men in New York City that any prominent Republican but Wendell L. Willkie could win the Presidency if President Roosevelt seeks a 4th term.

Hurja, who now edits Pathfinder magazine, told a reporter he had supplied a political analysis to a group of business men who also heard talks by Sen. Truman [D., Mo.], A. D. Whiteside, former vice chairman for civilian requirements of the war production board, and Upton Close, author and radio commentator.

The meeting, Hurja said, was arranged by the Mackay-Kroeger industrial service.

MOVE TO DEFER SKILLED MEN IN CRITICAL JOBS

Hershey Lukewarm to WPB Proposal.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—A War Production board plan to defer certain key workers under 26 years of age in eight critical war industries will be altered before final acceptance, draft officials said tonight.

National Draft Director Hershey has given a lukewarm reception to the granting of special exemptions from the draft to young men holding key jobs in a "super-critical" list of industries selected by WPB, it was disclosed. The eight vital industries suggested by WPB were aviation gasoline, synthetic rubber, landing craft, certain radar equipment, heavy bombers and certain fighters, submarines, high tenacity rayon, and a secret weapon.

Draft officials announced that the program is expected to be developed in a few days thru agreement of selective service representatives, WPB, War Manpower commission, and army and navy officials, under which some provision will be made to prevent the drafting of men under 26 whose work is considered absolutely essential to the production of a limited number of vital war items.

Agreement Seen This Week.

This special deferment program, which probably will be agreed to at the conferences between the war agency officials this week, will provide for a rapid survey among war plants to determine the actual number of younger men who will have to be deferred, draft officials said.

They indicated that on the basis of this census occupational deferments for the men under 26 will be allocated by selective service to each plant whose production will be listed as necessary on a "super-critical" list of vitally needed war products such as landing barges or radar equipment.

F. D. R. May Not Intervene.

The President had been expected to make a statement on occupational deferments last week but no statement was forthcoming and he is now not expected to intervene in the controversy.

The WPB plan would establish the following machinery for certification by state draft directors of qualified men under 26 for occupational deferments: Regional committees would be set up in WPB offices to screen occupational deferment requests submitted by employers in the eight "super-critical" industries. These requests would have to be indorsed by a government procurement officer handling the company's contract or by a WPB official. The committees would weed out the requests and forward to the state draft directors only those deemed absolutely essential to the production of the critical war goods.

4 Kinds of Gas Coupons Invalid After March 31

The office of price administration announced yesterday that B and B-1 and old style E and R gasoline coupons will be invalid for use by the public after March 31. B and B-1 coupons have not been issued since Nov. 30, 1943, while the old E and R tickets have not been issued since Oct. 1, 1943. The few with expiration dates later than March 31 may be exchanged for new coupons at local ration boards, OPA said.

BAN ON FARMER DRAFT THREATS VOTED IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—Aroused by charges that farmers have been compelled to sign up with the AAA or risk losing their gas rations and draft deferments, the house late today wrote a ban on such practices into the agricultural department appropriation bill.

On a vote of 93 to 65, it tentatively approved an amendment denying salary payments to any person who demands that a farmer join the agriculture adjustment administration "as a condition of draft deferment or for the granting of a priority certificate for any rationed article or commodity."

Rep. Tarver [D., Ga.] pleaded to no avail that the house refrain from adopting such an amendment until a committee could study the complaints.

The charges have been made by Rep. Harness [R., Ind.], who told an agriculture subcommittee today of a letter he received from a farmer in Marion, Ind. The farmer said he was told by his draft board he had to show a certificate of AAA membership or be placed in 1-A, subject to immediate induction.

"Going to Stop It."

"Selective service and the AAA said they do not countenance nor condone this," Harness said, "but nevertheless they are doing it and we're going to stop it."

A group of Ohio farmers, joined in a "protest association," also testified before the subcommittee against the policies of the AAA—an adjunct of the agriculture department which handles farms and marketing problems.

"The good farmer is not a member of the AAA," said Henry Fackler of Plymouth, O., chairman of the Ohio group.

Today's vote in the house found Republicans present lining up virtually solidly for the ban. It was a teller [nonrecord] vote and is subject to a roll call later.

Representatives Brown [R., O.], Smith [R., O.], Michener [R., Mich.], and others said they had received complaints from farmers.

Reports Near Riot.

Brown said "there have been many instances in the last two or three weeks" in Ohio, where farmers were told they must join the AAA in order to get gasoline allotments, and that "a riot almost developed" in one area.

However, he told the house he had talked to officials in Washington, and they had notified field workers that such requirements were contrary to regulations and policy.

The action on the Harness amendment delayed until tomorrow final action of the annual agriculture bill, carrying $567,996,779 for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In approving a section appropriating $29,200,000 for salaries and expenses of the war food administration, the house prohibited the WFA from making assessments on milk and other farm commodity producers or handlers to help pay the expenses of administering WFA orders.

JOAN BERRY TELLS OF TRYSTS WITH CHAPLIN

Saw Actor 'Very Often,' She Tells Jury.

J. F. T. O'Connor admonished her. "I can't even hear you. Speak up."

"The next day or the day after," she repeated.

"Where?"

"At Mr. Durant's home."

"From that time on, did you have occasion to see Mr. Chaplin?"

"I did."

"About how often?" Carr asked.

"Pretty constantly," she said quickly.

"How often each week?"

"Well," slowly, "the best I can remember I would say five or six times each week."

Chaplin Glares at Her.

Giesler, who had come to court with two brief cases and a week-end bag crammed with notes and documents, now feverishly thumbed thru them. Chaplin was looking at his ex-protegee in what seemed to be a glare. The courtroom, hot despite its air conditioning, was devoid of extraneous sound for the first time in the trial.

"And with respect to the months of August, September, and November, 1941," Carr continued, "how often did you see Mr. Chaplin?"

"Well, when I was in town, I saw Mr. Chaplin constantly."

Giesler gathered his bulk to its height. "I object to 'constantly'," he said.

"Once a month?" Carr asked. The courtroom sniggered. "Once a week?"

"O, no," she said, registering shock, but with great gravity. "Five or six times a week."

Admits Intimacy.

Carr's tone seemed purposely matter of fact. "Can you state whether during June of 1941 you had sexual intercourse with Chaplin?"

The girl paused, lowered her eyes and replied: "I did."

"State whether that relationship existed during the month of August, 1941."

Now she whispered. "It did."

"Do you recall when you entered into a contract with Mr. Chaplin?"

Yes, about June 15, 1941."

"Now, with reference to the year, 1942, did you see Mr. Chaplin during January, February, and March?"

"I did."

"Well, how often were you seeing him then?"

Not Seeing Him So Often.

"Not as often as during the latter part of '41. Maybe three times a week."

"Was there any conversation then about a trip east?"

"There was. At Mr. Chaplin's home in about April."

"What was said?"

"I remember telling Mr. Chaplin that I was a little bit annoyed because he was working first on 'The Gold Rush' and then on something else and not on 'Shadow and Substance.' And because I was dissatisfied I asked if I could go to New York. He said 'definitely no.' He said: 'Joan, if you go to New York, I am going to terminate your contract.'"

Later, she said, she mentioned it again many times, and in September, 1942, he brought it up.

Chaplin Suggests Trip.

He said: 'Joan, would you still like to go to New York?' I said: 'Yes, very much.' And he said: 'Would you be very surprised if I said you could go.' And I said: 'Yes, I would.' . . ."

She was twisting her hands, her words rushed out, and Judge O'Connor leaned over from the bench.

"Don't be nervous," he said. "And not so quietly. You are talking so rapidly it is difficult to hear."

"What else did he say?"

"He said, 'I'm letting you go Joan, because I am going myself. I am going to make a speech on the second front. I would like for you to be there with me. Would you like for your mother to go, too?' I said 'Yes,' and he said the studio would have tickets for me. He said, 'You can stay at your aunt's or at the Waldorf-Astoria. That's where I am going to go.'"

Met Chaplin at Club.

"State whether you made the trip to New York."

"I did."

"Where did you go?"

"To my aunt's."

"How long were you there?"

"Four days."

She then went to the Waldorf, she said, stayed there one night, and moved to the Hotel Pierre, where she stayed for about three weeks.

"Did you see the defendant Chaplin?"

"I did."

"When?"

"I saw him for the first time at a night club, the Stork club."

"Who was there?"

"Mr. Durant and another gentleman."

"Any one else?"

"Yes, the young man I was dancing with."

"What was the date?"

"Oct. 16."

"How do you remember it?"

"Because Mr. Chaplin made a speech in Carnegie hall."

Sees Chaplin at Night Club.

"I was coming off the dance floor and stopped by his table. He said, 'How was my speech?' I said 'fine.' He said, 'I was under the impression, Joan, that you were supposed to meet me after the speech.' I said I hadn't known that.

"When did you next see him?"

"Three days later. We had dinner at the "21" club and later went to another place, El Morocco, I think."

"Where did you go then?"

"To Mr. Chaplin's apartment. Mr. Chaplin said, 'Joan, there are a few things I would like to talk over with you. Will you come to my hotel?' I said I would."

"What happened there?"

"We went into the living room and Mr. Chaplin showed me around. Mr. Durant excused himself. He said he was tired and was going to bed."

Talked on the Couch.

"What did you and Mr. Chaplin do then?"

"We talked for a few minutes—on the couch."

"About what?"

"O, about the Russian people, how fine they were. I just don't know what . . ."

At this point Miss Berry became a very embarrassed witness. She fidgeted and mumbled her words.

"During the conversation did you go somewhere else?" Carr asked.

"Yes . . ." slowly. "To Mr. Chaplin's bedroom."

"What did he say?"

"He said . . . 'Joan . . .' I don't just exactly know how to say it . . ." She paused. "Well, he . . . well, O, well, he said, 'Joan will you come into the bedroom with me?'

"How long were you there?"

"About two hours."

"State whether you had sexual intercourse with him."

"I did."

It was on this that the first Mann act violation charge is based.

She left, she said, at about 2 a. m. and Chaplin accompanied her back to her hotel. Later, she said, he said he was going to South Carolina to make another speech, but wanted her to go directly to California. The next day, she said, he gave her three $100 bills for her fare and that of her mother.

Went Back to California.

She went back and next saw Chaplin on Nov. 6 when he called on her at the Beverly Hills hotel. Later she went out of town and next saw him Dec. 13 at his home. The next time was Dec. 19 or 21 when the gun episode took place.

"Did you threaten to shoot?" Carr asked.

"No."

"How did you get in?"

"O," she said, and sighed audibly. "I broke in a door."

"Did you point the gun at the defendant?" Carr asked her.

"I did," she replied.

"What did he say?"

"He was talking on the phone. He said, 'I'll have to call you back. I'm busy now.' Then he said to me, 'You are going to kill yourself. That will be very dramatic. The papers will eat it up.' Then he said, 'Sit down. Don't be such a fool.'"

Intimate Again.

She testified she told him that was just what she had intended to do and that she intended to keep the gun.

"Did you then have sexual relations?" Carr asked.

She looked down at her bag, hesitated, and said in a whisper, "I did."

"Where was the gun while you and Mr. Chaplin had the relationship?"

"He said, 'Joan, I'm going to try to rehabilitate you and give you another chance,'" she testified with what seemed her only show of rancor.

Calls Joan Extravagant.

"'You are extravagant and must change. I will help you if you are willing to live on $25 a week. [She previously had received a salary of $100 a week.]'

"I said, 'From the studio?'

"He said: 'No, either Edward [Chaplin's butler] or I will give it to you.'

"Then he said: 'That's on condition that you don't bother me and only see me when I want to see you.'"

What Miss Berry's response to that was she did not say, nor was she asked.

After she told of it, Carr abruptly ended the examination by asking if she broke her contract with the Chaplin studio. She admitted that she did.

Giesler Cross-Examines.

Giesler then moved in, slow, cautious, easy of manner, soft of speech, for cross-examination.

"You had just returned from Mexico City when you met Mr. Chaplin, hadn't you?"

"Yes."

"How did you meet him?"

"I had been given a note of introduction to Mr. Durant by A. C. Blumenthal of Mexico City, and he introduced me to Mr. Chaplin."

"You were interested in getting into motion pictures?"

"Yes."

"At that time you were keeping company with another gentleman?"

"Yes."

"And it was this other gentleman you had been seeing in Mexico City?"

"Yes."

Not First Intimacy.

"How soon after you met Mr. Chaplin were you intimate with him?"

"The best I can remember was about two weeks after. It was after I had signed my contract . . . as best I can remember."

"You'll pardon me," Giesler said deferentially, "but your consent to have relations with him was voluntary?"

In a low voice. "Yes."

"You had had relations with other men?"

In a lower voice. "Yes."

Carr now rose to his feet in anger.

"I object!" he shouted. "This

JOAN BERRY TELLS OF TRYSTS WITH CHAPLIN

Saw Actor 'Very Often,' She Tells Jury.

has no bearing on the case. Even if you put a common prostitute on the stand, it could have no bearing on the issues in this case."

Complains of Restiveness.

Giesler quickly switched his questioning. He began to ask Miss Berry about the dramatic coaching she had at Chaplin's expense, about the role she had been promised in "Shadow and Substance," and why she broke her contract.

"All the delays had made me restive," she said. "One day Mr. Chaplin would be working on it, the next day on something else, the next day on the second front, and then on his social obligations. There were so many things that he seemed to work on, but not on it. . . . I had a chance to have a screen test at M. G. M., so I wanted to try it."

"You had no screen test?"

"No, but may I explain why? [The judge nodded.] We had a reconciliation. He called me over to hear a speech he was broadcasting. He said, "This will be the last. Why don't you stay?"

Thought He Would Miss Her.

"You told him you wanted to go to New York for a trip?"

"Not for a trip. I thought [quietly] maybe he would miss me. Then every time we had a quarrel I could see the futility of not staying there unless he was going to work on the picture."

Giesler then tried to get her to admit she asked Chaplin to take her when he went to New York in October, and that he said, "No." She denied this, denied saying she would go whether he permitted her or not, denied telling Chaplin's studio manager she had given up the idea of a screen career and was leaving Hollywood for good, denied Chaplin bought the railroad tickets with that in mind, admitted he gave her $500 to pay her bills, but denied she sold her automobile because she was not coming back.

Miss Berry Gasps.

"Did Mr. Chaplin say he wanted you to go to New York to have sexual intercourse with him?" he asked suddenly.

Miss Berry gasped. "He never said that in those words!" she cried angrily.

"In New York you moved into the Waldorf on Oct. 8?"

"Yes."

"And checked out on Oct. 10?"

"Yes."

"Who paid your bill?"

"That's irrelevant!" Carr cried. "No bearing on the case."

"Did Mr. Chaplin?" Giesler asked triumphantly.

"No," she said, "but may I explain it? He said to me, 'I will pay the bills there——'"

Denied Chance to Explain.

"Did he?" interrupted Giesler.

"No, he didn't, but," swiftly, "there was a reason I left the Waldorf and I wish you would let me tell it!" Her voice was desperate, but Giesler moved inexorably on.

"And you checked into the Pierre?"

"Yes."

"And the gentleman who escorted you in was the same gentleman you met down in Mexico City?"

"Objected to!" howled Carr. . . . And it was at just about this point, or one equally unsatisfactory, that court adjourned for the day.

Chaplin Bookkeeper on Stand.

Miss Berry was the government's second witness, the first being Mrs. Lois Watt, bookkeeper for the Chaplin studio, who told of the money paid to Miss Berry in 1941 and 1942.

Miss Watt produced and identified six documents, all of which were introduced into the evidence as exhibits for the government.

The first was the contract, dated June 23, 1941, between Miss Berry and the Chaplin Film corporation, binding her exclusive services for six months at $75 a week. The next was a six month extension of the contract. The third and fourth concerned termination of the contract on May 22, 1942, by mutual agreement. The fifth, a check for $92, dated Sept. 26, 1942, was Miss Berry's last pay roll check from Chaplin. The sixth was the studio's check for $263.48 buying Miss Berry and her mother one way tickets to New York.

"Can you tell me to what account this [the final check] was charged?" Carr asked.

"Mr. Chaplin's," she said.

Got $8,900 Altogether.

On cross examination she said that Miss Berry received six checks in addition to her salary checks, one being $1,000 bonus in December, 1941. Altogether she received $6,025 in 1941 and $2,875 in 1942.

In addition she produced checks to show that Chaplin paid Miss Berry's $1,186.29 account at a local department store, $439 for her dental work, and $195 for her dramatic coaching.

"Who are all those charged to?" she was asked.

"Mr. Charles Chaplin."

Today's two witnesses, judging from Carr's opening statement to the jury when court opened today, are believed to be the main points in the prosecution. The government has only to prove that Chaplin financed her trip to New York on Oct. 2 and back to Los Angeles on Oct. 26 for the purpose of having illicit relationship.

Innocence Not at Issue.

The government makes no pretense, Carr flatly said at one point during Miss Berry's examination, that Miss Berry was an immature, innocent young girl at this time or at the time she met Chaplin. That has nothing to do with the federal case, altho the defense keeps injecting this note, possibly out of respect to the seven women on the middle aged jury.

Defense Atty. Giesler, in his opening statement, quite calmly said he will neither try to excuse nor defend the morality or intimacies prior to the alleged intimacies mentioned in the indictment, but he will show, he said, that if intimacy were wanted, such a trip would not have been necessary.

"Any time Mr. Chaplin wished to have intimacies with this young lady, either in Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, or anywhere," he stated flatly, "she would do so willingly and gratuitously without the necessity of taking her to New York for any such act."

Spent Money on Training.

Giesler told the jury that Chaplin spent much money schooling Miss Berry for his proposed picture. He had her teeth realigned and her dramatic abilities polished up, but she tired of waiting for the picture to be made, and asked, again and again, to be allowed to go to New York. Eventually she did go, of her own volition, and went presumably for keeps, having closed all doors and debts behind her, he said.

She saw Chaplin there, but by accident as she was dancing at the Stork club with another man, Giesler argued. Three nights later she had dinner with him and accompanied him to his suite at the Waldorf-Astoria, but only to discuss the Russian situation, he contended.

She came back to Los Angeles on money from heaven, not from Chaplin, but Chaplin drove by her hotel one night to take her to dinner and was forced to return her quickly because "of her condition," Giesler said.

Demanded $150,000.

They next met in late December, Giesler said, when she broke two windows and a door to smash her way into Chaplin's home and insisted, with her gun for emphasis, upon spending the night. The next day she forfeited the gun for cash, left, and later demanded $150,000 from Chaplin, the attorney said. He refused.

As for Miss Berry's stay in New York [she was not at Chaplin's hotel, but at the Pierre, both sides agree] Giesler said Chaplin did not pay her hotel bill, nor did his studio. The defense implies that it was paid by the man, so far nameless, who escorted her to the 38th floor of the Pierre.

Giesler injected this note of suspense, with a few side remarks about the money Chaplin, altho a British subject, has paid in taxes in the United States, which Carr immediately objected to.

"We're not trying him on his tax bill," he said.

Chaplin Perks Up.

"I'm trying to tell the jury that all his taxes were paid here and not to Great Britain and that his war contributions—"

"The gentleman is not charged with not contributing to the war effort," Carr interposed acidly.

"All the same, he has," Giesler observed mildly. "O, well . . ." he said, and sat down, ending his argument to the jury.

Chaplin was aloof and withdrawn as Carr gave his opening argument, but as Giesler talked, he sat up in interest, an amazing sartorial sight today in double breasted tan just a shade darker than his complexion, from which only his crest of white hair, white shirt, and white teeth stood out in rather flashy relief.

WORKER ADMITS HE DROWNED BOY IN Y. M. C. A. POOL

Held Him Under with His Foot, He Says.

help and I hadn't realized what had happened."

He said he got a long pole and pushed the boy's body into shallower water. Then he called for help and Ralph Hulse, locker room attendant, came from upstairs and Louis Minichello, 16, came from the lobby. Minichello recovered the body.

Davis insisted then, and during the other days preceding his confession, that Elliott had gone to the pool alone and that he appeared later in the role of would-be rescuer. This story was supported by witnesses, who asserted Davis apparently had not been in the pool because his body was dry. However, he had been dried by the running around which he did during his reconnaissance. He also had donned dry socks to further indicate his late arrival.

Davis Tries to Fix Up His Alibi.

Davis was not taken into custody until 24 hours later and then on a warrant charging sodomy with one of the other young men with whom he assertedly had carried on close friendships at the "Y."

"From the time of the drowning until detectives sent for me Monday afternoon," Davis was quoted as saying, "I spent my time fixing up the alibi I would tell police in case I was picked up for investigation.

"After realizing I had killed Harley, I thought I had committed the perfect crime. With the alibi I had prepared, I didn't think the authorities could prove I had committed this crime. But now that they have, I've got a clear conscience."

While Davis was making his confession and adding details, funeral services were held for his young victim. Numerous pupils from the Elkhart High school, where young Elliott was a sophomore, were in the large crowd that attended services held in the Grace United Brethren church because his father's church was too small. Harley's older brother, Pvt. Wilson B. Elliott Jr., came here from an army camp in Texas to attend the funeral.

Negro Leaders Telegraph Protest on Brown Beating

A group of Negro leaders yesterday sent a telegram to Rep. Dirksen [R., Ill.] protesting the beating suffered Wednesday in Washington by Edgar G. Brown, of Chicago, Negro candidate for the Republican nomination for representative of the 2d district in Illinois, and calling for an investigation. Brown was beaten by Randlett T. Lawrence, a house chamber doorkeeper, from Monthalia, Tex., who said Brown refused to obey his orders in the house.

HUNTER CARRIES DEMOCRAT BALL IN M'LEAN AREA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bloomington, Ill., March 23.—The Democratic state ticket, headed by State's Atty. Courtney, candidate for governor, and Sen. Lucas, carried their campaign hopefully into the Republican stronghold of McLean county tonight.

The first team of Courtney and Lucas confined themselves respectively to a win the war speech and an indorsement of the American Legion veterans program. New vocal chores were given E. C. [Ted] Hunter, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Casimir Griglik, Supreme court clerk candidate.

"Gan-green has set in on the state of Illinois," Hunter told his audience. "Gov. Green's promises have been like so many rubber checks to the state. He has built a Republican machine on broken promises.

ADMITS TAKING $11.25 DAILY ON DRUG STORE JOB

Every day, from Jan. 2 to March 22, James Hamby, 16, of 817 Adams st., Waukegan, systematically abstracted $11.25 from the till of the drug store at 26 N. Genesee st., Waukegan, where he was employed, he confessed yesterday to Waukegan police.

He was arrested after store officials observed that the cash register receipts were running behind sales, and noticed an extraordinary number of "no sale" items on the record tape.

Hamby said he used the money to have a good time, and bought a girl a $29 compact. A charge of larceny against him will be laid before the grand jury Monday by Harry A. Hall, state's attorney for Lake county.

SUPREME COURT PAVES WAY FOR 54% VALUATION

Legal obstructions were removed yesterday by the State Supreme court to completion of 1943 tax bills on a basis of revised assessment which will cost railroads an additional $6,000,000 and is expected to save small taxpayers that amount.

Atty. Gen. Barrett directed county clerks to certify assessments on a state-wide average of 54 per cent of average value instead of the original 31 per cent figure after the Supreme court yesterday had refused a rehearing sought by 18 intervening railroads. An injunction obtained in Sangamon county Circuit court restraining the state from certifying assessments at more than 31 per cent was vacated after the higher court had ruled.

The legal tangle and threat of delayed tax collections thruout the state resulted from a decision of Cook County Assessor Clark to assess all property at 100 per cent valuation instead of the 37 per cent in previous years, state officials said. Barrett asserted that if the railroads had been successful in their action, the $6,000,000 tax burden would have fallen on home and other property owners thruout the state.

CHILD ABUSED BY KIDNAPER; ARREST RAPIST

Mary Ann Darabaris, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Darabaris of 12025 Indiana av., was lured into an automobile in front of her home yesterday after oon, taken to the home of Charles Lapa, 34, a convicted rapist and ex-convict, and criminally assaulted, Kensington police charged last night.

The child, her underclothing removed, was found sobbing in Lapa's home at 220 W. 113th st., less than two hours after she was abducted, by detectives who had traced the kidnap car to Lapa thru the alert observation of a neighbor who noted the car license number.

Threatened with Masher.

The car was parked in the rear of the house and the detectives saw the child standing at a window, crying. The house doors were locked, but they battered their way in. Lapa was asleep in a bedroom. He had been drinking, police said, and when he was taken to the Kensington station he refused to talk.

Mary Ann was taken to Roseland Community hospital, where physicians reported to Capt. Matthew Froelich that she had been raped. The child, at first too frightened to tell of her experience, later told detectives that she got ino he car when a man promised her candy and a ride. At Lapa's house, she said, her heavy play suit and underclothes were removed, after which Lapa threatened to hit her with a potato masher unless she did as he ordered.

A 12 inch wooden potato masher was found in the house and held as evidence.

Spots Auto License.

Capt. Froelich praised Mrs. Ann Pochron, 12022 Indiana av., for getting the correct license number when she saw Mary Ann getting into the strange car. Mrs. Pochron later identified the car and Lapa as the driver, police said.

Mary Ann was playing in front of her home about 1:50 p. m. when Mrs. Pochron said she saw the strange car. The driver backed up, drove on, backed up, and then stopped and talked to the child. When Mary Ann got in the car Mrs. Pochron jotted down the number and ran to tell Mrs. Darabaris. The mother was prostrated by shock. Her husband, a chef, was at work, and her other child, Harry, 8, was in school.

Lapa, police said, is married and the father of a 10 year old boy. He is employed by the International Harvester company in West Pullman. He has been sent to prison three times, the last time for raping a 15 year old girl in 1942. He received a one year sentence and was released last August.

Following is Lapa's police record:

Feb. 5, 1926—Fined $25 and costs; disorderly conduct.

Aug. 31, 1926—Sixty days in the Bridewell and fined $100 and costs; larceny.

March 22, 1927—Probation; disorderly conduct.

Jan. 10, 1928—Sentenced to Pontiac reformatory; assault to rob, two charges. Plea of guilty. One charge of robbery nolle prossed. Paroled Sept. 11, 1933. Wanted for violation of parole Dec. 29, 1933.

April 11, 1935—Arrested as Joe Doe.

April 18, 1935—One year in the Bridewell and $1 fine for carrying a revolver.

May 6, 1935—Sentenced to Joliet penitentiary; burglary, two charges; also pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property, sentences to run concurrently. Discharged at expiration of sentence April 15, 1941.

April 27, 1942—Arrested.

Sept. 11, 1942—Entered Joliet penitentiary on a charge of rape; plea of guilty; one year. Discharged expiration of sentence, Aug. 10, 1943.

RAFT CAPSIZES AT MANEUVERS; 20 MEN MISSING

With the 2d Army on Maneuvers in Tennessee, March 23 (AP).—Approximately 20 men are missing following the capsizing of an army raft during an attempted river crossing last night, 2d army officials announced tonight. Two men either swam or waded to shore after the raft capsized.

Efforts are being made by the army to locate the missing men, and names will be made public as soon as they are known.

WAR DEPLETING LAKE REGION'S IRON ORE, SHIPBUILDER SAYS

Industrial supremacy of the Great Lakes region is threatened by war time consumption of its high grade iron ores and also by removal of important manufacturing thru "high pressure politics," Leathem D. Smith, Sturgeon Bay [Wis.] ship builder, told members of the Propellor Club of the Port of Chicago at a dinner meeting in the Merchants and Manufacturers club last night.

Smith, who has entered the Republican primaries seeking the senatorial nomination against Sen. Wiley, said that at the present rate high grade iron ore in the lakes district will be exhausted in a decade. He urged "constructive, long range planning" on the part of all the varied interests to maintain the region's supremacy thru the post-war period.

Chicago, with its request for more lake water thru the drainage canal, was mentioned especially as one locality whose conflict with others could, Smith said, be settled amicably. "I am satisfied that if the attitude of Chicago and its suburbs will change to a determination to complete its sewage disposal program," he said, "a compromise can be worked out permitting some increase in diversion above the 1,500 cubic feet a second now allowed."

MECHANICS BEAT CIO IN FACTORY ELECTION, 556-44

Toledo, O., March 23 (AP).—The Mechanics Educational Society of America won a bargaining agency election among toolroom workers at the Willys Overland company, Carl Fox, president of the local union, said today. The election climaxed a jurisdictional dispute which was highlighted by a work stoppage six weeks ago by MESA workers in Detroit, Toledo, and Cleveland.

Results of the election, held at the direction of the national labor relations board, were 556 for MESA and 44 for the CIO United Automobile Workers union, Fox announced.

The Toledo plant's bargaining agency dispute precipitated a work stoppage in early February which had approximated 25,000 idle.

DISCOVER NUDE BODY OF WOMAN AT PALM BEACH

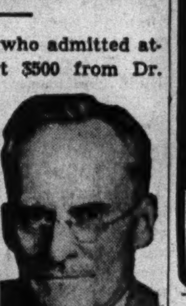
TWO IN CUSTODY BARE STORY OF EXTORTION PLOT



Dr. Lawrence Rowell.

Two young men who admitted attempting to extort $500 from Dr. Lawrence Rowell, 4506 Wolf rd., Western Springs, were in custody of Western Springs police yesterday. They were seized by Police Chief C. J. Buehl, and the blackmail note which they had written was recovered.

The prisoners are Paul H. Gilpin, 17, of 41st st. and Glendenning rd., Downers Grove, and Howard G. Sage, 18, of 910 Curtis st., Downers Grove. Chief Buehl said that Gilpin is on probation from the Du Page county court on an automobile larceny charge, and that Sage was questioned in Sapulpa, Okla., several years ago about the murder of three ranchers.

Threats Made by Phone.

Recently, Chief Buehl said, Dr. Rowell had received several telephone calls demanding $500 on threat of accusing him of an abortion operation. Dr. Rowell is a reputable physician, about 75, and the threat was a fraud, police added. Dr. Rowell notified police.

Wednesday night Sage and Gilpin called at Dr. Rowell's home, saying they had a letter for him. He was not in and they left.

Dr. Rowell's daughter, Helen, called police and Chief Buehl hurried to the Burlington railway station where he found Sage and Gilpin.

Note Found in Station.

The youths for hours insisted that a stranger had offered them $25 each to deliver the letter, then finally, at 5:30 a. m. yesterday confessed they were the sole plotters. They said they had hidden the blackmail note in the railroad station. It was recovered there. The letter stated that the writer knew of six women who would testify Dr. Rowell had performed abortion operations on them, and that the writer's silence could be bought for $500.

ARMY PROMOTES OFFICER IN TOOL SALE SCANDAL

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—War department records disclosed today the promotion of an army officer criticized by Sen. Ferguson [R., Mich.] in connection with the sale of government tools for scrap.

Ferguson charged in a senate speech March 9 that Lt. Col. Paul M. Bonner, in charge of redistribution and salvage of surplus air force property at Detroit, had signed an order last August which resulted in the sale of tools, which cost the government $1,721,136, for scrap at $36,924.

Disclosure that Bonner had been promoted to a full colonelcy March 11—two days following Ferguson's speech—came after an inquiry by the senator. In his discussion of the incident in the senate, Ferguson called for severe discipline for those responsible, declaring the army should rid itself of "timid and blundering officers."

WHAT WILLKIE IS AFTER.

Willkie has about as much chance of landing the Republican party nomination as Hoover or Landon, who aren't running. Only a minority was for the barefoot boy from Wall street when he started campaigning last fall and what strength he had then he has since been losing. Antagonism to him is évident among both voters and party leaders.

The Gallup poll published March 13 showed that he was still running second among the candidates, but that the percentage of voters for him had dropped to 27 per cent. Last November the same source found 35 per cent were for him. Gallup has missed the mark at times, but when he announces after a survey that 3 people out of every 4 are against Willkie we can be sure that he is no winner.

Willkie's standing is low with the Republican party leaders, too. There has been no upset of party machinery since 1940 and the delegates to the convention that year will for the most part be the ones who will be here in June. A poll of the 1940 convention delegates conducted by James S. Kemper, the Chicago insurance company president, shows that 5 out of 6 of the delegates don't want Willkie.

Willkie is not so stupid as to think he has any chance of getting the Republican nomination. He has several ways of his own to take the popular pulse. The big movie company of which he became head when its president went to prison shows its pictures all over the country. The movie theater people know that the voters don't like Willkie and must have written their views to the head office of this company. The Wall street bank of which Willkie is a director has correspondents in every state and country bankers have not been backward about expressing their views about the ex-public utility holding company manipulator. The Lehman investment banking firm with which Willkie is associated finances big businesses in every part of the country and these concerns no doubt have not been reluctant to let their Wall street contact know what they think of the 1940 Republican nominee. And Willkie must have some friends and they must have told him.

What game is Willkie up to then? He lets the cat out of the bag by the sort of campaign he has been waging in Wisconsin. His principal effort consists in vilifying Republicans who have not hesitated to point out his shortcomings. As a smear artist he finds Winchell an admirable model. His objective is to turn Republicans against Republicans so as to assure a Democratic victory in November. New Deal newspaper reporters accompany him wherever he goes. The New Deal press is back of him enthusiastically and plays up his utterances. If Willkie should succeed he might be able to reelect Mr. Roosevelt. If we know Wisconsin he isn't going to succeed so far as that state is concerned.

PLOESTI IN EASY RANGE.

The war map shows that the Russians now are within about 250 miles of the Rumanian oil fields around Ploesti. This is Hitler's principal source of petroleum. He can make some of the gasoline he needs from coal, but he must have the Rumanian oil for lubricants as well as motor fuel. It has been said that the partial destruction of the Ploesti installations by our bombers last year is largely responsible for the decline of the German air force in recent months and the retreat on the eastern front.

Of that we shall know more when the war is ended, but meanwhile it is clear that, whether or not the Russians advance farther into Rumania, the oil field can be knocked out, for Ploesti is now within fighter range of the Russian lines. If Stalin's air force is not equal to the assignment he need only let us establish air fields from which to attack. With fighter protection, our bombers should be able to accomplish the desired result at far less cost than we had to pay in the low-level attack from Africa.

A SHOCKING RECORD.

Quentin Reynolds, the war correspondent and writer, tells in his new book, "The Curtain Rises," how newspaper men in North Africa and during the Sicilian campaign were prevented from getting news of the fighting to America. Inadequate service by the company to which the New Deal's federal communications commission had granted a monopoly prevented the transmission of the dispatches.

He told how the correspondents appealed to the army and were forced to use overburdened army signal corps communications to get their stories thru. He said that the writers "screamed" for the excellent service of Press Wireless, Inc., the organization owned by American newspapers and designed to serve them. The protests did no good. The FCC had awarded control of communications to Mackay Radio and Telegraph company, which Reynolds calls the "benevolent cable company," with rates for urgent service so high that correspondents banded together to boycott that service.

The FCC remained adamant and refused to allow Press Wireless to operate from the North African theater, despite the fact that it was ready to do so and had men and equipment at hand. Press Wireless was blocked thruout the Mediterranean war zone until last January, when FCC finally relented after a senate committee began to investigate the discrimination.

Americans are entitled to know why the federal government is interfering with American communications all over the world when American private enterprise is willing and able to set up these systems. Not long ago, a congressional committee had evidence that the FCC and the New Deal palace guard conspired to force the owner of radio station WMCA in New York City to sell out to New Deal interests. Before any testimony could be taken that would prove these charges, the New Dealers silenced the committee.

Three Democrats who formed a majority on the committee, Representatives Lea of California, Magnuson of Washington, and Hart of New Jersey, got together in a secret session and voted to drop the inquiry. Before the vote was taken, Lea spent about an hour in his office with Charles R. Denny Jr., chief counsel of the FCC. The two Republican committee members have protested this high handed action.

Obviously there is corruption some place in this picture. If it is financial corruption, congress should uncover the facts that will start the guilty parties toward jail.

Congress is the only body which can end the FCC's tyranny and its strangulation of American communications system in world commerce. It is the only force which can throw the FCC out of office and stop its oppressive rule of the broadcasting industry. Congress has the power, and its duty is plain.

POST-WAR FLIGHT PLANS.

Capt. Rickenbacker, speaking at the first annual dinner of the Wings club in New York City, outlined a five point program to protect America's rights in international aviation after the war. He called for freedom from customs while in transit, freedom of communications, freedom of weather information, freedom from cutthroat subsidies, and freedom from higher tariffs than those paid by competing nationals. He asked that congress establish a board or council to enforce this program and to insure that America will have the right to use the airports and installations our army and navy have built on foreign soil in post-war commercial flying.

Capt. Rickenbacker, besides being a hero of two wars, ranks along with the Wright brothers as a pioneer in the development of aviation, and his suggestions about America's place in post-war aviation should be given careful consideration. He also is one of the men who fail to see any future for America in allowing the control of her resources and her commerce to be given away to European allies.

A congressional board or committee to protect American air commerce after the war might be useful, but the problems involved in world air travel are almost wholly those of diplomacy rather than of legislation. Arrangements for the use of foreign airports and bases and for the necessary world air routes should be made by treaty. The state department and the chief executive are supposed to draft all treaties with the "advice and consent" of the senate.

What America needs to guarantee the air supremacy in peace that her air supremacy in war deserves is a thoroly American state department devoted to the protection and promotion of American commerce thruout the world. We will never have that as long as Mr. Roosevelt and the New Dealers occupy Washington. Until they are removed, congress will have to take care of the job and from that approach Capt. Rickenbacker is correct in recommending the appointment of a congressional aviation board right now.

One of Mr. Roosevelt's recent acts was the surrender of 38 American airplane carriers to the British and that generosity does not augur very well for American post-war aviation if it is to be continued when peace comes. Americans must hope, however, that the British will make good use of these carriers now, for British activity in the war has been only nominal since the United States came into it. There is no reason why the gift of the 38 aircraft carriers should not be made the occasion for reciprocity, the British surrendering to us all of the islands in the Pacific that we need. Americans who are looking out for this nation's future could gather some satisfaction from that swap.

CIVIL WARS IN POST-WAR EUROPE.

[New York Daily News.]

A re-reading of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Washington's birthday report to parliament turns up some interesting material.

Mr. Churchill, for one thing, noted that "we ourselves [the British government] have never in the past guaranteed on behalf of this government any particular frontier line to Poland. . . . The British view in 1919 stands expressed in the so-called Curzon line."

That indicates that Britain will be satisfied to have Stalin shear off east Poland and add it to Russia, while Poland takes some or all of East Prussia from Germany. The most likely result will be civil war in post-war Poland between the old Poles and the new Poles, who will naturally insist that they are Germans, not Poles.

Nothing was said about Finland, but nothing needed to be. It is plain that Russia is going to take a chunk of Finland, and promote Red rebellion in the rest of Finland.

All this adds up to a preview of civil wars—class and social and maybe religious wars—in much of Europe after World War II. officially ends in Europe.

Bavarians most likely will be fighting Prussians in a prostrate Germany. Italians of the Sforza-Salvemini faction will be fighting former Fascists and Royalists. Poles will be fighting Poles, French French, Finns Finns, by present indications. These wars will be preventable [temporarily] only by allied occupation troops—and it seems doubtful that Stalin will want many of such in Europe, because he will naturally want to foment Communist revolutions in all European countries.

A DASH OF CLUB LIFE.

The revival of the Dill Pickle club tradition, on other premises, may seem like a cue for this column to reminisce in a nostalgic vein about the departed glories of Tooker alley's ivory tower in the 1920s. We must confess, however, that we regarded this frowsy joint as an antechamber to the city's psychopathic institutions and avoided it firmly, even when on the prowl in search of Bohemia's midnight seacoasts. The popular notion that the place was luscious with literary gents whose names are now mentioned with reverence is merely a story to tell to the marines. The fact is that the Dill Pickle, miscalled a club, was a kiln for crackpots.

* * *

If the Chicago literature of the 1920s found its inspiration among the eccentrics of the Dill Pickle's forum, where are the tributes of the gifted alumni to their alma mater? Their works are silent on the subject. The records of this bizarre academy seem to have been written in invisible ink, unless Dr. Ben Reitman, a specialist in such matters, attended to that duty in his memoirs.

* * *

Our only visit to the Dill Pickle was as a guide, escorting a curious New Yorker of Greenwich Village tastes. He had heard rumors about this quaint rendezvous of the neo-decadents in Chicago's intellectual life, and as a man of letters he wished to see the place, so we led him thither like a dutiful host. But the Pickle was then in summer recess, and we saw nothing except its caretaker, an ex-wrestler in need of a shave, and a strange mural painting executed by an inmate, perhaps shortly before his removal to Dunning. The janitor assured us that this fiendish face on the barroom wall was an interpretation of the spirit of Woodrow Wilson.

* * *

Jack Jones, who ran the resort to earn a meager living, was, however, frequently within our ken, for he was a chronic visitor of newspaper offices, in search of publicity for his soirées. The weekly literary supplement of the Evening Post was always a soft touch for Jack's press notices, and its files should be consulted by researchers into Dill Pickle lore. Jack, at his best, looked like a stoker off a Great Lakes steamboat, and at his worst like a Welsh miner fresh from the coal pits.

LET ME FORGET.

When man has turned him from war's grim pursual
And the fearful martial drums no longer beat,
O, let me, that my soul may find renewal
Of blessed calm, seek out some still retreat,
Far hence, by pleasant groves and meadows cheery
And, freed of all annoyance and fret,
There let me for a while (for I am weary)
The dark misdeeds of humankind forget.

O, let me hear once more the bobwhite calling
Across brown autumn fields at close of day;
By woodland streams where crystal waters, falling,
Make sweet midsummer music, let me stray.
And let, within my heart, faith's feeble ember
Burn bright again, so long by doubt beset.
Man's kindliness and love let me remember;
His hate and crimson crimes let me forget.

O, let me range field, wood, and windy slope;
And let me think how man still keeps on striving,
His face to heaven turned and filled with hope.
But spiteful deeds, and words of malice spoken,
And dreadful war, and men in battle met,
And bigotry, and brotherhood that's broken,
Almighty God on high! let me forget!

She packed three dresses besides the suit she wore, two berets besides the hat she wore, two pairs of shoes, and all her jars of face cream.

He arrived weary and stooped. She arrived fresh as a daisy and ready to dive into the valise for his first change of scenery.

Next time, for a change of scenery, he suggested: "Let's take a walk." She packed his pockets with her compact, comb, lipstick, cleansing tissues, bobbie pins, and keys.

Now he says, for a change of scenery, "Let's go to a show." She doesn't pack a thing except her overnight bag, commonly called a purse.

HIGH PROTEIN FEEDINGS FOR INVALIDS.

It goes without saying that in the presence of disease or the destruction of tissue, healing cannot occur unless nutrition is maintained at a high level. This calls attention to the importance of adequate feeding of wounded soldiers, particularly those who are endeavoring to surmount a wasting ailment.

Every essential foodstuff must be represented, but more emphasis than many of us have believed will need to be placed upon protein. Thus the demands for a liberal meat supply are clear. Numerous experiments have proved the vital role of this element in recovery. Not only must the blood contain ample amounts but we dare not risk exhaustion of the normal depots of the body.

There is much to be said in favor of getting ready for surgery by means of satisfactory meals. In this fashion, protein reservoirs may be built up. In consequence, the patient will go thru the ordeal with greater safety and comfort. The program may be carried out at home before entering the hospital, or pursued for four or five days while there.

Subsequent to the operation, practically every one will require reinforcement of the diet as soon as the condition of the alimentary canal permits. As we can well understand, the one who has been suffering from a bleeding peptic ulcer has probably depleted his reserve to the point of exhaustion. This explains why the prompt administration of generous menus has been followed by the saving of many lives. In intestinal obstructions likewise or in cases where drainage has been prolonged—for example, an appendiceal abscess—so much vitality has been used up that immediate support is in order.

There is no substitute for natural foods, if the digestive tract can dissolve and absorb them. A single substantial meal, which includes a sufficient quantity of proteins, may do more for the sufferer than several transfusions. He transforms the edibles into his own particular tissue chemicals.

Perhaps we have forgotten the observations of early army surgeons who were called upon to care for Indian warriors. Maj. John G. Bourke cites many instances of speedy healing of desperate wounds because these native Americans were largely meat eaters. He relates the case of a wounded Apache girl who underwent an amputation at the middle of the thigh. She took no anesthetic, as none was available. Soon thereafter she rode horseback for 60-odd miles, making the return journey to the reservation without incident. There was no fever, no chill, no infection. Within a few days she was hopping about as lively as ever with the aid of a homemade crutch.

In modern practice, whole blood transfusions are more helpful than plasma because the red coloring matter [hemoglobin] is an excellent source of protein. Furthermore, if some of the digested fractions—amino acids—are added, we have a quick method of restoring the reconstructive powers to the circulation. This is the conclusion of Karl Meyer and others who have studied this problem on a long series of surgical cases.

Suitable tests are available so that we can determine beforehand whether or not the circulating fluid is at par. If it is substandard in any one particular, the indications are clear—namely, proper feedings and transfusions.

Check the back of the tongue and the pharynx for irritation. There may be some growth which behaves as tho you had thrust a finger down your throat. At the same time, the integrity of the cranial nerves should be investigated. Now and then the cause will be hysteria. Yes, altho the danger is not great. The causative streptococci may be transported but a walk of a block or two in the open air will banish them from the clothing. If they are lurking in the nasal passages, that is another matter.

Journalism in Reverse.

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—If one may judge from the coverage given the Chaplin trial by representatives of the British press, the British public is very, very hungry for news of its errant subject. Not only is Reuters, the British news agency, in there plugging every day, but so also are one lady and several gentlemen representing the London Daily Express, the London Telegraph, the London Mirror, and some nameless British magazines. One of the writers is veddy, veddy British. One recently became an American citizen and amazes the American press by producing a package of chewing gum every day and chewing in beautiful, noisy waltz time. He seems to be envied, for no one else has access to chewing gum, but he is quite generous with his.

Most of these worthies presumably are chronicling the trial as it progresses, the prosecution and the defense, but the one writing for the magazines doesn't bother with that. He is interested only in what the lawyers say. The rest of the press members yawn, sleep, and make priceless doodlings while the attorneys argue with the judge or each other, but not he. He takes down, or tries to take down, every word they utter. When witnesses talk, he just sits back and gives smiling nods of recognition to friends in the courtroom.

A bit puzzled by this, we asked what he was going to write about.

"Ah," he said mysteriously. "Ah, I am going to write how different it is. Yes, how different it is from the way we would handle Chaplin. After all, he is a British subject."

We said yes; yes, we knew that, but was there a great difference?

"Why," he began, "you don't suppose we'd give him his liberty, do you?"

[This being during a recess, Chaplin was stalking up and down in that section of the courtroom reserved for attorneys, defendant, and the press.]

"You do for murder, I know, but for something like this?"

"For anything. . . . And if he were not out on bail, he'd enter every day by stairs leading up from the prison below. He would be permitted no liberty.

"And we never select a jury with all the nonsense you go thru—all those questions. We simply impanel a jury of 12, and no objections would be permitted to the service of any man. Each would place his hand on the Bible and swear to deliver a true verdict according to the evidence. If, during the course of the trial, any juror should be guilty of—ah—misconduct, the prisoner can challenge him."

"But our system saves expense. What if one of your jurors is challenged and thrown out, what happens then?"

"Ah," triumphantly, "That rarely happens, but if it does, the prisoner can ask for a new trial."

"But that is costly."

"On the contrary, we," with some asperity, "find it very efficient."

By this time photographers were at work taking pictures of Mr. Chapli... "And those!" scathingly. "We never permit them." The courtroom, too, was full of spectators milling about during the recess and peering at Chaplin. "And those people—we never let them in the wel' of the courtroom. They are restricted to a small gallery."

We never did have a chance to ask him what he thought of the current manifestation of the Hollywood tradition, a press agent for the defense, whose most pressing duty at that moment was to hold a lighted cigar for a worried reporter who was trying to check a statistic, but we did ask him what he thought of Chaplin. "I hope," he said with adenoidal intensity, "that he gets a good kick in the pahnts."

Mike Krupnick, who works nights in the W-G-N newsroom and sleeps by day, received this note from a maid in the hotel where he lives:

SMEAR AND HOW IT WORKS.

Chicago, March 14.—The President, it is reported, will veto the soldiers' vote bill. It may be expected that in his veto message to congress Mr. Roosevelt will claim that this bill prevents rather than helps soldier voting.

The veto message will then be given a prominent place in the Stars and Stripes and in broadcasts to soldiers with the obvious intent to smear congress. If Mr. Dies wishes to get at the fountainhead of those who would smear, discredit, and destroy congress he must start at the White House.

CRY BABY.

Joliet, Ill., March 20.—Like all great rabble rousers and petty tyrants, Winchell howls to high heavens about his constitutional rights when the shoe is on the other foot. He certainly can dish it out, but like all cry babies he can't take it. It was very amusing last evening to hear him wrap himself in the Constitution and ask for a fair judge and jury and that his witnesses be heard, now that there is a faint possibility that he may be called to account for shouting treason and traitor at every one that disagreed with him. How many judges and juries and how many of their witnesses did he hear before he made these vicious attacks?

I certainly hope that the listeners got as big a laugh out of his explanation of his being retired from uniform as I did. The idea that he tried to convey that this was a military secret and if revealed we would lose the war, would be funny if it was not so pathetic. And his talk of punching noses! Little chance does he take on having his snozzle poked. He carries a couple of nice, big bruisers around as body guards to protect his delicate little nose and lets them absorb any little pokes that are passed around. So from now on it is not going to be "Mrs. Winchell's little boy Walter" to me, but the right title, "Cry Baby Winchell."

SEC. ICKES MEETS HIS MATCH.

Springfield, Ill., March 16.—I just finished listening to the verbal debacle on the Town Hall radio program, the subject for discussion being "Should the United States Government Develop Foreign Oil Resources," and the speakers Secretary Ickes and Sen. Moore of Oklahoma. Mr. Ickes got along fine while he was talking from notes or from a speech on paper, probably prepared by a ghost writer. During the extemporaneous portion of the program Sec. Ickes resorted to his usual sarcastic and caustic remarks, but the quick witted senator from Oklahoma was more than equal to the occasion with his rapier-like thrusts which had the secretary hanging on the ropes several times. It was a battle between superficial knowledge of the secretary on the one hand and the practical knowledge of the oil business of the senator on the other. If the administrators of the other governmental departments have as little fundamental knowledge of the subject pertaining to each department as Secretary Ickes evinced tonight in his, no wonder that so many mistakes have been made in handling our home front problems!

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY.

Chicago, March 20.—I am 16 years old and I have a job and I go to night school. On my way home from work I always get a copy of your paper and never once have I failed to see an article on minor delinquency. Aside from the papers, radio programs and moving pictures are continually commenting on the subject.

What I would like to know is, when are we going to stop commenting and do something about it? Instead of stopping it where we find it why don't we stop it where it begins?

I can only judge by what I have seen and know. A rigidly enforced curfew time for 'teen aged boys and girls would help immensely. That, of course, would mean that more policemen and patrol cars would have to be on the job and not down gabbing at the corner saloon or sitting in the movie houses, as I have seen plenty of them doing.

A stricter school law would also help. According to statistics given out by several newspapers the average school attendance has dropped since the beginning of the war.

Another thing that I believe would help the problem at hand is a curfew time for drug stores and other so-called "hangouts." There can be as much damage done if not more in a drug store as there can in a saloon.

Some of you mothers and fathers may think that the above suggestions are rather silly and that you don't have to worry because you just know that junior won't do anything he shouldn't. Don't forget that I'm a boy of 16 and I've seen plenty of boys and girls that didn't have the guts to say no.

I am writing this letter principally because I have some one very dear to me in uniform and he speaks for all the men in the armed forces when he says that things had better be O. K. when he gets back.

CAN'T FIND THE SHORTAGE.

Chicago, March 20.—Has any one gone to a service station with his gasoline ration stamps and been told that there was no gas left to sell him? I think not. Yet about 8 out of 10 stations can sell so-called "black market" gas. Granted there are a minority of people who just use the gas allowed them by stamps, there still is a wonderful amount of gas sold without coupons. Where does it come from? There must be an abundant amount on hand or else many people would be deprived of their rightful share, with the stamps in their hands merely because their gas was sold to a patron of the black market.

SENATORS MOVE TO HALT ICKES' CONTROL OF OIL

Committee Acts as PRC Backs Pipeline.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—An 11 man senate investigating committee today moved to take over the determination of the nation's petroleum policy from Secretary of Interior Ickes while a Petroleum Reserves corporation technical mission was reporting that the middle east would be the principal post-war source of oil.

The mission, composed of four petroleum experts, recently returned from the middle east. Its report to Ickes, who is president of the PRC, that the middle east had vast petroleum resources, was regarded in congressional circles as a PRC argument for the 1,200 mile oil pipe line in Arabia, recently suggested by Ickes.

The senate's petroleum investigating committee, authorized in a resolution introduced by Sen. Brewster [R., Me.] and Sen. Moore [R., Okla.], today elected Sen. Maloney [D., Conn.] as chairman. Maloney appointed Sen. Brewster, Sen. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] and Sen La Follette [Prog., Wis.] to a subcommittee to determine the procedures to be followed by the full committee.

Lucas Group Delays Action.

Brewster, in an interview, sharply criticized administration leaders in the senate for delaying the committee's work. The senate passed the resolution forming the committee on Feb. 17, but the audit and control committee, headed by Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.] held up the investigating committee's $25,000 appropriation until March 13.

"If any questions are to be asked about delays by the committee in starting its work, the administration can answer them," Brewster declared.

Brewster said that a study of Ickes' Arabian pipeline proposal would be one of the "curtain raisers" of the committee's investigation, but that a thoro study of petroleum resources, production, and consumption in the United States and elsewhere would have to be made. He said he could see no immediate war need for the pipeline.

Calls Arabia Future Center.

In its report on middle eastern oil reserves, which have been the object of senate interest, the PRC technical mission said that the Persian gulf area, where the Roosevelt administration is planning to build the pipeline, is destined to become a major source of world oil, outstripping American oil developments.

The report, made public today, was submitted Feb. 1 to Ickes by E. De Golyer, petroleum geologist and chief of the mission. De Golyer reported that the Persian gulf area has petroleum reserves, either proved or indicated by discovered fields, of 25 to 27 billion barrels, compared with proved reserves of slightly more than 20 billion barrels in America.

He asserted that the center of oil production gravity is shifting from the Mexican-Caribbean area to the middle east. He said the middle east oil area probably will be able to produce in the next 10 to 15 years four times its market outlet, indicating a surplus of this oil.

Overflow Competition Feared.

The petroleum industry war council, set up by Ickes to speak for the oil industry, recently warned that the overflow of oil from the middle east will compete with American oil.

FUTURE DANGER SEEN IN DECLINE OF OIL RESERVES

Dallas, Tex., March 23 (AP).—The United States contains only one-third of the indicated oil reserves of the earth, but it is producing two-thirds of the world's output, G. C. Gester of the Standard Oil Company of California, San Francisco, said today in an address before the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

The United States has an estimated 20 billion barrels of oil reserves compared with 40 billion for the rest of the world, Gester asserted.

"Up to Jan. 1, 1944, the United States has produced about 28 billion barrels of crude oil, contrasted with 15 billion barrels for the rest of the world," he added.

"We may not be actually killing the goose that lays the golden eggs, but we certainly are pulling out its feathers and have been doing it for years.

The United States must maintain its petroleum independence at all costs. If the petroleum industry of this country is permitted free enterprise unhampered by governmental regulations and restrictions, the United States can maintain that independence."

KNOX ASSAILED AS TAX WASTER IN ARAB OIL DEAL

Spurned Low Private Bid, Moffett Says.

New York, March 23 [Special].—Secretary of the Navy Knox was accused today of sanctioning the spending of millions of dollars of taxpayers' money for an Arabian pipe line project after he previously had turned down a lower offer by private capital to provide the navy with unlimited oil from the same region without the need of building such a line.

The accusation was made by James A. Moffett, veteran oil executive and former federal housing administrator. Moffett, who resigned a $100,000 a year private job to write the petroleum code for the NRA during the early days of the New Deal, is the latest Democrat to break with the Roosevelt administration.

Moffett twice has blasted Interior Secretary Ickes for his oil manipulations. He has demanded that the secretary disclose the "political considerations" motivating the New Deal's cry of gas and oil shortages, and has urged Ickes' removal from office and possible impeachment for "waste and extravagance."

Recalls 1941 Oil Offer.

Turning his verbal barrage on Secretary Knox, Moffett, who formerly was vice president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, said he was baffled by the navy secretary's recent defense of the proposed pipe line between Saudi Arabia and the Mediterranean.

"I was turned down by Secretary Knox," Moffett said in an interview at his home, "on an offer in 1941 to supply the navy with virtually an unlimited amount of oil from the same region. The offer was made in a memorandum submitted to President Roosevelt, who referred me to Secretary Knox.

"The price was way below the 25 per cent under market mentioned by Secretary Ickes as the price which the government is to buy oil from the proposed pipe line.

No Pipe Line Needed.

"And instead of involving the expenditure of an estimated 130 to 165 million dollars of taxpayers' money on a pipe line in territory of political controversy, my suggestion called for loading the oil on ships directly and without delay at Persian gulf docks with water deep enough to accommodate battleships."

At the time Moffett wrote the memorandum, he related, he was chairman of the board of the Bahrein Petroleum company and of the Texas Oil company. He was then under a retainer salary with Standard of California and the Texas company. These two firms own the California-Texas and Bahrein companies, which, in turn, control on a 50-50 basis the Arabian and Bahrein oil rights now under discussion.

Moffett said he never received an official explanation of why his offer of 1941 was laid aside.

MUSICIANS PIN 'UNFAIR' LABEL ON HIGH SCHOOL

Libertyville Township High school, the school band, and the school band director, L. Marvin Wilkins, have been placed on the unfair list by the Federation of Waukegan Musicians, an AFL affiliate, it was disclosed yesterday.

The action was taken, George W. Pritchard, union secretary, advised Henry E. Gaddis, president of the board of education, as the result of published reports that the high school band would replace the Libertyville municipal band in village square concerts this summer.

In a letter to Pritchard, Gaddis denied that the high school band would replace the municipal band, altho he said individual members of the high school band might play as members of the municipal band.

"The whole thing is a tempest in a teapot," said Arthur E. Suter, village president.

See the World Thru Eyes of an Adventurer

BY MAUREEN DALY.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

on the SOLID side

You may be smart and smooth and sharp as a tack, but that doesn't make much difference these days. You may have a yen to hit the road and find yourself some new horizons, but right now you can't go where you want to go, see what you want to see, or even do everything you want to do. The war has put thumbs down on winning friends and seeing new places outside the realm of your own back yard. But what you can't do yourself you can read about—and second hand experience is better than none.

You may be in the mood to give travel and adventure the once over lightly, but it just isn't stacked that way. You may never spend the night in the Taj Mahal or paddle up the Nile in a flat bottomed boat, but the verbal experiences of Adventurer Richard Halliburton are so realistic you have to be careful not to get your feet wet while you read!

Since you can't get around much, why not arrange an introduction to a good biographer and put such big time operators as John Barrymore, G. K. Chesterton, George Washington Carver, or Maude Adams on your pal-joey list? Maybe, too, you'd like to see a little of your own country before you get any older. You can't get the real merchandise, but you can still get your picture post cards in print; see the country thru such local colorists as August Derleth, Jesse Stuart, Damon Runyon, and Bret Harte. What you can't see or do yourself right now you can always read about.

Make it a habit to read at least one book a week. Leave it near your favorite chair or wherever it will be handy for that last half hour before calling it a day. You want to keep on the ball, and there is no better way to stock up on solid information, star dusted day dreams, and all-around education than thru reading. Try keeping a list of the books you've read in a small notebook, listing each with your own comments on why you didn't like it or why you liked it and why you'd enjoy a few more of the same. A good book is like a good date—it was so much fun you couldn't forget it if you wanted to.

Children Often Outgrow Some Poor Traits

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: Bobby was such a good baby. He ate, slept, and played, and was the delight of our lives, but like all children he's beginning to grow up; to develop a will of his own [and it's quite a will, I might add], so I'm hopeful that you may be able to give me some pointers on how to know just when to restrain and when to let nature take its course . . ." writes a thoughtful young mother.

This is quite a tall order and I'm afraid, unless I was on hand every minute, I couldn't give any specific formula for handling the various situations which are bound to arise in the everyday living with this small boy.

I can say, however, that as we see our baby grow into the small child, and then into the big boy or girl, and at last into adolescence, we are constantly confronted by behavior that troubles us, behavior which, in addition, we frequently believe may spell disaster for our child. And so we try at once when each bad habit appears to check or change it. We act as if we thought it was entirely within our power to remodel our child, and make him well nigh perfect.

But this is not within our power. We have much power—but we also have factors to deal with that have a power of their own. Among them are heredity, certain powerful natural impulses, and circumstances over which you often do not have complete control.

Parents can be intelligent, loving, and thoughtful. They can recognize behavior which is a phase and not take it too much to heart. They can do their best, and then have faith that their child will work out of much that they consider not quite up to their adult idea of perfection. For children do work out of so many things. It's such a comforting thought that I feel I should repeat it again and again to troubled parents.

But it's a thought that isn't likely to occur to the young or inexperienced mother. It's only the experienced mother who can see, or say convincingly to you, that children outgrow many, many worrying behavior difficulties.

But there is behavior which we should handle with real skill and which may even then baffle us. Stubbornness, irresponsibility, heedlessness, dawdling, dislike of chores, sudden or violent temper are a few; it may take years before a child's good sense and a certain maturity will bring him thru them, or before some subtle change helps to clear up such troubling behavior.

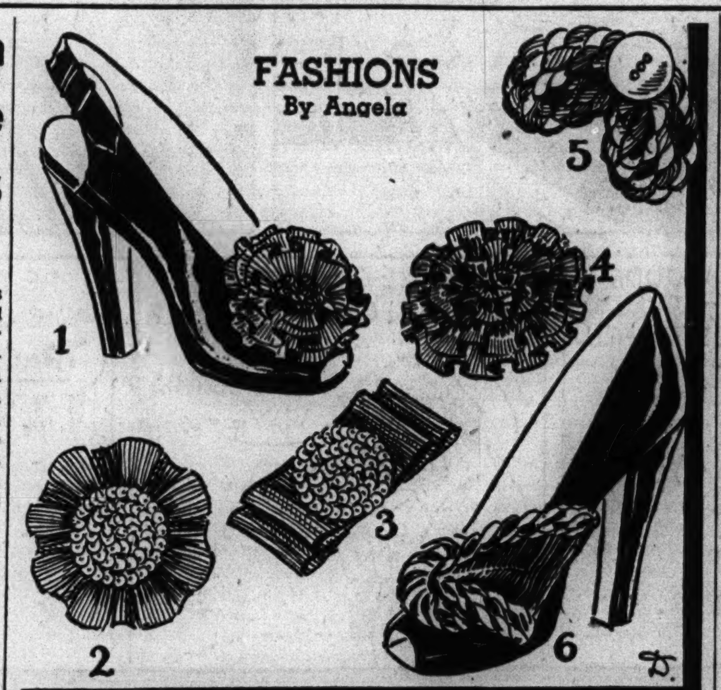
FASHIONS
By Angela



Since present day shoe wardrobes are limited, it is an ingenious woman who will vary her shoe scene with a change of bows. When parting with a precious coupon for a new spring pump, a wise buyer favors a neat leather model with either closed or open back as a basic shoe. To this may be added as many bow changes as there are hours in a day, inasmuch as the bows are designed to suit every occasion and may be found in a wide range of styles and colors.

1. Black grosgrain ribbon rosettes adopt a jaunty air by joining forces with sequins. The bow is of shirred grosgrain trimmed with tiny red sequined flowers, accented with chalk white centers. This same cocarde offers the flowers in other colors. All sets sell for $1 pair.

2. The box plaited rosette is created of black grosgrain and decorated with tiny sequin circles in a variety of colors.

3. Another treatment of bows featuring grosgrain ribbon is the flat semi-tailored model, which uses a flat sequin circle in direct contrast to rich black. Turquoise, red, and yellow are the colors in which these sets are available.

4. Another rosette is an unusual combination with fringe. Alternating rows of fringe in every conceivable color combine with black grosgrain.

5. Multicolored raffia is a new complement to spring pumps. Flat braided bows, trimmed with a bright wooden button, fit snugly into the throat of the shoe and may be worn with any colored pump.

6. A strikingly unusual falange bow again combines grosgrain and multicolored raffia. This half bow is set in a raffia semi-circle which clamps on the slipper.

Propose New Aid to Enlist Women for War Industry

To facilitate recruiting women and girls for essential jobs, the establishment of job clearing houses in each of Chicago's 75 communities and thruout cities and towns in Illinois was recommended yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Women's Executive committee in the Merchants and Manufacturers club.

Anne V. Zinser, chairman, stated, "It is our feeling that the most effective way to rout unemployed employable women out of the home and into jobs to relieve the man power shortage in essential industries and to maintain and increase production and distribution of civilian necessities is to organize all local powers in each area of Chicago and thruout the state as clearing houses . . . with the emphasis on the availability of jobs in the immediate area."

Representatives of all women's organizations will be asked to pledge their memberships' coöperation in a house-to-house campaign to urge women to accept employment, even on a part-time basis. These representatives will make plans at a luncheon mass meeting on April 20.

Zion Church's Passion Play to Open Easter

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The opening performance of the Passion Play under the auspices of the Christian Catholic church, Zion, will take place Easter day at 3 p. m. The performance will be repeated at the same hour every Sunday thru June 25 under the direction of Elder Jabez Taylor.

In depicting the final scenes of the Master's earthly life from the Sermon on the Mount to the Ascension the utterances of the Christus are directly scriptural, and where the scenario requires continuity the author has adhered to biblical style. Furthermore, the scenes are interpreted in line with the latest historical scholarship which has definitely established that the clique headed by Annas and Caiaphas, rather than the Jewish people, was responsible for the Saviour's crucifixion.

The Passion Play endeavors to emphasize the fact that responsibility for Christ's death does not rest on the Jewish nation alone, but upon the world as represented by Pontius Pilate. Nowhere in the production is it lost sight of that Christ was a Jew and that the Christianity stems from Hebrew tradition.

"The King of Kings," a film depicting the life of Christ, produced in 1927 by Cecil B. de Mille with H. B. Warner in the title role, is being shown for the sixth successive year in 29 city churches by the Rev. John M. Funston, retired Methodist minister of the Rock River conference.

Last year more than 12,000 people in 25 churches in this conference viewed this film which is made available thru a committee of 125 ministers and prominent laymen in 36 states headed by Dr. Ralph W. Sockman as national chairman. Showings will take place Sunday night at Irving Park Methodist church, Grace st. and N. Keeler av., and Joyce Methodist church, 3900 N. Seeley av.

With a trumpet fanfare at 6:20 a. m., April 9, the 12th annual Easter sunrise service will be announced in Soldiers' field. Since its inauguration in connection with A Century of Progress this service has been attended by more than 400,000 people and is now the city's largest Protestant service.

Dr. Martin R. De Haan of Grand Rapids, Mich., will deliver the sermon, the song leader will be Clarence Jones of Ecuador, and Vergil G. Gerber, student at the Northern Baptist seminary, will be organist.

The annual Passion Sunday service of North Austin Evangelical Lutheran church, the Rev. F. W. Otterbein, pastor, will be held at 11 a. m. Sunday at the Moody Memorial church, North av. and Clark st. The service this year honors members of the congregation with the United States forces and the colors will be posted and furled by the Melin-Romer post of the American Legion.

The liturgy will be read by the Rev. H. R. Allen and music will be sung by a choir of 250 directed by Robert Bowlus, choirmaster of North Austin church, with Mrs. Bowlus at the organ. The Rev. Armin G. Weng, president of the Illinois synod of the United Lutheran church, will present the synodical greeting.

Mystery Party Keeps Guests Busy Guessing

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVER since anonymous invitations to a dinner-dance tomorrow night at the House on the Roof at the Hotel Sherman were received, the invited guests have been buzzing over who is giving the party and who is going. Suspicious over a possible "promotional" aspect to the affair, invited guests bombarded the hotel management with questions, and its only reply, keeping the confidence of the hosts, is that a near north side couple is entertaining.

Purple bordered invitations from the "Duke," requesting one's presence to meet the "Duchess," were received by about 25 couples. Some of those who will be getting out their evening clothes for the mysterious party are the Cyrus G. Hills, Lt. and Mrs. Gardner Brown, Mrs. John D. Ames, whose husband is away with the army; the Thomas Underwoods [she returns today from the south], the Dudley F. Jessopps, the Otto C. Madleners, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Woods Jr., the C. Benson Dushanes, Philip Maher, the Solomon B. Smiths, the Theodore S. Garys, the Paget K. Cadys, the junior John P. Wilsons, the Walter Webb Crawfords, the Louis C. Sudlers, Mr. and Mrs. W. Press Hodgkins, and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Rogers. Whether one of the above mentioned couples will be host or hostess, or whether it will be yet another couple, still is a well guarded secret.

On the Calendar.

The next few weeks will be busy ones for members of the Chicago Junior league. The annual party of the arts committee, always one of the pleasantest events in the league year, will be held Wednesday, April 19, at the Casino, and will be a sherry party, with Lilly Daché as the special guest. Proceeds from the gathering will go to the league's service men's entertainment fund.

These arts parties formerly were given to exhibit work of the league's talented members, but with the coming of war and league members' increased volunteer work, the exhibitions were given up along with the league's own Children's theater productions. Last year's art party was an exhibition of china in a loop store.

The league's annual meeting will be a luncheon Easter Monday at the Woman's Athletic club. During the week before Easter, on the 6th, the transfer committee will present a fashion show in the league rooms, to show the results of the weekly sewing classes transfer members organized. The items that will be presented range from baby clothes to lamp shades, and following the show the transfers and their guests will be luncheon guests of Mrs. E. Franklin Motch, Mrs. Morton Evans, Mrs. C. Baxter Jones Jr., Mrs. Malcolm R. Sutherland Jr., Mrs. John K. Stevenson, and Mrs. Audley Wasson.

Mrs. Lee Fetcher heads the arts committee, which for many years has provided season symphony tickets to 19 children. Last year the committee gave two parties at U. S. O. centers, and it has given two others recently.

Engagement News.

Miss Kritzer, a graduate of Vassar college, is doing war work in New York, where she also is serving as a volunteer Red Cross nurses' aid. Ensign Seaman attended the Phillips Exeter academy and Yale university, at which he was a member of St. Anthony hall. He now is on active duty in the Pacific.

Mary Adams Will Become Bride Today

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

One of the prettiest and simplest of the early spring weddings will be that of Miss Mary Seymour Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams Jr., to Lt. [j.g.] George B. Young, son of Mrs. Karl Young and the late Prof. Young of New Haven, Conn., at 4:30 p. m. today in the chapel of St. James Episcopal church. Only a few relatives and a handful of young people will hear the Rev. Duncan Browne read the service, and a slightly larger reception will follow in the Fountain room of the Casino.

For something old the bride is wearing heirloom lace that belonged to her great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Lyman Blair. Her attendants will be her cousin, Mrs. Potter Hessler Carroll, the former Grace Shumway, as matron of honor, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Adams III., and Mrs. Gerald V. Hollins Jr. as bridesmaids. Another cousin, Mrs. Anthony Ryerson, is unable to be among the attendants as she is in the west with her husband, who is about to go overseas with the army air forces.

William France Anderson Jr. will be best man, and ushering will be Lt. Carroll and Lt. John Elliott. Here for the wedding are the bridegroom's mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Young Jr., and his cousin, Mrs. William C. Noland, and the bride's great-uncle, Lyman Blair of Greenville, Me.

Lt. Young and his bride will live in Washington, D. C. Their home after the war may be in New York, for Lt. Young, who attended school in Kent, England, and Yale university, is on leave of absence from Columbia university, at which he was a faculty member.

Woman—the Enigma.

The current Advertising Age quotes two contradictory surveys on post-war jobs sought by women. One, a nation-wide survey conducted by a labor and public relations counselor, estimates that 63 per cent of the women working in industry today plan to return to their pre-war occupations when the war is over. The other 37 per cent are divided into three groups: 19 per cent who will not keep or want to keep their war time jobs if by doing so they prevent a service man from getting a job; 12 per cent who aren't sure just what they'll do once the war is over, and 6 per cent who intend to hold their jobs.

This study, representing the intentions of 50,000 employed women, is at variance with that of the women's advisory committee of the war man power commission which recently reported: "All evidence so far tends to show that a relatively small proportion of women now at work expect to withdraw after the war." A life insurance company poll shows two of every three women plan to keep post-war jobs. Seventy-one per cent want jobs; 17 per cent will return to their homes; 10 per cent plan to be married, and 2 per cent plan to go back to school. About 70 per cent of the married women, in this life insurance poll, are hankering for post-war jobs.

All of which proves only one thing: That men still await a woman's "yes" or "no"—while the lady, as customary, hasn't made up her mind!

Maturity.

For "Takealetter Miss Brown": My direct superior in my job is a woman 39 years old who has continuously preserved herself against this age bracket. She is frank about her age and rightly so considering what she has to offer: Graciousness, alertness, up to date viewpoints, shrewd business ability, and a lovely appearance. Her secret is obvious: Young thinking . . . modern thinking . . . an open mind. Age is a frame of mind and if a woman has accepted a particular stance under one year's title, how can she help but feel despondent? H. H.

White Collar Mother.

It doesn't seem so long ago
Since he wore shoes size double-o;
It wasn't very long till he
Was wearing sizes, two, then three;
Then came the day when number four
Didn't fit him any more,
But he kept growing tall and straight,
Till soon he needed [goodness!] eight!
A sailor now, how proud I am
B. DRAGIN.

Feminine Firsts.

The only woman textile inspector in Chicago, working for the army medical purchasing office, is Adeline Sutton. . . . New York City's first woman ambulance surgeon was Dr. Emily Barringer, known as "the beautiful girl on the Bowery run" when that was her route. . . . The first woman purchasing agent for a service station I've heard about is Sylvia Affleck who has been highly successful in a man's job in chivalry loving Virginia. . . . The world's champion woman welder for 1943 was Vera Anderson.

Forecast Wide Post-War Use for Dried Milk

BY MARY MEADE.

Perhaps the milkman will have to find himself a new job when the war is over, if homemakers learn the conveniences of cooking with whole powdered milk, a product which at present is being reserved almost entirely for war and lend-lease purposes.

A small supply of powdered milk is available for civilian use now, under the brand names of the manufacturer. There is little demand for it because at present it is more expensive to use than fluid milk and because women have not used it enough to appreciate its possibilities. Most of the sales now are to persons on special diets, who need a rich supply of milk proteins, vitamins, and minerals. If the price is lower after the war, as seems likely, women will probably become enthusiastic about powdered whole milk.

To re-create fluid milk, one mixes 4 tablespoons of the creamy white powder with 8 ounces [standard measuring cup or glass] of cold water. A pound of dried milk will make a gallon of fluid milk. A check of stores selling powdered whole milk reveals that a pound sells for about 75 cents.

Powdered milk keeps fresh without refrigeration almost indefinitely and requires little storage space. The dehydration process is carefully controled so that the milk loses none of its nutritive properties. It is pure, wholesome milk of high quality, from which nothing except the water has been removed.

The harried mother who must fight with her child at every meal to get that quart-a-day into him probably will appreciate the value of powdered milk most of all. She will be able to reinforce her child's diet with milk solids merely by stirring the powder into his food just before he eats it. The advantage will be a concentration of food value in little bulk.

When the family takes the car for a post-war vacation trip, with an unlimited supply of gasoline available, powdered milk will come in handy. Its known purity and standard quality will make it a safer, more dependable food than fluid milk which may be encountered in travels away from home. War wives, traveling now with small children, may find powdered milk a great comfort—if they can obtain it.

Right now powdered milk is helping keep our fighting men healthy and strong and is saving the lives of many undernourished and starving people overseas. Its possibilities as a food and as a cooking ingredient are almost limitless. When the war is won, American civilians probably will have an opportunity to buy all the milk powder they want. And they doubtless will want more than they do now.

Women in War Work

Uncle Sam's need for 500 additional SPARS from the Chicago area was dramatized at a SPAR recruiting drive tea yesterday by Robert Canavan, 22, coast guard hero whose exploits have been recorded in the books, "Guadalcanal Diary," "These Men Shall Never Die," and "The First Fleet." The tea was given in the Morrison hotel bungalow.

Fifty representative clubwomen heard Canavan, whose home is at 4514 Lake Park av., recount his experiences after diving from a patrol boat which was being strafed by a Jap cruiser at Guadalcanal. At first he played dead and then swam for 19 hours to reach Florida Island, 13 miles away. After being rescued he stowed away on a plane to rejoin his comrades rather than be shipped back to a base hospital.

Mrs. Walter M. Rennie, chairman of the women's division of Chicago's SPAR drive, outlined local recruiting plans. Other speakers were Miss Dorothy Dohrman, co-chairman of the drive; Barnet Hodes, SPAR drive secretary; Frank Loomis, administration chairman; SPAR Lt. [j. g.] Mary K. Daly, and Lt. James J. Kenny of the coast guard. Willard Rutzen, representing the hotel committee for the SPAR drive, was in charge of the tea.

Women, accustomed now to the satisfaction of performing tasks vital to the life and industry of the nation, may regard the post-war period with mingled feelings. After the first thankfulness of a return to peace, there will be the question of post-war employment. To those women who will want to go on thinking of work in terms of heavy industry, the United States department of labor has issued a new bulletin suggesting the field of steel mill laboratories.

In a statement of findings from 41 steel mills, the bureau reports: "While all the major divisions of steel making have women employes, it seems true that the more closely a job is associated with the handling of basic raw materials, the less suitable the job is deemed for women.

"The ore docks, receiving and storage yards, coke and by-product plants, blast and steel furnaces . . . offer an extremely limited field for the employment of women. . . . In the rolling mills there are more possibilities of employing women, . . . still more in the fabricating and finishing divisions. The laboratories, the maintenance, service and clerical divisions . . . probably offer the most opportunities . . ."

Women first began working in the laboratories and plant offices in 1942, and by the end the year, in a few mills, women were working on the cranes. Most steel mills practice the equal pay policy for women, according to the bureau, but some do give women lower beginning pay than that for inexperienced men on jobs traditionally women's.

Last week, the American Women's Voluntary Services announced a special mother's day project—taking pictures free of service men and women, placing the portraits and negatives in folders, and mailing them to the individual homes. Business has been rushing, and the AWVS photographers have been crowded right out of their original quarters in the Bismarck inn to the main lobby of the Bismarck hotel. The project also has won coöperation in service headquarters and centers thruout the city and suburbs. Mrs. Maximilian Kern, war photography chairman of AWVS, and Mrs. Wililam Wolf, public relations chairman, are in charge of arrangements for this project.

Picture Book Attire Is Ready for Very Young

BY REA SEEGER.

If your toddlers pose clothes problems, try the specialty shop filled with picture book frocks, suits, sweaters, blouses, and jackets—all expressly made for feminine whiffets aged 2 to 6. Or, if your little girls balk at anything except play clothes of masculine cut and casualness, tempt their budding vanity with colorful prints in the shape and size of microscopic aprons with bibs, the kind that button down the rear, with tiny guimpe dresses of vivid prints teamed with small white cotton blouses, on with sweaters trimmed with appliqued multicolored yarn flowers and heart motifs.

The collection of blouses, all of cotton and all fashioned in the correct, artless manner to team with these peasant prints, is sensational. They come in small sizes as well as 14 to 18 sizes. Some have the cotton cord drawstring high, round necklines, others have frills of narrow eyelet embroidery like the paper frills of a candy box or old fashioned valentine.

Cotton braid is used lavishly on both the cotton dresses and the snow white cotton blouses; so is coarse hand made lace for edgings on short or long puffed sleeves. Amusing printed patterns include a dachshund, circus people, and all the nursery book animals in clear, strong colors against such bright shades as grass green, cinnamon, candy pink, and China blue.

INSTALMENT XVII.

THE RELUCTANT ROMANTICIST.

From California Jack continued on his tour with "Justice." Then, after the Galsworthy play had closed, Barrymore returned to New York. Sheldon now induced Jack to undertake his first straight romantic role, that of Peter Ibbetson.

The story of the "Peter Ibbetson" mission is one of faith, a white-robed quality of spirit that of late has been disowned. Several men and women joined to make "Peter Ibbetson" one of the theater's outstanding coöperatives. The person who first took up its futherance was an English actress, Constance Collier.

The George du Maurier novel, published in 1891, had been extremely popular. Yet it was not dramatized until some years afterward, and then not actually produced until war had come to the wide world.

The New York premiere of "Peter Ibbetson" was a night of excitements and mishaps. The audience at the Republic theater became spontaneously alive and sympathetic as soon as the curtain ascended. The spiritual as well as the emotional appeal of the play took hold of the men and women out front. Everyone began sniffling or crying, the ushers even.

Jack as Peter and Miss Collier as the Duchess of Towers seemed the greatest lovers since Romeo and Juliet. So poignantly actual did the play become that even an exasperating mix-up of ropes, pulleys, and other rigging failed to spoil the illusion.

Peter and the Duchess walked hand-in-hand toward the steps of an opera house, the music of "Mignon" coming over their pantomime. Then, to the amazement of the actors, the entire opera house began to topple. The scenery enveloped the romantic pair with canvas and dust! It became necessary to lower the curtain. The scene was rehung, and the beginning of the act repeated.

Barrymore's language, Miss Collier remembers, was "something awful." While his valet was dusting him, the actor revived oaths and threats unused since cutthroats sailed the Spanish Main. Yet, during this scene-setting intrusion, no one the other side of the curtain stirred. The audience sat like lotus-eaters, happy and anaesthetized.

The play became a great success, and its actors were acclaimed.

* * *

Among the numerous reports on John Barrymore's provocative medical history, there is to be found the following excerpt:

"Since the age of fourteen he has been more or less a chronic drinker. There was one period when he completely abstained from liquor for two years. Then, after taking one drink, he went back to his former habits again. . . ."

The two year period of sobriety occurred during the "Peter Ibbetson" time. Jack suddenly put aside the bottle but gave no reasons for so doing. Nor did he make a ceremony of the abstention.

Miss Collier is one of three authorities to vouch for Jack's sobriety during the "Ibbetson" period. She maintains that even the rigors of the road, and with Jack growing more and more restless in his romantic part, did not cause him to drink. He became increasingly irritable, petulant, and unreasonably arrogant. Yet he did not resort to the flask.

On the opening night at Montreal something went wrong with a spotlight. Instead of illuminating the faces of Peter and the Duchess of Towers, it played upon their feet! Jack abruptly left Miss Collier during the love scene. There was a thud. He had knocked down the manipulator of the limelight. Then he returned to the stage in time to pick up his next cue and continue the scene.

Barrymore was tiring of his part. That was his destiny, to tire of parts.

"We got as far as Chicago," Constance Collier recalls. "Jack came into my dressing room to announce restrainedly, 'I just can't go on.' It was a great, devastating blow to me, yet I understood. He was mentally and physically tired. He was strung up to a point where he couldn't go on. It is sad to think that such an outstanding success as Peter Ibbetson was suddenly taken away from us. Yet it really remained with me in spirit for always."

Barrymore, in October of 1917, found sanctuary on the top floor of a century old house off Washington square. He chanced upon these garret quarters during the latter part of the "Peter Ibbetson" period. He began at once to transform the long unoccupied attic into a studio which he called "the Alchemist's Corner." In providing atmosphere for this abode, he evidenced his last sustained expression of medievalism.

He admitted no women callers during his first two years of residence. It was a place of solitude. He gave no parties. In this quiet environment Barrymore entertained few men other than Lionel and Edward Sheldon.

He permitted letters to accumulate a week at a time. He never opened any of them. Some of these were bills, but they suffered the same consequence as their perfumed companions. Each Sunday afternoon Barrymore would appear on the mahogany stairway with wastebaskets of unopened mail. He would go to the basement, open the furnace, throw into it the heart messages and the duns, then either return to his Alchemist's Corner or stroll in Washington square.

* * *

I sat in Arthur Hopkins' managerial office at the Plymouth theater examining old pictures of Jack and inquiring into his promptbooks. Then Arthur and I went outside to the balcony to look down upon the stage where Barrymore had played "Redemption" 25 years before. Here also he had appeared in "The Jest" and "Richard III."

Somewhere in this balcony in the long ago, a man suddenly had burst out laughing during Barrymore's playing of "Richard III." You may recall that Scene IV., Act V., opens on Bosworth field, with Catesby's speech to Norfolk, suggesting rescue after Richard has been unhorsed in action. Then there is an alarm, and Richard clanks on stage with his distraught cry: "A horse! A horse! My kingdom for a horse!"

On this particular night Barrymore hardly had delivered his penetrating vocals regarding the need of a charger than some gentleman in the balcony emitted the loudest guffaw since the days of Rabelais.

Barrymore, encased in black armor, raised his sword toward the balcony and, without departing one beat from the iambic pentameter of the Bard, called out: "Make haste, and saddle yonder braying ass!"

Armour Ideas Make Most of Meat

Mmmm...What Flavor! And Takes so Little Meat

The next time you are swapping "meat extender" recipes with your best friend, pass this new one from Armour Kitchens along to her. And be sure to use it at your house right away. Armour's Star Ham Balls taste so good, they'll be a household favorite meal!

To serve four persons, crush enough corn flakes to fill 1 cup. Mix with 1 tablespoon brown sugar and ¼ teaspoon cloves. Add ½ cup evaporated milk, 1 Cloverbloom egg, ¼ lb. ground lean pork and 1 lb. ground Star Ham shank meat. (For the greatest taste enjoyment, specify Armour's Star when getting the ham. Star Ham is mellowed in fragrant hickory smoke and is always deliciously tender.)

Shape this mixture into 8 balls. Place balls in flat open baking pan and bake in the oven set at 350° F. for 40 minutes. Serve with any broiled fruit, such as peaches, oranges or pears.

Watch for another Star meat recipe from Armour Kitchens next week. These recipes are developed by food economists who specialize in meat.

A smooth, rich, creamy filling or a slightly tart lemon filling in a flaky crust, topped with swirls of meringue, has few equals in the dessert class. And piemakers are depending more and more on these one crust favorites to fill the bill while fresh fruits are still somewhat scarce.

A "weepy" meringue presents a sad sight, and many an otherwise perfect pie has been spoiled by its topping. So take care not to overbeat the egg whites. Beat the whites, salt, and flavoring [¼ teaspoon flavoring and ¼ teaspoon salt for 3 whites] to a stiff foam. Add sugar [2 tablespoons for each white] in one tablespoon portions, beating after each addition. Beat until sugar is dissolved and the mixture piles well, but not until dry. Spread meringue on pie, starting at edges and making sure that it is firmly attached to the crust to prevent wateriness. Then brown lightly in a moderate [350 degrees] oven. This procedure, if carefully followed, will produce a fluffy, tender, fine textured meringue.

To attain maximum volume, have the egg whites at room temperature before beating.

A little wine, rum, or brandy, a combination of vanilla and almond extracts, black walnut flavoring, or a drop or two of oil of peppermint may be substituted for vanilla in this basic cream pie filling.

Cream Pie.

Baked 9-inch pie shell
2 cups scalded milk
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons cornstarch
⅔ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs, beaten

Mix flour, cornstarch, sugar, and salt and add a little of the scalded milk. Return to remaining milk in the top of a double boiler, and cook over hot water until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Cover and cook 15 to 20 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Beat eggs, add a portion of the hot mixture to them, and stir vigorously. Turn into the double boiler and stir to blend. Cook and stir for 2 minutes longer. Cool slightly, add flavoring, and chill. Turn into baked pie shell and cover with meringue. Brown lightly in moderate oven. [The egg yolks alone may be used in this filling and the whites reserved for the meringue if desired.]

Variations of Cream Filling.

Chocolate: Add 2 squares chocolate to milk while scalding, and reduce flour to 2 tablespoons. Add 2 more tablespoons sugar to recipe.

Butterscotch: Substitute brown sugar for white and add 3 tablespoons butter or margarine to the filling when it is removed from heat.

Lemon Cream Pie.

Baked 8-inch pie shell
1 cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup cornstarch
2 cups hot milk
3 eggs, separated
⅓ cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Blend sugar, cornstarch, and salt. Add hot milk, gradually, stirring to keep the mixture smooth. Cook over hot water for 20 minutes, stirring frequently until the filling is thick. Beat the egg yolks and pour a little of the hot mixture over them, beating vigorously. Add yolks to the rest of the mixture and cook for 2 minutes longer, stirring vigorously. Remove from heat; add lemon juice, rind, and butter. Beat until smooth. Turn into cooled pie shell and cover with meringue made by beating egg whites with salt and flavoring until stiff and folding in 6 tablespoons sugar gradually. Brown meringue in a 350 degree oven. [For a very thick filling and high piled meringue use four eggs in the recipe.]

Watercress Makes This a Tasty Dish

Watercress contributes color and added vitamins to this dish: Saute ½ cup diced onion in 2 tablespoons fat. Add 1 cup tomato pulp, 1 teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, and cloves and cook for 3 minutes. Add 1 pound coarsely shredded cabbage and stems from 1 bunch watercress. [Cut the stems into ¼ inch lengths.] Cover and cook until cabbage is tender. Add coarsely chopped watercress, toss lightly with a fork, and serve immediately.

Pan Browned Potatoes.

Do You Make Bread or Rolls at Home? Booklet Tells How

It's an accomplishment to be able to turn out a really good loaf of bread and a batch of rolls, but there's no magic involved in the procedure, as many beginning cooks are inclined to believe. Follow a good bread or roll recipe which explains each step in detail, and results are bound to be good. Once the fundamentals of yeast dough making have been mastered, tempting coffee cakes, hot cross buns, and fancy rolls are easily made. The art of making quick bread is even simpler, and results will be perfect, provided a few basic rules are followed.

In Mary Meade's booklet, "Better Homemade Breads and Rolls," there is a collection of tested recipes for both basic and out of the ordinary breads, rolls, buns, and biscuits. Both the section on yeast breads and the one on quick breads devote space to the whys and wherefores of bread making. Temperatures used, rising periods, and kneading methods are carefully explained.

To order "Better Homemade Breads and Rolls" send 25 cents in stamps to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune, or pick up a copy at a Tribune public service office, 1 S. Dearborn st., or Tribune Tower lobby, for 20 cents.

Starchy Foods Require a Thinner White Sauce

When making white sauce for starchy foods, such as macaroni or potatoes, to be baked in a casserole, use the proportions of 2 tablespoons fat and 1 tablespoon flour to 1 cup liquid. This will make a thin sauce which allows for evaporation and extra thickening from the other starches.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 23.—Jennifer Jones, who's off to Reno, will not play "Laura." Gene Tierney, originally set for the part, plays it. William Carter, a war veteran, plays opposite Gene, and if Clifton Webb can finish "Blithe Spirit" in time he'll do the picture. His test was sensational. Darryl Zanuck's crazy about it. . . . Now, going back to the Jennifer Jones divorce: Before the release of "Song of Bernadette" she made a statement it was merely a separation from husband, Bob Walker, and that they had no intention of divorcing. That gave us a good laugh at the time. Since then we've learned quite a few things about Jennifer—nothing to her discredit, but very amusing. Seems she was not only very ambitious but so was her father ambitious for her. When she failed as an actress in New York, her father backed her in a stock company. In Oklahoma, where he runs a string of theaters, he got her a radio program, which gave her added experience. It's always intrigued me as to whether her father made the same kind of free deal with David Selznick. In one year she got "Song of Bernadette," a million dollars worth of publicity on being known as the happiest wife and mother, then the academy award for best actress. Now she's off for her divorce. Could any girl get more?

That's the Stuff.

Nunnally Johnson, one of our finest writers and producers, who gave us Gracie Fields and Monty Woolley in "Holy Matrimony," leaves for Washington tomorrow with Comdr. John Ford to offer his services to the war department. Nunnally says, "I'm a little old, but there must be something I can do. Writing pictures is a very nice occupation, but not important enough when I might be helping my country." . . . Warners was thrown into a tizzy when Uncle Sam paged Jack Carson and Dennis Morgan, also wanted another "look-see" at its big star, Errol Flynn. Ha, ha! . . . When Myrna Loy arrives for "Another Thin Man," she'll be met at the station by Bill Powell and Asta, their dog. . . . Tallulah Bankhead is recovering from a serious operation in New York. . . . Shirley Temple saw herself in "Since You Went Away" and liked Shirley.

And Now Turned Crooner.

Spring Byington, after doing practically everything on stage and screen, will warble in "Thrill of a Romance" with Esther Williams. . . . Once every war, Chuck Reisner writes a song. Last war it was "Goodbye Broadway, Hello France," now it's "G. I. Joe and Jane." Chuck's about to start directing Abbott and Costello at Metro. . . . The reason the "Keys of the Kingdom" set is closed is that too many girls leave their work to take a look at Gregory Peck. You won't blame them once you've seen him. . . . Victor Moore has been hired to inject some humor into the Kay Kyser musical at Columbia.

It's All Been Great Fun.

Rosalind Ivan joins Ethel Barrymore in "None but the Lonely Heart." Rosalind played Queen Margaret with John Barrymore in "Richard III." She was queen of Naples in "Madame Sans Gene" when Diana Barrymore was doing a bit in it. "Always royal," says she, "until I met up with Ethel, who humbled me. As Mrs. Watty in 'The Corn Is Green,' I could neither read nor write, and now in 'None But the Lonely Heart' I'm keeping a fish and chip shop, an occupation you could scarcely call regal."

It's Really Refreshing.

At Neil McCarthy's dinner for the Frank Cases I met Gus Guston, Swedish consul to Japan for 22 years. I wish Gus could tour the country and speak on his experiences in Japan and conditions in the South Pacific. He doesn't mince matters, nor is he afraid to face facts. Married to an American, he loves this country more than many who were born here. . . . I knew Monty Woolley wasn't off to Saratoga. He begins "Sunday Dinner for a Soldier" with newcomer Bobby Driscoll for Twentieth Century-Fox. . . . Judy Garland's aunt, Barbara Mertz—she's 18—was lunching with Judy at Metro, when along comes Joe Pasternak with a screen offer. Barbara said, "No thanks. I'm returning to the University of Tennessee to earn my degree in arts and sciences."

riage, March 4, of their daughter, Jean Marie, to Cadet Richard B. Fitzgerald of the army air forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Fitzgerald of Oak Park. Cadet Fitzgerald, who is stationed at Ellington field in Texas, and his bride were graduated from Loyola university.

Robert Thomas Williamson of the navy chaplain corps took place March 14 in the chapel of the Princeton Theological seminary, from which the bridegroom was graduated last year. Lt. Williamson is the son of Herbert Christiansen Williamson and the late Mrs. Hulda Olson Williamson of Oak Park.

The wedding took place in St. Paul's Lutheran church, with the Rev. Gerhard W. Grauer, pastor, officiating. Mr. Rex and his bride are at home in N. Dearborn pkwy.

Thru the Looking Glass

The earring rage that has been ripening for a couple of years seems to be in full bloom right now. Earbobs of every possible [and sometimes impossible] material, color, and shape are seeing the light of day on milady's shell pink lobes, and while the effect is for the most part definitely fetching, it sometimes seems as if a little more care might have been used in selecting ornaments that would be complimentary to the facial contour.

◆

The effect of any jewelry should be to enhance native charm and not to emphasize possible shortcomings. Pretty earrings certainly can do a lot to brighten up the face and can often help to camouflage defects in facial outline. That's why we think it's a little sad when, for instance, a woman with a round, moon-like face selects earrings that are great, fat rounds. There's nothing to break the full line and the face looms out in all its roundness where it might have been made to look slimmer with earrings that were more long than circular. And the woman with a long, thin face is just as apt to appear in something dangling and elongated and her sister with generous earlobes will often select an infinitestimal scrap of ornament that looks positively overwhelmed by the ear.

◆

We've learned much about styling the hair and applying makeup to do the most for our looks, and earrings can be used to the same good purpose. Select any ear ornament with care, and don't be swayed by color, material, or catchiness of design. Select it first of all with an eye to its harmony with facial contour and after that for other logical or illogical reasons.

LOUISE DOOLEY.

Stage Notes

Diana Barrymore will join her husband, Bramwell Fletcher, in the cast of "Rebecca," scheduled to open at the Selwyn April 17. Others in the cast are Florence Reed, Margaret Bannerman, Claude Horton, and Clarence Derwent, who also is the director. . . . "The Cherry Orchard" will not end its New York engagement when Eva Le Gallienne leaves the cast at the end of next week. Margaret Webster, its co-director, has decided to step in. . . . Columbia pictures just paid $350,000 for the rights to Ruth Gordon's comedy, "Over 21." . . . Canada Lee has been asked to revive "The Emperor Jones" next season, with Robert Edmond Jones as designer and director.

Szigeti Performs Prokofieff and Tartini Works Superbly

Concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Hans Lange conducting; Joseph Szigeti, violinist. Presented at Orchestra hall, Thursday evening, March 23, 1944, and scheduled for repetition Friday afternoon. The program:

Symphony No. 4, D major....J. C. Bach
Concerto for Violin, D minor...Tartini
Symphony, B flat major, No. 98..Haydn
"Three Shadows," poems for orchestra ....Saminsky
1. "Omen."
2. "A Poet."
3. "Grass," a dirge.
Concerto for Violin, No. 1, D major. .... Prokofieff

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Joseph Szigeti's playing of Prokofieff's D major concerto with Hans Lange and the Chicago Symphony orchestra at Orchestra hall last night was one of the most satisfying performances of the season, a superb projection of a work spun in spiderwebs of brilliance and demanding the most fastidious of flawless execution. Incredibly enough, this was only its second playing by the orchestra in its 30 years of existence, and alone it would have been enough to sell out the house. But Mr. Szigeti and Mr. Lange gave us an extra dividend. They dug out a high spirited Tartini Concerto in D minor from the 18th century archives and played it beautifully in Mr. Szigeti's own edition, with his sympathetic cadenzas.

The tall, narrow Hungarian, who holds his violin so curiously and looks so uncomfortable while playing such supple music, was as precisely the man for Prokofieff as for Tartini. The Prokofieff score is intensely lyrical, with an inner, sometimes almost hidden flow of melody as undercurrent to staccato embroideries in the most delicate filaments of tone. It is a throbbing, pulsating score, with the incessant movement of the humming bird. Its whole success depends on utter clarity and the balance between orchestra and violin. Last night's teamwork was of the highest caliber, and the performance was something to tuck away in the book to remember.

To keep Prokofieff company on a program otherwise devoted to 18th century music, Mr. Lange gave us the first Chicago performance of Lazare Saminsky's "Three Shadows," which he introduced with the New York Philharmonic about eight years ago. Taking its cue from the poet, Edwin Arlington Robinson, who suggested the bardic and prehistoric to the Russian composer, and with additional bows to Pitts Sanborn and to Carl Sandburg's "Grass," this is a score of umber hues and tenebrous textures, making peremptory demand for attention with a gong, and depending largely on percussions for its effects. It has a sense of suspense, some beautiful instrumentation, and a quality of imagery, but it fails to justify the demand of that opening gong.

The concert opened with the London Bach's Fourth Symphony, clearly and crisply played, and moved into Haydn's lovely Symphony in B Flat Major, which seemed last night like a mellow echo of the Schnabel feast of Mozart. This was no Haydn the jovial bore conjured by so many conductors, but Haydn the craftsman with a wealth of melody. The orchestra played with a light sureness of touch and a freshness of color that made the evening a pleasure.

Music Note

The Kansas City Philharmonic orchestra has reëngaged Efrem Kurtz as conductor for the next two seasons and will increase the number of concerts.

Episcopal Diocese Women to Have Day of Meditation

Gathering today at St. Chrysostom's church, 1424 N. Dearborn pkwy., the women of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago will observe a day of quiet meditation under the leadership of Bishop Wallace E. Conkling.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1944: By Ely Culbertson.]

All players, experts included, go to considerable lengths to prevent the dummy from ruffing their high cards with worthless trumps, and this, of course, usually is a sound idea. Strangely enough, however, it some times is better to ignore the ruffing potentialities of the dummy and to conduct the defense on a "marking time" basis.

West, dealer.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 spade	2 hearts	Double	3 clubs
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's three club bid was horrible, but let's skip the bidding.

West opened the diamond king and, when dummy appeared with the singleton, boldly shifted to the king and low trump. Thus declarer could ruff no diamonds—but he still did very well! East, after winning the second club lead, returned a diamond, and the result was that the defenders ended up with three tricks in diamonds and three in clubs, collecting a mere 300 point penalty.

Space does not allow an exhaustive analysis of the defensive possibilities in this deal, but a curious fact will be observed by any one taking the trouble to lay out the cards. It is just this: If West, giving full and due regard to the bidding, opens his top heart, and then, when declarer wins and returns the singleton diamond, the defenders make no effort to remove dummy's trumps, declarer will find himself in a worse position. In other words, even tho he is permitted to ruff two diamonds instead of none, he comes out on the short end of the trade. Try it out for yourself!

Educator Questions Validity of Schools' Accrediting System

There is need today of scientifically establishing the validity of some of the accreditation requirements which have been imposed on secondary schools, William E. McVey, president of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools, told delegates to the association's 49th annual meeting yesterday in the Palmer House.

"Under the present system it is possible for one of the best high schools to be refused accreditation because it does not meet just one of the objective standards," said Mr. McVey, who is superintendent of Thornton Township High school and Junior college in Harvey.

"The attention of accrediting associations has been given to the size of the schools and to class loads on pupils and teachers," Mr. McVey continued. "Investigations have made debatable the assumption that the small high school is universally less efficient than the larger school, or that pupil overload is a cause of failure."

WITNESS TELLS HOW LONERGAN BORROWED SUIT

First of Cafe Society Set Testifies at Trial.

New York, March 23 (AP).—A makeup compact, a dumbbell, a borrowed jacket and trousers, and a note were introduced in evidence today as the state attempted to forge the links in its case against Wayne Lonergan, 26, on trial for murder of his wife, Patricia.

John Harjes, scion of a banking family and the first cafe society figure to testify, smiled at Lonergan as he began to testify. He told Judge James Garrett Wallace and an all-male jury that he loaned his apartment to Lonergan the week-end of the slaying last October.

The dumbbell shown him, he said, was a mate of one that was missing from his apartment after Lonergan had spent the night there.

Clothes "Borrowed."

The coat and trousers were his, he testified, and had been borrowed by Lonergan from his wardrobe. The aircraftman in the note told him he had taken the clothing because he had lost his RCAF uniform "due to a slight case of mistaken trust."

Assistant District Atty. Jacob Grumet has contended that Lonergan used the makeup kit to cover scratches on his face; that he cut his bloodstained uniform to shreds following the slaying of his wife Oct. 24, stuffed it in a duffle bag, weighted it with one of Harjes' dumbbells, and threw it into the East river.

Harjes testified that Lonergan asked to be introduced to a girl to take out that Saturday night and was presented to Miss Jean Murphy, a former actress.

The witness said he went out of town for the week-end and did not see Lonergan after 6 p. m. that Saturday. Mrs. Lonergan's battered body was discovered in her own apartment the following day.

Question Lonergan "Normalcy."

The question of whether Lonergan was "a normal father" came up in the reading of a transcript taken in Toronto and read in court by Toronto Detective James Wall.

Answering a question as to the cause of the separation from his wife, Lonergan said: "It was general apathy on our part."

"What about the child?" he was asked. "Did Patricia exhibit the usual motherly attitude?"

"Not particularly," Lonergan answered.

"Were you a normal father?" was another question.

"I don't suppose so," he replied.

Preceding Harjes on the stand were Miss Elizabeth Black, governess for Lonergan's son; Marine Capt. Peter Elser, former Harvard football player, and Mrs. Lucille Burton, mother of the slain woman. Elser was on furlough at the time and now is on inactive duty.

Miss Black related how Capt. Elser broke in a door and discovered the body of Mrs. Lonergan in an ornate mahogany and bronze bed.

Miss Black said she and Mrs. Burton had been attempting to awaken Mrs. Lonergan, and that when Elser arrived, he partly broke down the bedroom door and removed it from its hinges.

Victim's Mother Testifies.

Mrs. Burton, called to the stand, calmly described how Elser broke in the door. Wearing a mink coat, black dress, and pearl necklace, she did not look at Lonergan. Her testimony was brief and there was no cross-examination.

Elser repeated much of Mrs. Burton's description of how he entered the death room. Then under cross-examination by Defense Counsel Edward W. Broderick, he told of meeting Mrs. Lonergan three nights previously at the Club El Morocco, where she was with Mario Enzo Gabbeline, 43, interior decorator.

SPEAKERS CITE IMPORTANCE OF WOMEN'S VOTES

The importance of the woman's Republican vote was emphasized by speakers at the ABC School of Politics yesterday in the Illinois room of the La Salle hotel. Mrs. Bertha Baur, national Republican committee woman, is chairman of the school, conducted by the Women's Republican club of Chicago.

Miss Matilda Fenberg, an attorney and a leader in achieving legislation permitting women to serve on juries in Illinois, pointed out that political circles expect 65 per cent of the vote in the approaching election will be cast by women. Women must make a choice in this election, Miss Fenberg, asserted, and must do things in the campaign.

A plea for a fact campaign by members of the school was urged by Mrs. Ralph E. Church, wife of the congressman from the 10th district. Mrs. Church said the American public does not believe half truths. They must be confronted with facts and figures, she stated.

Mrs. Mabel Reinecke of the election board predicted there soon will be a movement to abolish the electoral college. She declared that the abolition of the college would force the south to abandon its poll tax idea in order to have representation.

BEFORE YOU CAN SAY 3,024 POINTS, THEY DISAPPEAR

Three tubs of butter, each weighing 63 pounds, jounced off a truck at Polk and Loomis sts. yesterday. The driver, Robert Goldberg, employed by the Western United Dairy company, 1451 Grenshaw st., told police he missed the tubs when he stopped for a delivery. He turned back and saw a man lift the tubs into a truck and drive away. The butter was worth 3,024 ration points.

RADAR PLANTS READY TO HIRE 3,000 VETERANS

The city's 60-odd radar plants will hire and train 3,000 discharged war veterans as quickly as the ex-service men apply for jobs, E. W. Shepherd, vice chairman of the war emergency committee of the Radio-Radar Industries of Chicago, Inc., announced yesterday.

His committee, Shepherd said, has mapped a program in coöperation with the war man power commission to open up every job in the plants into which a discharged veteran may be trained or fitted, and to give all soldier and sailor applicants job priority ratings. The program, he said, is the first of its kind in any city and will be put into operation next week.

"On April 1 our net demand for new workers by our members will be 4,000," Shepherd said. "Later this will increase, as production schedules are stepped up."

The Chicago rent control office, in a review of its activities since it was opened July 1, 1942, said yesterday it had granted 22,940 petitions from landlords for permission to increase rents, while obtaining refunds of $287,258 in disposing of complaints filed by 28,886 tenants.

John F. McCarthy, director of the rent office, said the number of dwelling units on which rent increases had been allowed was much larger than the number of landlords involved, since many applications were for multiple-unit buildings.

He said 3,925 landlords had received permission to evict tenants, and 5,267 tenants obtained decreases in rent. In addition to refunds, landlords, mostly operators of rooming houses and hotels, contributed $63,406 to the United States treasury in cases where tenants could not be located to receive refunds.

Boy Kept Alive by Coast Guards' Blood Improving

Stephen Lee Felzer, 3, for whom 28 United States coast guards have been donating blood since Sept. 20 to keep the child alive, was reported yesterday to be "doing very well" at Michael Reese hospital, where he is a patient. Wednesday the child's illness was complicated by pneumonia, but his physician said the boy's temperature yesterday was normal and that the upper respiratory system was better. Stephen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Felzer, 639 South Shore dr., is suffering from a kidney lesion.

WINGS BEAT HAWKS, 4-1, SQUARE PLAY-OFF

DYKES PICKS WHITE SOX SQUAD FOR TIGER SERIES

24 PLAYERS ON LIST FOR TRIP TO EVANSVILLE

First Exhibition Game Tomorrow.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

French Lick, Ind., March 23—Twenty-four White Sox have been adjudged supple enough to participate in baseball games with the Detroit Tigers in Evansville, Ind., Saturday and Sunday, Manager Jim Dykes announced today.

The list did not include Outfielder Guy Curtright and First Baseman Hal Trosky, who arrived in camp today.

The trip to Evansville, 80 miles from here, is to be made in the bus on the regular Indianapolis-Evansville run tomorrow evening and it is deemed certain that some of the poor boys will have to stand all the way. Several may be out for weeks as a result of the jostling that is bound to attend the rush to get on the vehicle when it stops here. Journalists who are to make the trip expect to ride in the trunk rack, which is what they deserve.

Trainer Is Only Casualty.

The players who will brave the hazards of the overland journey are Pitchers Tony Annoreno, Charles Graumann, Orval Grove, Don Hanski, John Harvey, Ed Lopat, Bob Mistele, Floyd Speer, and Al Wittmer; Catchers Vince Castino, Tom Turner and Junior Thaxton; Infielders Grey Clarke, Cass Kwiet, Floyd Rightenberg, Leroy Schalk, Peter Sharp, Skeeter Webb and Don Yohe, and Outfielders Ed Carnett, Johnny Dickshot, Myril Hoag, Ralph Hodgin and Hal Qualman.

Tho the temperature was a bit sharper today than yesterday the Sox had another fine workout and Trainer Packy Schwartz announced all his patients in good shape, excepting himself. Packy was hit on the right shin by a ball from Tom Turner's bat and has been in great pain ever since.

Three Still Are Missing.

Manager Dykes and Chief Coach-Acting Traveling Secretary Muddy Ruel will be in Evansville to direct the Sox play against the Tigers while Hike Master Mule Haas and Tactician Bing Miller will remain here to see that the veterans don't become distracted on their exercise assignments.

The arrival of Trosky and Curtright today reduced the absentee list to Joe Haynes, the only holdout; Gordon Maltzberger, who has been excused till April 3, and Thurman Tucker, who is expected momentarily.

BASKET COACHES MEET TO DEBATE, SEE TOURNEYS

New York, March 23 (AP).—Attracted by two tournaments and the prospect of a good argument, some 60 or 70 college basketball coaches and an undetermined number of officials will gather h[illegible] this weekend.

The tournaments are the invitation event, which has reached the final stage with De Paul of Chicago and St. John's of Brooklyn due to meet Sunday, and the National Collegiate A. A. meet, which opens tomorrow with Dartmouth playing Catholic university and Ohio State facing Temple in the eastern semifinals.

The argument will concern possible changes in the game's rules at an executive committee meeting of the National Association of Basketball Coaches tomorrow thru Sunday and a meeting of the national basketball rules committee Monday and Tuesday.

WESTERN MEET TO OPEN.

Kansas City, Mo., March 23 (AP).—A youthful team from Utah and the experienced Iowa State quintet, cochampion of the Big Six, are expected to win their first round encounters in the national collegiate athletic association western basketball playoff tomorrow night.

The Utes play the more rugged University of Missouri Tigers in the opener at 8 p. m. with Pepperdine college of Los Angeles tackling Iowa State at 9:30.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, March 23.—The Yankees made E. Garland Braxton, the old left-hander, manager of their Norfolk farm in the Piedmont league just in time to prevent his turning to golf as a career. . . . Garland had signed as assistant pro at a South Carolina club when he received news of his appointment. . . . At 43, Braxton won 14 games and lost two for Norfolk last season and turned in the incredible earned run average of .74 per game. . . . Kid Williams, the former world bantamweight champion, is building ships. . . . When Eddie Rozmarynoski, Marquette university's varsity trainer, reports at Princeton Saturday for indoctrination as a junior lieutenant in the naval reserve, he will become the ninth member of the Hilltop athletic staff in service. . . . Maj. Arthur [Pete] Smith Jr. and Capt. Robert H. [Doc] Erskine, Marquette assistant football coaches on leave, have been sent overseas. . . . While Ward Cuff, New York Giant football star, is in the army, Mrs. Cuff is conducting a nursery home in a Milwaukee suburb. . . . Bill Evans, president of the Southern association, predicts that the manpower shortage in the majors will reduce the number of sudden tummyache and hangnail casualties by 50 per cent this season. . . . "Big league players have been coddled entirely too much in the last 20 years," opines Bill. "I've seen many of them come down with threatened appendicitis when they noticed a pitcher they couldn't hit warming up for the opposition. The next day they would be as good as new. Now, with rosters limited to perhaps 18 or 20 men, major managers are going to be tougher on the prima donnas." . . . A Pacific coast wisecracker insists there is nothing new about the Phils' new name—Blue Jays—except the Blue. . . . "Outside of their trades with the Chicago Cubs," he says, "the Phillies have been the jays of the big leagues for years."

Garland Braxton.

Billy Evans.

In explaining why Washington State would not have varsity track and baseball this spring, Earl V. Foster, graduate manager, said: "It is almost impossible, certainly inadvisable, to have teams traveling back and forth with the glut of war equipment." . . . State, however, had a basketball team, but that is a profitable sport. . . . When an eastern football coach, who shall be nameless here, attended a meeting of his fellows in Boston, he appeared as guest on a radio sports hour, without knowing until afterward that the sponsor was a brewery. . . . At a dinner later in the evening, wires of criticism from alumni and officials of the school began pouring in. . . . Finally, there was a curt note stating "we are prepared to accept your resignation immediately." . . . The poor coach didn't realize it was all a gag until he returned to school the next day.

Chicago Spring.

Today I saw green spikes above the ground,
And heard a robin in the city street;
Tomorrow I shall hear a roaring gust of sound
And feel some sleet.
It may be, too, the wind shall toss
A snowy blanket on our promised spring.
Winter grudgingly departs
As robins sing.

Wet snow may cling to barren bush and branch,
The air be tonic, fresh and cool and sweet,
And robin, hidden, lilt of buds to come
Here in our street.
Brave, flaming minstrel from a sunny clime,
You do not dread our drear and sodden lane.
Your song is twice as sweet
—H. K.

CUBS BOOK TWO SPRING GAMES AGAINST REDS

Play First Tuesday; 2d on April 5.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

French Lick, Ind., March 23.—Altho the spring conditioning of his Cubs hasn't quite passed out of the preliminary stage, Manager Jim Wilson is anxious to engage in formal competition. He has turned to his old pals, the Cincinnati Reds, who are training at near-by Bloomington, and has arranged a two game home and home series. The first will be played here next Tuesday, and the second in Bloomington April 5. Wilson appears well satisfied with what his ensemble has accomplished thus far despite weather hobbles.

The weather cut in again today, but not sufficiently to prevent the Cubs from continuing to show that they have no fears of fresh air poisoning. Showers during the night chased them back to the sheltered space around the horse barn for their morning exercises, but for the matinee section of their daily duties they were able to get around on their regular diamond with such conditioning items as batting practice and fly shagging.

Eight Dates with Sox.

Wilson now has rounded out an exhibition program that should prove sufficient for polishing off his entry prior to the launching of the pennant race. Altogether he'd have 14 dates on the Cubs' calendar, eight of them with the White Sox, who are so obliging that they don't object to using the training diamond made ready by the Cubs. One of the Sox-Cubs series will be a Red Cross benefit here April 6. This will be the third of that series, the first and second games being scheduled for March 29 on Freeman field and April 4 on George field.

Dominic Dallessandro, who hid out in his Reading, Pa., home because of salary difficulties and who showed up yesterday, launched his training program this morning. His trunk, which contained his baseball tools as well as his extra shirt, finally arrived. Even tho such outfielders as Bill Nicholson, Andy Pafko and the famed Lou Novikoff are not present, there are enough other flychasers present to keep Dallessandro uncomfortable about the prospects of something more satisfactory than bench employment this summer. Dallessandro also is wondering when Vice President Jim Gallagher will appear so that a formal contract signing can be staged.

Passeau Still on Plantation.

Some of the best parts of Wilson's prospective baseball vehicle continue to be absent. Claude Passeau is still on his southern tung tree plantation awaiting action by his draft board. Nicholson and Pafko, after holding out, promised to be present themselves this week-end. This is true of Len Merullo, who probably didn't hurry after reading pieces in the newspapers that Bill Schuster had the inside track on the shortstop job.

Wilson's two players on the ailing list rapidly are progressing toward physical perfection. Paul Derringer, who went from crutches to cane, and then no cane inside a 24 hour stretch, is moving around with only a slight limp. He suffered a sprained right ankle in the inaugural practice last Monday. The other invalid, Catcher Mickey Kreitner who was sent to the hospital because of threatened throat infection, may be released tomorrow.

CITY LEAGUE HAS NO TRACK SITE; SO, NO '44 MEET

Because of the inability to obtain an adequate place to hold its annual indoor track meet, the Chicago Public School league event will not be held this year, A. H. Pritzlaff, director of physical education, announced yesterday.

In previous years the University of Chicago was the scene of the meet, but the south side school's fieldhouse is now being used by the services.

ONE THE WINGS DIDN'T GET!

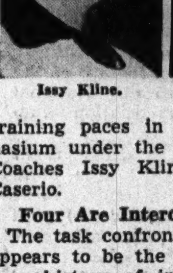
Chicago Golden Glovers Reach New York for Intercity Battles

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—Chicago's Golden Gloves team, in cheerful spirits despite the rainy gloom of Manhattan, arrived here this morning to begin final preparations for the 17th Intercity bouts with New York's best amateurs in Madison Square Garden next Monday night. The Chicagoans will go thru their training paces in Stillman's gymnasium under the direction of Co-Coaches Issy Kline and Freddie Caserio.



Issy Kline.

Four Are Intercity Veterans.

The task confronting the visitors appears to be the toughest in the long history of intercity competition, but the veterans on the squad are assuring their teammates that they can vanquish New York to bolster Chicago's record, which has found Father Dearborn winning nine matches and tying six in the 16 fought.

Of the double octet of western boxers who will climb thru the Garden's ropes Monday night there are four with previous experience in Intercity warfare. These are Corp. Levi Southall, Chicago's welterweight champion; Pvt. Ragon Kinney of Camp Callan, Cal.; Ray Standifer, the standup swinger from Cleveland, and little Matt Hammond, who now is wearing khaki at Camp Ellis, Ill.

New York Loses Palmer.

New York's battlers are recruited chiefly from the Atlantic seaboard, and are strengthened by the presence of Bantamweight Champion Bill Hernandez of Puerto Rico. The easterners are out to return to the form which saw them gain an 8 to 8 tie in the inaugural of the series in 1928, which they followed up with a convincing 11 to 5 victory over Chicago in 1929. The first seven years of the feud saw three victories for each team and the opening tie. Last March Chicago won, 14 to 2, most decisive advantage in the history of the series.

The New York Daily News, which sponsors the New York Golden Gloves tournaments, advised the visiting forces today that one of its best men, Welterweight Jimmy Palmer, has suffered an injured hand and will be unable to compete. This did not deter the Chicagoans from putting a little extra wallop into their workouts in Stillman's.

PARKER JUNIOR TEAM IS INTACT FOR TITLE GAME

Parker High school's City league champion junior basketball team will be intact for its city title game with Weber, winners of the Catholic league championship, unless a formal protest is filed against the players, Joseph B. Shine, principal of Parker, announced yesterday. In the event of a protest, he will accept a decision made by the board of control.

The statement was issued following reports that several players on the junior team would be declared ineligible because of participation in an outside tournament contrary to league rules.

Parker is scheduled to meet Weber in the first game of a double header April 8 in the Chicago Stadium for the city junior title. Proceeds will go to the Chicago Service Men's Centers. In the senior city title game Mount Carmel will defend its 1943 crown against South Shore High school of the City league.

Closed in 1939, Wimbledon reopened for play last year, after having been damaged by bombs in 1940.

LARKIN DISPOSES OF ALLIE STOLZ IN THREE ROUNDS

New York, March 23 (AP).—Tippy Larkin, Garfield, N. J., scored a technical knockout over Allie Stolz of Newark in the third round of an all-New Jersey 10 rounder tonight in Madison Square Garden. Larkin weighed 137, Stolz 134.

A crowd of 15,737 paid $61,585 to see the short but sensational scrap.

Stolz, after leading Larkin in the first two rounds, asked for it in the third and got it. As they came out, Stolz grinned at his taller, heavier foe and said: "Let's go!" With that he stuck his chin out, and Larkin smacked him on it, and that was the start of the finish.

KEPFORD HEADS FOR MUSKEGON

N. U. Star Credited with 16 Jap Planes.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, March 23 (AP).—The navy's skull and crossbones squadron, which shot down 154 enemy planes in 79 days and lost not a bomber in 60 escort missions, is on its way to the United States for leave.

Lt. Ira Kepford [top] and Lt. Comdr. Blackburn.

Modestly, casually, such heroes as its skipper, slight, blond Tommy Blackburn, and its leading ace, big red-faced Ira [Ike] Kepford, met the press today and talked about their outfit's exploits over Bougainville, New Britain and New Ireland.

Lt. [j. g.] Kepford, 24, of Muskegon, Mich., former Northwestern university blocking back and dental student, has 16 planes to his credit.

Destroy Jap Ships, Too.

Lt. Comdr. Blackburn, 31, of Chevy Chase, Md., with 11 planes to his credit, explained the squadron's record of never losing a bomber by simply saying, "That's what we were up there for."

Gets 4 on Armistice Day.

Kepford got four of his total last Armistice day, warding off Japanese planes which tried to attack a naval task force after its carrier planes had raided Rabaul. He blew up one enemy torpedo plane just as it was on the point of letting go its "fish" at Kepford's own carrier.

Kepford once stuck with his corsair after a wing caught fire. His mates told him the plane was burning and he had better bail out.

"What happened to you, Ike?" he was asked.

BY EDWARD PRELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., March 23.—The Blackhawks' fancy dreams of gliding into the Stanley cup finals by making a clean sweep of their series with the Detroit Red Wings ended abruptly tonight when the National Hockey league second placers, sharp and full of fight, evened the count with a 4 to 1 victory. This was a satisfactory development for the 12,757 jittery Detroit followers, who had sobbed loudly after the Hawks took the opener Tuesday night.

The Chicagoans were disappointed, of course, but far from discouraged. They accomplished the pre-series objective of Manager Paul Thompson, who had asked for at least an even break in the Olympia. Now the battle between the rivals moves to the Chicago Stadium for games Sunday and Tuesday nights.

Wings Are Masters Thruout.

There was nothing in the Hawks' play tonight to suggest they will continue their Stadium mastery over the Wings, who lost each of their five games during the regular season in the west side arena.

The Hawks scored their solitary goal off Connie Dion in the third period when Detroit had a 3 to 0 lead. They were on the defensive most of the evening. The famed Doug Bentley-Clint Smith-Bill Mosienko line was blanked, tho the Hawks set up a terrific din just before the close of the first period when Flash Hollett cut down Mosienko as he was skating in for a pointblank shot on Dion. Referee King Clancy gave Hollett a two minute penalty box sentence, while the Hawks screamed that the foul called for a penalty shot.

Protest Is Futile.

After the game, Bill Tobin, the Hawks' president, reported that Clint Smith, acting as the team captain, had visited the officials' dressing room at the end of the second period to inquire why Clancy had not awarded Mosienko a penalty shot. Smith, according to Tobin, said that the door was slammed in his face by Mervyn [Red] Dutton, the league president.

A free shot probably would have mattered little, because the Wings capitalized twice in the second period on their aggressiveness. After three minutes in this session, Syd Howe somewhat leisurely slapped the puck across the rink. All of a sudden, Joe Carveth, from 40 feet out, made a swipe at it and the Wings had their first point. Earlier, Goalie Mike Karakas had blocked Mud Bruneteau's close up smash.

Keep Right on Driving.

In the opening game, the Wings had laid back after getting a second period goal, much to their distress when the Hawks rallied in the third period for two scores. Tonight they made no such mistake. Rather, their success spurred them on. Joe Cooper of the Hawks was expelled for cross-checking at 17:40 and just as he prepared to jump back on the ice, Detroit struck again. Carveth shot a long one, which dropped dead near Karakas, Howe swung and the rubber bounced off Mush March's stick for a counter.

It was 3 to 0 only 21 seconds after the third period started. Karakas blocked a shot and the puck veered to his left where Don Grosso captured it. Bentley made a leap to block the shot, but it not only

O'NEILL SELECTS DETROIT LINEUP TO OPPOSE SOX

Roger Cramer Signs His Contract.

Roger Cramer.

Pitcher Johnny Gorsica, slated for a starting role in 1944, also came to terms today and will report at the training camp next week.

GROMEK TO PITCH.

Lafayette, Ind., March 23 (AP).—Steve Gromek is back on Lou Boudreau's list of pitchers—and happy about the whole thing.

The young right hander, who brought a 16 victory record from Baltimore to the Cleveland Indians, had been tried out in the infield. Boudreau, however, switched him definitely back to the pitching staff yesterday, after Gromek pitched one-hit ball in three innings of an intra-squad game.

DODGERS SIGN OSTERMUELLER.

Bear Mountain, N. Y., March 23 (AP). — Pitcher Fred Ostermueller signed his Brooklyn contract today, while word was received that Les Webber, last season the club's chief relief artist, was en route to camp from his California home.

VERN STEPHENS REPORTS.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., March 23 (AP).—Vernon Stephens, star shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, took his first workout today and apparently was in good condition after a winter in a California shipyard.

The Browns have 15 players in camp but still missing are George McQuinn, Ellis Clary, and Outfielders Milton Byrnes, Mike Kreevich, and Barney Lutz.

ROOKIE JOINS REDS.

Bloomington, Ind., March 23 (AP).—Roland Van Harrington, whose specialty of base stealing made him a star for Syracuse last year, today accepted a job with the Cincinnati Reds until the army calls him. He has been booked for limited military service. He is a second baseman.

GIANTS SIGN RUCKER.

Lakewood, N. J., March 23 (AP).—Johnny Rucker, center fielder, signed his 1944 New York Giant contract today and cut the club's list of unsatisfied players to six, of whom only Pitcher Ace Adams, who is asking for a 100 per cent salary increase, is regarded as a genuine holdout. Adams and Catcher Ernie Lombardi are en route here.

whizzed past him, but Karakas as well. Seconds later, Adam Brown was sent off for boarding Earl Siebert and this set the Hawks off on their most vigorous action. Mosienko came close with a shot and just before Brown's sentence expired, three Red Wings lay down in front of Dion to stop a Chicago charge.

Allen Averts Shutout.

At 11:30 Bentley broke into the clear, but Dion blocked his effort. On the next exchange the Hawks averted a shut out. Dion knocked out Cully Dahlstrom's slider, but George Allen cashed in on a clear shot as the opposite side of the goal was unprotected.

The Wings regained their three goal margin at 16:06. Howe passed the puck to Bruneteau in Detroit territory. The Hawks had been pressing down the rink and only Allen was in position to chase Bruneteau, who outsped him and drove an ankle high shot past Karakas.

PRO BASKETBALL SEMI-FINALS IN STADIUM TONIGHT

Semi-final games in the professional basketball tournament tonight in the Stadium will pair the Brooklyn Eagles with the Harlem Globetrotters at 8:15 and the Fort Wayne Zollners with the New York Rens in the second contest.

Brooklyn has been a general favorite with the crowd, but is expected to have its hands full with the hard fighting Trotters.

Allen-Bradley Five Loses to Denver in A. A. U. Meet

Denver, Colo., March 23 (AP).—The veteran Ambrose-Legions of Denver moved into the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament against Fort Warren by eliminating Milwaukee Allen-Bradley, 56 to 37, tonight. Never pressed, the Legion led 28 to 16 at the half and 43 to 25 at the third quarter point.

DAVE DANFORTH RETAINS SECRET OF SAILER PITCH

Baltimore, Md., March 23 (AP).—Whatever made Dave Danforth's southpaw pitches do dipsy-doodles still is a secret with the former American league star.

Dave Danforth.

Danforth, one-time Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns hurler and now a prosperous dentist, denies even today that there was anything queer about his sailer heaves—"just psychology and a good fast ball. There was nothing to disclose."

In the minors and majors, Danforth—a Texan who attended Baylor—was a storm center because of his ability to whiff batters. His colorful career was climaxed at Philadelphia in 1923 when Umpire George Moriarity ordered him to the showers after a ninth inning pitch that almost struck Wid Matthews, Athletics' batter.

Claimed He "Doctored" Ball.

"The Browns were leading, 3 to 1 and swarmed about the plate," Danforth related. "Moriarity had charged at Detroit a year earlier that I was a cheat and always would be. Finally, Johnny Tobin, our right fielder, grabbed the ball from Moriarity's pocket and all saw there was nothing wrong."

Moriarity, whose differences with Dave reached feud status, claimed Danforth was doctoring the ball and the hurler was suspended 10 days.

"Between games at Philadelphia, the St. Louis players signed a telegram to the late Ban Johnson, then league president, defending me, but it wasn't sent when Lee Fohl, our manager, wouldn't sign," said Danforth.

Rubbed Ball Long Time.

He claimed that Phil Ball, St. Louis owner, released Fohl seven days later "because Fohl had refused to back me up."

Ban Johnson and the great George Sisler, former Browns manager, were among those supporting Dandy Dave's claim that his hurling was perfectly legal.

"When I was right, opponents claimed my pitching was illegal, but you never heard a squawk on my bad days," said Danforth, who once fanned 54 players in 29 innings in the American association—18 in one game.

"At Louisville in 1915, after light oil had been spread to settle dust, I discovered my twister," said Danforth, "when I rubbed oil and dirt off on a trouser leg and found the smooth ball did fancy hopping.

"There's no rule against rubbing a ball with your hands. Often I did it deliberately a long time for psychological effect. That usually got Ty Cobb hopping mad—but that boy could really clout 'em."

CRIMMINS TELLS JURY HIS AUTO NOT DEATH CAR

Detroit, Mich., March 23 (AP).—Johnny Crimmins, Detroit star bowler on trial on a manslaughter charge, denied categorically from the witness stand today that his car caused the death of Vincent Ereaux, 26, last Dec. 19.

"I had no accident at the intersection of Warren and St. Jean," he told an all-woman jury in Traffic court.

Patrolman Tarsten Sundlin, one of two policemen who arrested Crimmins after his car hurdled a curb several blocks from the death scene and crashed into a mail box, testified yesterday that Crimmins had been drinking. This the bowler also denied, saying he had been ill in Chicago for several days and was still under medical care.

Four witnesses testified that they pursued the death car, and that Crimmins was its driver.

MADISON A. C.'S BOXERS TO FACE MILWAUKEEANS

Milwaukee boxers, who have split two matches with Chicago amateurs this season, will return for a third meeting in the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison st., tonight. Johnny Nelween, welterweight of the Madison club, will meet Charley Pope in a three round bout.

Another amateur boxing show this evening will be in White City, 63d st. and South Park av., under the auspices of the 6th Ward club. Six bouts between boxers representing the Catholic Youth organization will be included on the program. Abe Lee and Jimmy Sarno will clash in a welterweight event.

BOLDEN OPENS TRAINING FOR STADIUM BOUT

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Nate Bolden, 1937 Chicago intercity Golden Gloves middleweight winner, has opened training in Eddie Nichols' gymnasium on E. 50th st. for an eight round bout against Georgie Parks, Washington [D. C.] heavyweight, in Chicago Stadium next Friday.

The match will be the semi-windup to a 10 round event between Jack Lamotta, New York middleweight contender, and Sgt. Lou Woods.

Bolden topped the last card in the Stadium, a losing effort in 10 rounds against Gus Dorazio of Philadelphia on Dec. 10. Previously Bolden had defeated such boxers as Claudio Villar, Curtis Sheppard, Dan Merritt, Larry Lane, Freddy Fiducia, and Tony Musto.

Terry Gibson, Los Angeles junior welterweight, who displayed unusual skill while holding hard hitting Charley Parham to a draw on Monday, will appear in a six round supporting contest on the impending card against an opponent to be selected. Terry, formerly of Chicago, also fought a draw with Leo Rodak in Santa Barbara, Cal., last January. Draws must be a habit with him because his record also shows a deadlock fight with Severio Turiello on the Henry Armstrong-Sammy Angott program in Madison Square garden on June 11, 1943.

Altho tickets did not go on sale until early this week, the advance has reached $5,000. The show needs $20,000 to break even.

Ford of Yale Bids for Swim Titles Tonight

New Haven, Conn., March 23 (AP).—Recovering from a cold which forced him to the college infirmary early this week, Alan Ford, Yale's great spring swimmer, will compete tomorrow in three events.

His effort will be a feature of the opening of the two day National Collegiate Athletic association swimming meet here.

Ford, who last Saturday night lowered his 100 yard free style world record to 49.7 seconds, will be shooting for the 50 and 220 yard free style and 150 yard backstroke titles.

The meet, which has attracted scores of outstanding swimmers from 19 of the nation's leading colleges and universities, will open with six events tomorrow starting with the 1,500 meter test, in which Keo Nakama, Ohio State's ace from Hawaii is expected to successfully defend his title.

In addition to the 1,500 meter, 50 and 220 yard free style and 150 yard backstroke, the other titles to be decided tomorrow include the 1 meter diving and 300 yard medley relay.

Michigan and Yale, each with full squads, are expected to battle it out for the team crown.

St. Gabriel, St. Brendan Play in Leo Final Tonight

St. Gabriel, defending champion in the Leo parochial basketball tournament, advanced to the finals by defeating Our Lady of Peace, 16 to 15, yesterday on the Leo High school floor. In the other game, St. Brendan won from St. Sabina, 20 to 18.

CANADIENS BEAT LEAFS, 5-1; EVEN PLAYOFF SERIES

MONTREAL, Que., March 23 (AP).—The Montreal Canadiens, winning tonight's game, 5 to 1, tied their best of seven Stanley cup hockey series with the Toronto Maple Leafs at 1 to 1.

The Canadiens rode in tonight on five goals by Maurice Richard, who set a new league record for playoff games in his personal scoring splurge when he netted No. 5 midway in the third period.

Gets Two Quick Ones.

Richard started his individual parade with two quick ones—17 seconds apart—early in the second period. He bagged the third just before Reg Hamilton counted Toronto's only goal and got the final two in the third period.

While Richard drew the applause of the sellout crowd of 12,000 fans, hard working Elmer Lach and Toe Blake set up the plays that brought the goals. Blake drew assists on each of the five goals and Lach had four assists.

Durnan Has Good Night.

Bill Durnan, Montreal, demonstrated the net minding which earned the Vezina trophy as the National Hockey league's outstanding goalie during the regular season. Durnan let Hamilton's soft shot trickle between his legs but stopped at least a dozen hot ones later.

4 University Relays Top Off Purdue Meet

Lafayette, Ind., March 23 [Special].—Four relays scheduled in the university division will undoubtedly be among the highlights of the second annual Purdue relays here Saturday night, judging from the unusually full entry lists which will tax the capacity of the Boilermaker track.

In the four relays, two-mile, distance medley sprint medley, and one mile — even with preliminary scratches, the entries run from five to eight teams per race.

Michigan's Big Ten indoor champions, the favorites for the team title, and a potentially strong Iowa Pre-flight squad, which may surprise, have entered teams in these four relays, along with Purdue, the host team.

In the two mile relay, Michigan, relying on the home twins, Bob and Ross, along with Bob Ufer and Dick Barnard, also will be pressed by Indiana and Northwestern, completing a field of five teams. Purdue's hope of providing the Wolverines, Millrose games champions in the event, with formidable opposition, was increased today as Bill Beile, veteran half miler, turned in a fast 600 yards, indicating he is ready for competition for the first time in more than a month.

SERIES IS EVEN.

Hershey, Pa., March 23 [AP].—The Hershey Bears defeated the Cleveland Barons, 3 to 1, tonight, evening the series at one game each in the first round of the American Hockey league play-offs.

THIRD OF R.A.F. FROM CANADA, ASSERTS AUTHOR

Nation Bears Huge Share of British Load.

Canada, with a population of only 11½ million, has raised an army of more than 700,000, an air force of more than 200,000, and contributed about a third of the personnel of the royal air force, Arthur F. Cross, Canadian author and Ottawa correspondent for several daily newspapers, yesterday told the North Town Kiwanis club.

Cross outlined the steps Canada has taken to bear its share of the British empire's load in the war and asserted that after Dunkirk, when Prime Minister Churchill was bluffing the Germans by short wave radio, the Canadians were the only properly armed soldiers who stood between the Germans and England.

Dieppe a Canadian Show.

Cross cited the Dieppe raid, saying that, "If the Dieppe raid was anything, it was a Canadian show. Of the 10,000 troops taking part a mere 40 were Americans, yet American papers proclaimed that the Americans had landed on the continent. This upset Gen. Eisenhower so much that he afterwards personally requested American correspondents to send word back to their home offices that Dieppe was a Canadian and British operation. Actually there were only 40 American Rangers at Dieppe. Canada alone had 3,200 prisoners taken."

Canada today has more men overseas than she had in France in the last war, Cross said. Two divisions are in Italy and the remainder of the divisions are in England.

Churchill Was Bluffing.

"About those Canadian troops there is something you ought to know and now it can be told," he continued. "After Dunkirk, England was exhausted. All her equipment lay back in France. Churchill told the Germans that if they came the British would fight them on the beaches. He did not tell them, however, that the British would have to fight them with iron pipes, manure forks, and chunks of wood. At that time, when Churchill was bluffing the Germans by short wave, the only properly armed soldiers between the Germans and the capture of England were the Canadians."

Canada's navy also has been increased tremendously, with a force of 100,000 men and 700 ships, Cross said, and he predicted that when the war ends Canada will have the third biggest navy in the world.

Canada Scorns Lend-Lease.

"They say Canadians make the best flyers in the world, and who am I to deny it?" he continued. "I merely want to record that we have more than 200,000 men in the royal Canadian air force today. Equally significant is the fact that about one-third of all the men in the royal air force are Canadians, too."

Cross said Canada gave Britain one billion dollars in 1942 and last year raised another billion dollars for the allied nations, but that Canada was not accepting anything from anybody else.

"No lend-lease for Canada, gentlemen," he said. "We are paying cash on the line."

Cross criticized past Republican administrations in the United States and asserted that "Republicans have a bad name up our way, and we think we, as a friendly nation, deserve something better than the aloof Republicanism of the past."

The luncheon was held in the dining room of St. Mark's Lutheran church at 6045 N. Rockwell st., with Dr. Harold D. Towsley, program chairman, presiding.

PAPER SHORTAGE PERILING TEXTS, EDUCATORS TOLD

Collections of waste paper must be increased to 667,000 tons a month to relieve the paper shortage, which already has affected school and college textbooks and supplies, Emery W. Balduf, chief of the school-college unit of the war production board's salvage division, said yesterday. He spoke before the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in the Palmer House.

Balduf said effective paper salvage work already is being done by the elementary schools and some high schools. He urged the educators to use their ingenuity, organizing ability, and patriotism to extend the program.

"The paperboard containers required for military supplies can be made almost entirely from waste paper," he said, "but if we do not get enough waste paper to fabricate them, it may become necessary to draw upon our precious and greatly diminished supply of wood pulp, which ought to go into newsprint, book and magazine paper, and other cultural supplies."

NILES-BEMENT-POND.

Please send a report on the Niles-Bement-Pond company. B. F.

Answer: The company is one of the foremost manufacturers of machine tools, accessories, precision instruments, and parts. Its products are used chiefly in the aviation, automobile, railroad, and electrical industries, and in all metal working industries. Last year the company acquired the Chandler-Evans corporation, manufacturer of airplane carburetors and aircraft accessories.

Earnings of the company have shown the wide fluctuations typical of the machinery manufacturing industry. Renegotiation of prices on government contracts has restricted profits on the enormous volume of business done in the last few years. For the 1943 year net income was reported at $2,256,684, equal to $2.86 a share, after $7,300,000 provision for renegotiation refunds. This compared with 1942 net of $2,172,268, or $3.05 a share, after giving effect to renegotiation settlement.

At the end of 1943 Niles-Bement-Pond's long term debt amounted to $2,682,098, in addition to which there was a 4 million dollar regulation V loan. Capital stock consists solely or 789,350 no par shares. Dividends have been paid each year since 1936. They included $2 a share in 1943 and $1.25 in 1942.

FREE INDUSTRY AT WAR WORK'S END DEMANDED

Canada Reconverts

MONTREAL, Que., March 23 (AP).—Canada has passed the peak of its war production and a shift toward output of civilian goods is gathering momentum, the monthly business summary of the Bank of Montreal said today. The war time prices and trade board has said the "beginning of the end" of shortages is emerging, the bank reported.

New York, March 23 [Special].—Immediate freedom from war controls for those manufacturers who complete their production contracts was asked tonight by business representatives in a discussion before the national industrial conference board, a private research organization.

At the same time a department of justice official termed indefinite continuation of such curbs bad economics and a widely known New York attorney urged legislation that would permit American companies to make trade agreements essential to the maintenance of foreign markets without risking anti-trust prosecution at home.

"Remove Burocratic Controls."

Fred Lazarus Jr., chairman of the American Retail federation, said:

"If our servants, in government, will lay aside their schemes for a controled economy with a burocrat sitting in on every move; if they will work to relax controls rather than perpetuate them, there is nothing in this wide world, either debt or the enemy, that we need fear.

"Neither WPB, nor any other war agency, should yield to pressure from the governmental planners who would like to set our feet in the path of a totally controled economy."

Lazarus contended the way to reach a high employment level "is to turn every available plant and workman to the job of producing goods for civilians the minute their war work has been completed."

Warns of Plant Surplus.

Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, economic adviser to Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, said industry, unless controled, might set up more plants than could be used, and argued:

"The alternative is some form of planning, some adding up of what is proposed to be done in each industry, some matching up of proposed capacity with potential demand—even at minimum prices—and some assigning or pro-rating of proposed capacity."

Hugh B. Cox, assistant solicitor general, said indefinite extension of war controls would probably be suggested to the government. Any one offering such a plan would be guilty of bad economics, he asserted.

"Since 1938 the Supreme court has been narrowing its interpretation of the patent laws and stretching its interpretation of what the anti-trust laws forbid," Gilbert H. Montague said.

Explains Recent Suits.

"As a result, there is legal doubt about limitations and conditions in patent agreements which before 1938 rested securely on court decisions. This explains most of the justice department's recent suits regarding international trade agreements."

Montague said that in competition for foreign market. American nationals frequently were required to restrict their share of the market or otherwise limit their competition. The alternative was action by the foreign government that would oust them from a business activity built thru their own initiative.

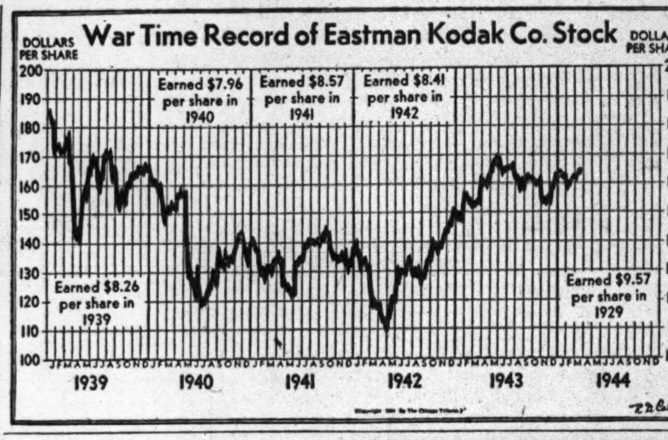
"Not as a complaint against our Supreme court and anti-trust laws," said Montague, "but as a plain statement of fact, it is axiomatic that Americans doing business abroad must frequently condition themselves to customs and pressures of foreign governments and foreign competition, compelling arrangements which if made and operative within the United States might be contrary to recent decisions of our Supreme court and other federal courts."

Urges New Legislation.

Prosecution of business men operating under these circumstances would bar them from foreign markets, Montague said. He urged the state and justice departments to collaborate in framing legislation to meet the situation.

A resolution adopted by the committee on post-war planning of the Commerce and Industry Association of New York said that the justice department "is fanatically striving to coerce Great Britain, Russia, China, and the rest of the world to adopt the competitive system of the United States."

The association urged revival of the Webb export trade act of 1918. This measure was sponsored by President Wilson and intended to adjust conditions so that business might be operated legally abroad without risking the penalty of undue prosecution at home.



Ickes Assailed for Big Seattle Utility Offer

Portland, Ore., March 23 [Special].—Paul B. McKee, president of the Pacific Power and Light company, today assailed Secretary of Interior Ickes and Paul J. Raver, Bonneville power administrator, for assuming to speak for congress in offering the Puget Sound and Light company, Seattle, 90 million dollars for its electrical properties.

Raver submitted the proposition this week, assertedly on behalf of congress, the city of Seattle and several public utility districts of the state of Washington. He said the federal government would acquire the generating and transmission systems, with the cities and districts involved taking over the distribution lines.

"Takes Much for Granted."

"Raver's boss, Mr. Ickes, takes a lot for granted when he presumes to authorize any one 'to negotiate on behalf of the federal government' for property the congress has not yet seen fit to allow him to acquire," McKee said.

"Raver's 'offer' is just another propaganda effort on the part of the power socialists who want all electric service in the Pacific northwest to be controled by a burocratic monopoly.

"These ambitious burocrats figure that if they make enough conversation about buying this or that power system they may eventually get people to accept the idea as an accomplished fact.

Way to Get 90 Million.

"What Raver's offer really amounts to is the suggestion that he will try to get congress, the city of Seattle, a now unborn 'interim corporation,' and 16 utility districts to put up the 90 million dollars.

"I'd hate to be the fellow who asked congress to pile up more unnecessary national debt at this time to take a business managed property off the tax rolls, particularly in view of the fact that this would not create one new kilowatt of power for the war effort."

AGREE TO FORM GROUP TO STUDY RAIL JOB CRISIS

A committee will be formed to study the shortage of railroad workers in the Chicago area and to confer with Lester Brown, Chicago area director of the war man power commission, on ways to relieve the situation, railroad, union, and government executives, meeting with William H. Spencer, regional WMC director, decided yesterday.

Railroad spokesmen urged the problem be treated from a national point of view, but Spencer was opposed to this, arguing the railroads must share the available supply of workers with war plants and essential civilian services in the district.

The committee will have to decide what percentage of workers sought by the railroads will work in the Chicago area and what percenage will be permitted to work at other points.

Meanwhile, the Southern Pacific railroad requested it be permitted to carry on a midwestern recruiting campaign for workers to relieve a shortage in the far west.

BROR DAHLBERG TO RETAIN POST IN CERTAIN-TEED

Stockholders of Certain-teed Products corporation were told yesterday that Bror Dahlberg had been retained as chairman without contract on a salary of $25,000 a year plus 2 per cent of the net profits. Sloane-Blabon corporation, a subsidiary building materials manufacturer, will pay Dahlberg $15,000 a year plus 2 per cent of the profits.

The letter was signed by H. J. Dowd, president of Certain-teed, and was issued to refute charges by Rawson G. Lizars that Dahlberg's salary was much higher than warranted by profits. A record of increasing corporation earnings was presented as evidence of Dahlberg's value to the corporation.

TREASURY WILL SEEK BIDS ON FIRST LOT OF USED ARMY TRUCKS

Chicago area truck dealers will be invited to enter competitive bids for the first lot of used army trucks available during the war, E. I. King, Chicago director of the treasury department procurement division, reported yesterday. The trucks, at military establishments in six midwest states, are part of 10,000 surplus vehicles to be sold thruout the country.

No jeeps are included. The trucks, 1939 or earlier models, were reported in serviceable condition but not up to military standards. Various types are included in one to seven ton capacity.

Descriptive lists are avaiable at treasury procurement offices. Dealers' bids may not exceed OPA ceiling prices, King said. The treasury also announced that 4,600 surplus motorcycles will be offered in New York.

Lawyer Gets Loop Building Thru Tax Sale

BY AL CHASE.

Purchase of the 22 story Midland building, 168 W. Adams st., by Alexander Spare, an attorney, for $150,000 in cash at a tax foreclosure sale last April has been confirmed by the Illinois Supreme court, Spare said yesterday.

The land and building, which has a 108 room hotel on the first six floors, and offices above, were valued by the county assessor at $1,700,281. The county foreclosed on the property last April to satisfy back taxes and penalties of $1,058,000 and bid it in at the full amount of the delinquent payments.

Court Supports High Bid.

Judge William V. Brothers of Circuit court held last July that the county had not complied with the court order, which specified that the sale should be "for cash to the highest and best bidder," and that an actual bid of $150,000 by Spare was the only valid offer and must be accepted.

At the time Judge Brothers said informally that it was doubtful that the county had any right to "go into the real estate business" even if it appropriated cash to make purchases, and that bids entered by the county might stifle competition by private bidders.

County Loses Appeal.

The county appealed from the Circuit court decision and the Supreme court has dismissed the county's appeal, thus making Spare the owner. It is understood Spare represents other interests, presumably the Midland Building corporation, the original owner, and is not the actual buyer.

He said bondholders will benefit thru the settlement of the tax bill, which was wiped out by the foreclosure sale. Under state law the owner of a property foreclosed and sold for taxes has two years to redeem it by paying the amount bid plus 5 per cent interest. The expiration date is in April, 1945.

HOGS ADVANCE; CONGESTION IN YARDS IS ENDED

Hog prices were higher yesterday in the Chicago stock yards when the congestion ended as abruptly as it developed earlier in the week. All stock offered was sold. Most of the large packers bought mainly at 10 cents a hundred pounds higher prices, paying 15 to 20 cents more for some of the heaviest butchers. The average rose 10 cents to $13.95.

Lambs were steady to strong, with some sales 5 to 10 cents higher. Cattle prices changed little.

WFA Orders Corn Held for Processors

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—The war food administration issued an order tonight requiring country grain elevators in 124 counties in five midwestern corn belt states to set aside 35 per cent of present stocks of yellow and mixed corn and the same per cent of future receipts for use of processors making essential war products. The order, effective at midnight tonight, also requires terminal elevators within the same territory to offer 35 per cent of present stocks and a like quantity of future receipts coming from sources other than country elevators.

GRAIN PRICES STRONG

An increasing shortage of feed grains in this country, which was expected to be intensified by a Canadian government decision to increase the export tax on shipments of oats to the United States, turned grain futures prices upward yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat closed unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel higher. Oats finished unchanged to ⅞ cent higher. Barley gained ¾ to 1⅜ cents, and rye was ¾ to 1 cent higher.

The new Canadian export tax on oats ranges from 43 to 46 [Canadian] cents a bushel, and brokers reported the price at Fort William, Ont., 85 [United States] cents a bushel, so high that it would be unprofitable to import the grain, which can be sold in this country only at office of price administration ceilings.

View on Imports.

Prospects for importing corn and oats from Argentina were believed improved by the Canadian action. Argentine oats were quoted at 30½ [United States] cents, barley 45 cents, and rye 50 cents a bushel. A minimum price of 39¼ cents is paid Argentine farmers for corn.

Announcement that congress had passed a bill establishing a 90 day period during which wheat, corn, barley, and other grains can be imported for feed duty free failed to have any effect as a price making influence.

1944 PULPWOOD USE AT PRE-WAR RATE, SAYS OWI

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—The OWI today reported the total consumption of pulpwood since the war began has been at a rate approximately the same as before the war and much lower than in 1942, despite WPB's repeated emphasis on extraordinary war time consumption of pulpwood products as a chief cause of a growing shortage.

The OWI report said the shortage of newsprint, paperboard, and other types of paper was becoming increasingly critical.

Total national consumption during the first quarter of 1944 was estimated at 4,046,000 tons—an annual rate of 16,184,000 tons, against 15,171,000 tons used in 1943, 16,847,000 tons in 1942, and 16,178,000 tons in 1941. Newspaper consumption was estimated at 15.4 per cent of the national total. Total civilian use was estimated at 27.9 per cent; army, navy, and lend-lease at 38.6 per cent, and the remaining 33.5 per cent going largely for war use.

BELDEN INCOME TO DIP IN 1944, ASSERTS JACOBS

Whipple Jacobs, president of the Belden Manufacturing company, yesterday predicted reduced profits for the company in 1944, chiefly because production costs have risen while sales prices remain frozen at the level of two and one-half years ago, the same factors that cut earnings in 1943.

Improved equipment and engineering processes can only partially offset unbalanced sales price schedules, he said at the annual stockholders' meeting in the Palmer House.

Heavy Building Orders Increase to 32.9 Million

New York, March 23 (AP).—Engineering construction awards in the week ended today amounted to $32,909,000 compared with $29,415,000 in the preceding week and $74,130,000 a year ago, Engineering News-Record reported today.

FEDERAL POLICY HELD UPSET TO OIL INDUSTRY

Need of Price Hike Is Emphasized.

"Growing concern" over government oil policy at home and abroad has upset the petroleum industry, W. Alton Jones, president of the Cities Service company, told stockholders yesterday in his annual report.

There was no reference in the report to the controversial Arabian pipe line proposed by Secretary of the Interior Ickes, but on the subject of government refusal to raise oil price ceilings, Jones declared:

"Reasonably higher prices for crude oil would stimulate a more intensive search for additional oil and increase the number of new fields discovered, resulting in a supply sufficient for a term much longer than now estimated."

Net Income Increased.

The corporation last year earned $17,538,931 after all charges, equal to $3.78 a share on common stock, compared with 1942 net income of $16,113,670, or $3.40 a share. The 1942 earnings were adjusted to reflect the sale of subsidiary properties and the 1943 earnings were computed after a 2 million dollar provision for post-war adjustments.

The corporation spent more than 78 million dollars for construction and acquisitions during 1943, lifting the 10 year total above 285 millions, Jones said. He told of its contribution to war time oil refining and transportation, and participation in the synthetic rubber program and added:

"The corporation will be able, without delaying or discounting the main objective of an earlier victory, to utilize its war facilities to make a similar contribution to an expanding economy when peace comes."

Financial Position Jeopardized.

The financial position of the steel industry is jeopardized by inadequate government price ceilings, T. M. Girdler, chairman, and R. J. Wysor, president of the Republic Steel corporation, told stockholders in the annual report.

"Certain of the corporation's products are being sold at ceiling prices which do not cover works manufacturing costs," they said. "Unless the unreasonable demands for higher wages are controled, additional price increases will be necessary for the steel industry to continue on a sound operating basis."

Republic's federal tax bill absorbed a larger proportion of net earnings than was the case for the industry generally, with net income reduced to 2.17 per cent on the corporation's sales volume, the report said.

The corporation, which has important operations in the Chicago area, reported 1943 net earnings of $12,011,057, equal to $1.77 a share, unchanged from the preliminary figure. The 1942 earnings were $17,154,578, or $2.67 a share. As a result, federal taxes on income fell to $39,300,000, from $67,875,000.

WLB Will Cling to Little Steel Formula, Chief Tells Senators

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—The war labor board intends to adhere to the Little Steel formula unless the members become convinced it causes "gross inequities and injustice," the board chairman told congress today.

However, the WLB chief, William H. Davis, told the senate banking committee that this measuring rod for allowable wage increases would have to be discarded if congress abolishes consumer food subsidies because present wage scales would then become untenable.

Scan Price Act Extension.

The committee is considering extension of the price and wage stabilization act, due to expire June 30. Foes of subsidies have talked of writing a ban on them into the measure.

The Little Steel formula is under attack by labor unions. Originated by the board, it has been incorporated into an executive order by President Roosevelt and the board has no authority to change it. The board could, however, recommend a change, and Davis told the committee that if he becomes convinced the formula causes injustices to workers, "I'm going to say so."

Davis appeared before the committee in behalf of the administration's position that the stabilization act should be continued without any change in provisions dealing with wages. He said any attempt to limit the "take home" earnings of workers, an idea which has been discussed, might prove "disastrous to the war effort."

Tells Wage Limit's Danger.

He said it would amount to "imposing maximum hours of work, precluding promotions and upgradings, restricting productivity under incentive systems, and preventing the shift of workers into industries."

Wage controls now apply only to hourly or basic rates of pay, and Davis acknowledged that most workers are taking home fatter pay envelopes because of overtime pay. The WLB stabilization program has kept basic hourly wage rates substantially unchanged since October, 1942, he said.

Stock Market Slips on Late Wave of Sales

New York, March 23 (AP).—Substantial selling developed in the final hour on the stock market today after selected rails, liquors, aircrafts, and specialties had pushed ahead, many to peaks for the year or longer.

Trends were upward at the start. However, profit taking began on the belief the recent climb to high marks for one to seven years entitled the list to a sizable technical correction. Earnings reports and political optimism restricted losses in most cases. Scattered favorites, while closing well under their highs, managed to hold small advances.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was off 0.4 at 52.5, the widest loss since Feb. 7. The market was broad, 932 issues appearing. Dealings, light most of the day, expanded at the last and turnover totalled 1,173,510 shares.

BOND MARKET IRREGULAR.

New York, March 23 (AP).—The bond market closed uneven today. Rails, the most active group, had both firm and soft spots as operators bought issues that had not participated in recent activities and cashed profits in others.

Sales totaled $10,858,300 against $13,922,500 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 20 rails lost 0.1, the 10 industrials advanced a like amount and the utilities, low yields and foreign issues were unchanged.

CHICAGO LIST SLIPS.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday turned downward and sales fell to 30,000 shares. Volume leaders dipped fractionally. Chicago corporation, closed down ¼, and Commonwealth Edison, Radio corporation, and Middle West corporation, all down ⅛. At new 1944 peaks were Indianapolis Power and Light, up ¼; Northwest Bancorporation, up ¾; Signode Steel Strapping, up ¼, and Sinclair Oil, up ⅛.

FIFTH WAR LOAN GOAL LIFTED TO 16 BILLIONS; DETAILS NEXT WEEK

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—A 16 billion dollar goal has been fixed for the fifth war loan, Secretary Morgenthau disclosed today, "because we need it for the war and because we've been assured that we can get it."

He told a news conference he wished to correct "an unauthorized impression" that the goal would be 14 billions, same as the fourth war loan which brought in nearly 17 billions.

Morgenthau said announcement as to the date and type of securities would be made next week.

U. S. WILL TAKE 10 PCT. OF APRIL BUTTER OUTPUT

Washington, D. C., March 23 (AP).—Manufacturers will be required to set aside 10 per cent of their output of butter during April for government war requirements, the war food administration announced today. The government has bought no butter during the last two months, but has been using supplies accumulated under a set-aside program in effect last year.

Butter to be obtained under the new set-aside order is expected to total 13 million pounds. It will be bought by military and other services such as the veterans administration and the war shipping administration.

After April, manufacturers will be required to set aside larger percentages to meet military, lend-lease, and other government requirements.

Consolidated Cigar Files 40,000 Shares Preferred

Consolidated Cigar corporation yesterday filed a registration statement with the securities and exchange commission covering 40,000 shares of no par cumulative preferred stock and naming Eastman, Dillon & Co., as the principal underwriter.

BUTLER SALES 4 PCT. BELOW YEAR AGO LEVEL

Officials Tell War Time Problems.

T. B. Freeman.

Butler Brothers' sales so far this year have been below a year ago, T. B. Freeman, president, told stockholders yesterday at the annual meeting. In the first two months volume decreased 5.78 per cent in the wholesale division and rose 8.57 per cent in the retail division—a total decrease of 4.21 per cent. The March sales trend has changed little, he said.

Freeman said distribution costs must be lowered after the war.

Urges Large Turnover.

"Manufacturers, distributors, and retailers must work together more closely than ever before to deliver the greatest amount of goods and at the lowest cost to the greatest number of customers," he asserted.

Freeman said the company would follow .. merchandising policy until the end of the European war on an even more conservative basis than required by shortages so as to avoid abnormal merchandise losses.

John A. Donaldson, vice president and treasurer, said taxes are almost beyond the control of management. Butler Brothers has a tax division which last year filed more than 800 different tax returns with more than 400 taxing bodies thruout the nation.

Tax Total Is 4.2 Millions.

The company's 1943 taxes totaled $4,210,000, leaving $1,646,539 net profit, he said. For every dollar the company earned on its common stock it paid $3.40 in taxes. He said that altho under the 1943 tax laws the company paid 81 cents of every dollar in excess of 2½ millions, under the 1944 law it will pay 86 cents out of every dollar.

"More and more business is being called upon by government to collect taxes from customers and employes," Donaldson asserted.

C. D. Southard, in charge of the company's retail store operations, said 2,175 stores have been signed up under a new franchise agreement and that plans are being developed for the expansion of the total after the war.

Buys No More Substitutes.

Harold Schroeder, assistant director of merchandising, said the company last fall closed its books on inferior substitutes and so-called "patriotic" merchandise. The demand from the public for such merchandise has been tapering off, he said.

All directors were reëlected and the regular quarterly dividend of 37½ cents a share on the preferred stock was declared along with a dividend of 15 cents a share on the common.

SHERIFF OPENS WAR ON COUNTY GANGSTER RULE

Will Run Crooks Ragged, Mulcahy Pledges.

Sheriff Michael L. Mulcahy yesterday announced he was putting all the force of his office against gangsters, hoodlums, gamblers or others who heretofore have operated rackets in the country towns district of Cook county. He said he was announcing a policy, and it is a no-change policy—the sway of the gangsters in the suburbs is over.

The announcement and the pledge was given at a luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Chicago Crime commission at which Sheriff Mulcahy was a guest. He said he had been in office, by appointment, since last Dec. 22, and was ready to announce his intentions, and the reasons therefor. He has no intention of trying to do police work in the city of Chicago.

The sheriff declared that he was coöperating with State's Atty. Courtney and with all the law enforcing agencies. He added that he believed this coöperation would effect a substantial reduction of crime. Then he came to the point.

Shoving "Them" Around.

"One thing—perhaps the most important—which encourages, promotes, and in some instances, actually aids crime, is the gang gambling joint," Mulcahy asserted. "That, I think, is the view of your organization, and it is the opinion of others in whom I have confidence.

"Since I have been sheriff, we have been after them; shoving them around; causing some to move and others to close, and we still are chasing them.

"Maybe they can't be cleaned out completely, but I am young enough to believe they can. Even with the small police force at my command, I feel sure we can make the country towns very much cleaner, if I continue to receive the coöperation already promised.

No Personal Liberty Curb.

"I have no intention of curbing personal liberty or interfering with reasonable social activities, such as friendly games in private homes. I think we can run the lecherous syndicated gangs ragged. I firmly believe we will get large and profitable results for decent living."

Mulcahy was office of price administration director in this area at the time he was appointed sheriff by the county board to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Sheriff Peter B. Carey. Prior to his government service Mulcahy at various times was alderman, president of the board of local improvements, assistant corporation counsel and assistant attorney general.

SURVEY LAWS IN ABSENTEE'S DIVORCE ACTION

Special study of the law was ordered yesterday by Judge Robert J. Dunne in Circuit court, to determine whether a divorce can be granted without the presence of the plaintiff and without the support of a deposition from the plaintiff.

This was another step in the growing agitation to relieve soldiers overseas from cheating or otherwise disloyal wives. Previous steps, however, concern the right of a soldier to submit evidence by deposition. The case before Judge Dunne would not require that. Both Superior and Circuit court rules require the presence of the plaintiff, thus barring an overseas fighter from marital relief.

The case before Judge Dunne is that of Sgt. James Patejdl, 27, now overseas, who is suing his wife, Ann, 26, of Tampa, Fla. She has been enjoined from accepting his army allotments. Patejdl's lawyer, Victor Frohlich, argued the court rules requiring the presence of a plaintiff are unconstitutional in that, because of the fortunes of war, they prevent an overseas soldier's wrongs from being righted. Judge Dunne said the problem was important, and appointed Atty. Edward Tiedelbohl as friend of the court to look into the law. He will report back April 5.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Marilyn Wollenberg, 2317 S. Western av.]

THE QUESTION.

WHERE ASKED.

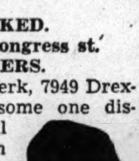
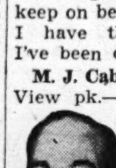
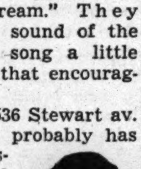
THE ANSWERS.



Shirley Peterson, clerk, 7949 Drexel av.—As soon as some one discovers me I'll be all set for a career as an actress or a radio performer. I have friends who have jobs on the radio, but I lack their encouragement. I'll keep on believing that I have talent until I've been convinced that I haven't.

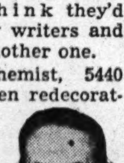


M. J. Cabot, shoe dealer, 5444 East View pk.—I'm afraid I'm just another bathtub baritone. The people who love me the most don't even seem to appreciate my early morning renditions of "Down by the Old Mill Stream." They say the sound of the shower deadens the song a little and I don't consider that encouraging.



Jeanette Slager, 11536 Stewart av.—One of my talents probably has been the cause for losing some pretty good friends. I think I have quite a knack of drawing faces and everytime I make a portrait for a friend he feels insulted when I tell him that's how he looks to me.

Ruth Anderson, clerk, 1700 Winnemac av.—The public in general has never had an opportunity to appreciate my ability to write. It's all I can do to get my sister to read my short stories, and she never seems to enjoy them. She says most people think they'd make good short story writers and she's afraid I'm just another one.



M. H. Daskais, chemist, 5440 Ridgewood ct.—I've been redecorating our home. My wife keeps referring to the job as back breaking work. She never seems to imply that it takes more than just hard work. To do a good job takes real talent, and I'd like to have credit where credit is due.

Clara Steinborn, typist, 175th st., Tinley Park—Whenever I play the piano at home someone decides they'd rather hear the radio. For a while I thought I was clever to hear the songs once or twice and then be able to work out my own rendition by ear, but it's no fun being the only one who thinks I'm good.

CRIPPLES SERVE BEST IN SOME JOBS, CLUB TOLD

Soldiers or other people who have suffered serious physical handicaps, such as blindness or the loss of limbs, often can fill certain kinds of jobs better than a normal worker, Edgar T. Stephens, head of the Illinois Association for the Crippled, said yesterday in an address before the Kiwanis club in the Hotel Sherman.

As examples Stephens told of a man with two artificial arms who is able to work inside a bakery oven removing pies, a job in which all the previous workers had been injured, and a totally blind man who sorts glass for color by the difference in heat conducted by the various colors.

The association has placed more than 1,800 handicapped persons in special jobs for which they were especially fitted, Stephens said. He outlined other work of the organization and asked that the public support the stamp sale, which is now in progress, for this is the only means of support of the association.

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social service of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

Mrs. P. B. writes: "I have just learned that my son was promoted to the rank of sergeant two weeks ago. Will you please let me know if I am still eligible for the family allowance? I am a class 'B' dependent."

ANSWER: Yes. Due to recent changes in the law, all noncommissioned officers, with the exception of warrant officers, are now eligible for the family allowance.

G. T. writes: "Can you tell me if there is any place where the wife of a service man can obtain care for a small child without charge? I expect to be confined soon and have no one to provide for my small daughter during my hospitalization. Since I have only the family allowance, I do not see how I could pay any one to care for her."

ANSWER: I would suggest that you contact the American Red Cross. That agency should be able to advise or assist you.

Mrs. W. writes: "My husband and I have not been living together, but there has been no legal separation. He now resides with his mother but has been paying me $7 a week for our six year old child. He was recently reclassified, and if he is accepted for service, I would like to know whether I could receive the full allowance or if he can continue to give me only what he wishes, as he has done in the past."

ANSWER: If you are still legally married, it would be mandatory for your husband to provide a full allowance for you and your child. I am forwarding a bulletin which contains full information on the allowance and the amounts payable to various dependents.

Miss C. writes: "I have a brother who is overseas in China. He finds it very difficult to buy many articles over there, and I have been having difficulty at our postoffice in sending packages. I know you are to have a written request from the soldier, but our postmisterss says it must be approved and signed by an officer. I thought that if you had a request you could make up a package, just so it did not exceed the weight and size limitations. If you have any literature on this, I would like to have it, because he has been paying very high prices for necessities. Among other things he asked for writing paper because he has been paying a dollar for four sheets of poor grade typing paper. I am anxious to send him some as soon as possible."

ANSWER: I believe that your postmistress has been misinformed. In the past it was necessary to have the written appoval of a commanding officer in order to send a package to a soldier, but that is no longer required. You must have a written request from your brother, but it need not be approved. I am forwarding a bulletin on postal regulations which provides complete information.

8 CAPTAINS GET STARS BACK BY COURT MANDATE

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Police Commissioner Allman was served last night with writs of mandamus ordering him to restore to duty immediately eight captains he suspended last fall during a grand jury investigation of gambling. The writs were issued by Judge John C. Lewe of the Superior court, who ruled Allman violated the civil service law by keeping the captains under suspension more than 30 days.

Judge John C. Lewe.

Allman, who was known to be opposed to permitting the captains to return to their old jobs, said he didn't know whether the captains would return to their old commands.

"I'll confer with the corporation counsel's office," he said.

Attorneys Serve Mandates.

Atty. Michael F. Ryan, who had led the legal fight for reinstatements, served Allman with Judge Lewe's mandate in behalf of Captains Walter F. Healy and John T. Cartan. Then, one by one, other lawyers filed in and served Allman with similar orders affecting Captains Thomas Harrison, Thomas Connelly, Eugene Barry, Patrick J. Crotty, and Louis Klatzco, as well as Acting Capt. William J. Drury.

Mayor Kelly was silent on the decision. One matter the mayor settled—there will be no appeal.

Ryan said he would not stand for the captains being kept inactive. He warned that under the court's order they must be given command of police districts.

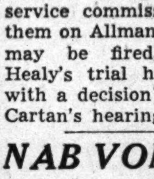
Claim Back Pay Today.

Today, Ryan said, the lawyers will see to it that the captains are put back on the pay roll and get back pay for the time they have been off. Today, too, they are to get back their stars, Ryan said. Then they will present themselves to Allman as ready for duty.

Ryan said the decision will have no effect on the civil service trials. It means, he said, that the men will be back working and on the pay roll while awaiting trial. If the civil service commission should convict them on Allman's charges, they still may be fired, Ryan explained. Healy's trial has been completed, with a decision still awaited, while Cartan's hearing is under way.

NAB VOMBRACK AS SUSPECT IN LOOP BOOZE RING

Theodore N. Vombrack, sought by police since a raid March 16 on his offices at 10 S. La Salle st., said to be the headquarters of a nationwide black liquor mart, was seized yesterday on a warrant charging accessory before the fact to receiving stolen property. Vombrack, who refused to make a statement on advice of his attorney, was finger printed and released on bonds of $10,000 when a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed. He will be arraigned in Felony court today.



Theodore N. Vombrack.

Capt. Thomas Alcock of the Fillmore police arrested Vombrack at Washington blvd. and Pulaski road shortly after an anonymous informant telephoned he could be found there. Vombrack gave his age as 44, and said he lived at 1741 Adams st. He declined to say where he had been for the last week while police and federal agents conducted their search other than to say he had not left town.

Vombrack ignored attempts by police to question him regarding the operations of the Americaway Industries, which he headed and which is being investigated by the FBI and agents of the federal alcohol tax unit.

The black market gang dealings came to light last week when James Healy of Rockford was shot in a holdup attempt shortly after he had purchased 51 cases of whisky thru connections arranged allegedly by Vombrack. Healy told police the robber was the man from whom he had just bought the whisky. Irate at being double crossed, Healy related names and places.

AVERS SCIENCE WILL BRING NEW ERA AFTER WAR

Scientific achievements accelerated by the war will bring about revolutionary changes with a suddenness that will be almost unbelievable when the war is over, Walter J. Murphy, editor of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, told the Chicago section of the American Chemical society last night in the Medinah club.

"After the war we will be in command of a productive capacity many times greater than that which we possessed a few years ago," Murphy said. "We must never return to the philosophy of scarcity as the remedial agency for our economic ills.

"Scientists all over the world are releasing new products, new materials, new processes that can and must bring a new order of life to all. Without this ability to supply the temporal needs of mankind the four freedoms of the Atlantic charter will be only a futile gesture. Only when these needs are satisfied will the predatory instincts in man be stilled."

Pharmacist Who Posed as Gunner Gets 60 Days

Eugene S. Boxer, 25, of New York City, was sentenced yesterday to 60 days in the county jail by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan on a charge of illegally wearing the uniform of a navy gunner's mate. Boxer, a pharmacist, was arrested by officers of the navy shore patrol Jan. 31 in a service men's center.

HERZL CLASSES NEARER HOMES WILL BE SOUGHT

Johnson Pledges Aid on Transfer.

Supt. of Schools Johnson yesterday promised a student committee from Herzl Junior college, 3711 Douglas blvd., that he would ask the school architect in a conference this morning whether arrangements can be made to house Herzl's 544 students in a west side high school so they will not have to travel to classes in Wilson Junior college, 6800 Stewart av.

The students were protesting the notification given Tuesday that classes would move to Wilson next Monday because the navy is taking possession of the Herzl building April 1 for a pre-radio training course like those already housed in the Wright Junior college on the northwest side and Manley High school, not far from Herzl.

Wright to Get Some.

Johnson told the committee that students may change to Wright, now housed in Schurz High school, to the extent that Wright can accommodate them. Others will have to go to Wilson temporarily.

With the students were Arthur X. Elrod, 24th ward Democratic committeeman, and Henry Sonnenschein, 22d ward committeeman and clerk of the Superior court.

The students were headed by Milton Potovsky, 18, of 3626 Grenshaw st., who is blind. Another in the group of 10 was Elmer Schechtman, chairman of the protest organization committee.

None of the students expressed pleasure at the superintendent's offer, but Elrod and Sonnenschein said it appeared Johnson was doing the best he could.

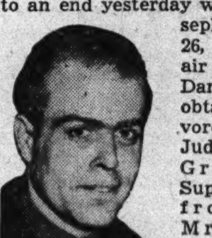
Alternatives Suggested.

Johnson said afterward that he and President James B. McCahey of the board agreed on use of Wilson Junior college in order to maintain proper educational standards. He would not say which west side high school might be used instead, but Elrod suggested it might be Farragut, Harrison, Crane, or Austin.

Priorities might prevent using a west side high school, and in any event, Johnson said, the cost of remodeling will have to be approved by the board of education.

CORPORAL GRANTED DIVORCE WHEN WIFE STAYS ON IN ITALY

An international marriage came to an end yesterday when Corp. Joseph De Martino, 26, of the army air forces at Daniel field, Ga., obtained a divorce before Judge Joseph A. Graber of the Superior court, from his wife, Mrs. Marianne De Martino, 29, because, preferring Europe to America, she refused to accompany him home.



Corp. Joseph De Martino.

Corp. De Martino was born in the United States, but in 1929 as a boy was taken to Italy by his father, an aviation engineer. He was educated at Milan and Lausanne universities. In July, 1939, he married Marianne Helfer, a woman of independent means.

In December, following the outbreak of war, their funds were frozen by the Italian government in a general order affecting alien holdings. De Martino elected to return home. His wife chose to stay. The divorce was granted on the ground of desertion. His lawyer was J. L. Kabaker.

OFFICE WORKER PAY HEARINGS TO BE HELD BY WLB

The wage rate committee of the regional war labor board will hold two hearings about April 15 on pay rates for office workers, one in Chicago and the other in St. Paul for the Twin Cities area, Edgar L. Warren, WLB chairman, said yesterday.

The hearings will be held here at the request of the United Office and Professional Workers, CIO, and the Office Employes' union, local 20732, AFL, who protested the rates set two months ago as too low. About 500 labor and industry representatives are expected to attend the hearings. The minimum base pay in the WLB's current brackets for office workers is $20 a week.

The St. Paul hearing was set at the request of the St. Paul Employers' association, which said rates there were too high.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Gail Compton

March 23, 1944.

EARLY risers at the farm had a real treat this week. During the night a glistening white frost settled over the ground, buildings, trees, and shrubs. In the morning the sun caused most of the frost to disappear, but in odd corners and behind trees where the sun did not reach the frost remained to present a beautiful pattern of green and white.

On the west side of the farm another beautiful color was added to the pattern by the deep red of the Shorthorn herd. The herd is a favorite with the herdsman as it is growing rapidly from excellent foundation stock.

Royal Titles in Herd.

Some of the finest Shorthorn names are represented in the herd, including Maxwalton, Browndale, and Bridegroom. These are royal titles in the Shorthorn world.

There are 30 head of Shorthorns on the farm now, including one steer in the feedlot. Ten of them are youngsters around 6 months old. With them are four yearlings which show great promise. There are two bulls to boss the drove. Two of the cows are to calve in April, and one other should present an addition to the herd before summer sets in.

The job of feeding a beef breeding herd is comparatively simple. As the cows must have plenty of exercise and not become too fat they get only hay and silage.

Bonus for Good Behavior.

Cows that are nursing are given corn and oats with a little concentrate to help them produce plenty of milk for their offspring. To carry a breeding cow thru the year requires two tons of silage and one ton of good hay. The corn, oats, and supplement are a bonus for good behavior.

The Shorthorns have an excellent three sided shelter for their home. Inside the big barn is a fenced off creep for the young calves. They can slip thru the fence to help themselves to a grain mixture while the cows are forced to remain outside and be content with their hay and silage.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

Calabrese broccoli matures in 85 days. The seed can be planted in the open row in April, or plants can be bought from greenhouse men in late April or early May. Plants should stand two feet apart in the row. They produce a terminal head of sprouts, and after this is harvested numerous small lateral sprouts can be gathered. Broccoli is a member of the cabbage family and therefore must be sprayed regularly against cabbage worms.

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

A fast moving deadly mass of molten lava a quarter of a mile wide gradually engulfs the little Italian town of San Sebastiano as Mount Vesuvius has its worst eruption in 70 years. The town was nearly obliterated.
